GOP Head Confident About '56

Sure Party Can Win Congress

Washington, Sept. 7 (AP)—National Chairman Leonard W. Hall predicted today a "landslide victory" for the Republicans in 1956. But Senate and House campaign committee heads said it will not be easy for the GOP to win control of Congress.

Hall said in a talk prepared for the opening session of a campaign school for Republican state chairmen that if the GOP can get its machinery operating effectively at the precinct level "we can look forward to a victory of landslide proportions in 1956, not only for the presidency but in recapturing control of both Houses."

Sen. Goldwater (R-Ariz.) and Rep. Richard M. Simpson (R-Pa.), chairmen of the party's Senate and House campaign committees, agreed in other prepared talks that control of Congress can be won but said it will require hard work.

"TODAY OUR Republican party has great assets," Hall said. "We have the magnificent and dedicated leadership of President Eisenhower and the rest of the team which has made good government the rule rather than the exception in America for the past three years."

He spoke also of "the greatest prosperity this nation has ever known," and said it has been achieved "while the country has been at peace."

While Hall said nothing about the possibility that President Eisenhower will run again, many of the state chairman made it clear they feel the President's presence on the 1956 ticket is essential to victory.

In a morning television broadcast (NBC—"Today") Hall told interviewers he was "planning the campaign and organizing on the basis that he (Eisenhower) will run," asked if he thought the GOP could win with any other candidate, Hall replied:

"LETS JUST .SAY, we're going to win with Eisenhower."

The chairmen will fly to Denver, Colo., at the close of their classes Friday for a Saturday morning breakfast discussion with Eisenhower of campaign plans.

Some of the GOP leaders said they think the Presidential invitation implies that Eisenhower intends to seek another term. But Ray Bliss, Ohio chairman, said he doesn't believe he and his colleagues will know much more about the President's plans after the meeting than they do now.

As far as the battle for control of the Senate is concerned, Goldwater said, "we start out... with the cards stacked in our disadvantage." He said this was true because 8 of the 15 Democratic seats at stake next year are in the south while the Republicans can count as "sure" only a "very few" of their seats to be contested.

Goldwater said, however, that "Republican prospects have definitely improved since the 1954

STUDYING FLOOD AREAS — Kingston will be considered for both damage relief from the August flash flood and for control measures to prevent recurrences, according to Mayor Frederick H. Stang (right) joined by a survey party of (l-r) Ernest A. Steuding, superintendent of the department of public works; Arthur F. Hallinan, city engineer; Col. Charles Noble and Capt. Claude Roberts, Army Engineers Corps. This scene is at Twaalfskill brook in the Wilbur section of the city. They also studied conditions at the Esopus creek in the Murphy street area; downtown points along the Rondout creek and others in the Main street area of Tannery brook. Reimbursement to the city for repairs at points where damage was heaviest will be considered, and the mayor will be notified later as to what to expect in flood control measures. Local engineers will make a survey and report as to city needs as a result of the last flood. (Freeman photo).

100,000 Acres Ablaze

Over 6,000 Fight Worst Fires in West History

San Francisco, Sept. 7 (AP)—One of the worst forest fires in Pacific coast history roared down on Yreka, a little northern California logging town today. And mammoth waves of flame raced across tens of thousands of acres of parched timber and brush land elsewhere in California and neighboring Oregon.

Klamath National Forest officials alerted the 3,500 residents of Yreka to connect their garden hoses and stand by when a three-day-old fire exploded out of control and thundered through 11 miles of dense timberland to within four miles of town. By midnight 100,000 acres were ablaze.

FIREFIGHTERS frankly said they had no chance of checking the fires onslaught. However, Klamath Forest Supervisor Russell Bowers said Yreka, a logging and farm center in north central California some 20 miles south of the Oregon border, appeared to be in no immediate danger.

Huge clouds of smoke obscured the skies and a shower of dead cinders rained down on Yreka. Townsfolk hauled out hoses and prepared to douse their roofs if burning embers began cascading from the thundering fire.

MORE THAN 1,800 men battled the blaze and hundreds more, including 400 soldiers from the presidio of San Francisco, were rushing to the scene.

But Bowers expressed pessimism about checking it. He said the blaze had developed into a fire storm, the worst of all fire conditions, and that only two things would help—a change in weather conditions or the fire's running out of fuel. Forecasts predicted another day of hot, windy weather.

A fire storm is a maximum of burning conditions — extremely low humidity, dry fuel and adverse winds—which the forest service says it is powerless to combat.

AN ESTIMATED 6,000 men battled other fires in the two states.

In Oregon, more than 210 separate fires blazed over national forests. Lightning touched off 25 new ones in the Fremont

Riots Cost Millions To Turkey

Two Large Cities Have Martial Law

Instanbul, Turkey, Sept. 7 (AP)—Violent anti-Greek riots have swept over Instabul and Izmer, Turkey's largest cities, causing millions of dollars worth of property damage.

The government imposed martial law on both cities last night after a four-hour wave of destruction and yet uncounted casualties. It was able to lift the state of seige today, however.

A COMMUNIQUE issued in Ankara, the capital, said Istanbul and all of Turkey were "objects of a Communist plot and incitement."

It was the first outbreak here stemming from the dispute over the future of the strategic Island of Cyprus, the British Crown colony in the Mediterranean which once belonged to Turkey. Greece demands that islanders be allowed to vote for union with Greece, but is opposed by Britain and Turkey. The Turkish government has declared that if Britain gives up Cyprus it should be returned to Turkey.

Turkish Foreign Minister Fatin Rostu Zorlu announced in London today that a nine-day conference of British, Turkish and Greek foreign ministers on this issue had ended without agreement.

The communique issued in Ankara implied that Red agents had inspired the mobs of young Turks last night, playing on their resentment of the Greek demands for Cyprus.

IT EXPRESSED sorrow for the disorders and regret for the grave damage to shops, homes and other property owned by persons of Greek descent. It promised speedy compensation and added:

"All necessary steps have been taken and will be taken to restore immediately public peace and order violated by these incidents."

Istanbul and Izmir (formerly Smyrna) both originally were Greek cities and have retained large Greek populations throughout Turkish history.

Premier Adnan Menderes flew to Istanbul from Ankara last night to take charge personally of the restoration of order. Even before martial law was imposed, troops and marines, some in tanks, moved into the ancient metropolis on the Bosporus to

N. Y. Port Tied Up by Dockers

Entire East Coast May Be Affected by Monday

New York, Sept. 7 (AP)—A walkout of longshoremen tied up the entire port of New York today. Their leaders said the walkout might spread along the whole east coast by Monday.

The work stoppage stemmed from a dispute between the International Longshoremen's Assn., Independent, and the New York-New Jersey Waterfront Commission.

THE UNION contends — and the commission denies—that the commission has been harsh and discriminatory against the ILA.

William V. Bradley, ILA president, said he had received a report 6,000 Philadelphia dockworkers were walking out this afternoon to attend a protest meeting in sympathy with the New York men.

He said another 4,000 in Boston will stay off the job tomorrow to attend a similar meeting.

"THIS IS SPREADING very rapidly," Bradley told newsmen. "If something isn't done by Monday, we'll have the whole coast tied up."

Thousands of Manhattan longshoremen walked off the job this morning to start the latest in a series of work stoppages that have beset the port for years.

The shipping industry estimates that such stoppages cost a million dollars a day.

Sues U.S. For Salary Of $26,823

Politics Blamed For Loss of Job

Washington, Sept. 7 (AP)—A former Internal Revenue Service official is suing the government for $26,823 in back pay, charging he was fired in 1953 for refusing to "whitewash" an unfavorable character report on a key figure in the tax collection service.

The suit has been filed in the U. S. Court of Claims by Edward E. Hoppe, now a Dallas lawyer.

Hoppe was formerly assistant commissioner of Internal Revenue. At the time of his dismissal he headed the service's inspection unit, set up to guard against corruption within the service.

HOPPE SAID in his petition that his dismissal by Commissioner T. Coleman Andrews was approved by Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey and the Civil Service Commission and was "based on political considerations."

His lawyer, John P. Witsil, said Hoppe—a Republican-appointed veteran of 24 years in the service—was fired solely as "a matter of political expediency" because he refused to tone down "a critical adverse report on a new political appointee."

Witsil, in a telephone interview from Jefferson City, Mo., where he is vacationing, refused to name the "political appointee" but said that Hoppe will name him "when he takes the stand" in the law suit. The attorney said the appointee now holds a high post in the Internal Revenue service.

ANDREWS AND OTHER officials declined to comment on Hoppe's charges. The Justice Department, which is defending the suit, has until mid-October to file an answer.

The New York Herald Tribune broke the story of Hoppe's suit in a copyrighted Washington dispatch calling the affair "a major political scandal" which "will almost certainly produce repercussions from the White House."

Hoppe said Andrews and Deputy Commissioner O. O. Gordon Delk, Jr. first tried to get him to tone down "derogatory information" he had turned up about the new appointee. Hoppe said that when he refused, the officials at first asked for his resignation and then, on Oct. 7, 1953, fired him.

HE CONTENDED this was a violation of the 1912 Lloyd-LaFollette Act which protects Civil Service employes from summary dismissal.

Witsil made available to the Herald Tribune a statement by Hoppe to the Civil Service Commission. In it Hoppe said Andrews told him he had to go because "I was a controversial figure because he said I had been named under the former administration."

Hoppe's statement continued, with reference to Andrews:

"He said I was a Dunlap-Snyder appointee and he'd have the entire Eisenhower forces on his neck if I were reassigned to a directorship."

John B. Dundap headed the revenue service during latter days of the Truman administration when John W. Snyder was secretary of the treasury.

ACTUALLY, Hoppe said, he was appointed to the Internal

96 Civil Cases Set, Also Long Criminal List

County Judge William A. Kelly, holding his first term of County Court since his appointment to the bench, on Tuesday afternoon heard both civil and criminal matters. Judge Kelly was appointed to the County Court bench following the resignation of Judge John M. Cashin who was appointed to the Federal Court bench in New York.

Judge Kelly was faced with a civil calendar of 96 cases and also heard a long criminal calendar presented by District Attorney Howard C. St. John.

A DAY CALENDAR of civil cases was made up, six civil actions were announced settled and there were arraignment under sealed indictments recently handed down by the grand jury. There will be another calendar call of civil matters on next Monday at 10 a. m.

CC Takes Issue on Taxes

Harriman Seen Tuning Up for 1955 Increases

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 7 (AP)—An official of the Empire State Chamber of Commerce says the Harriman Administration apparently is trying to "condition the people for substantial tax increases" next year.

William A. Mills, the organization's executive vice president, took issue yesterday with State Comprtoller's Arthur Levitt's report that 18 other states had higher tax rates per capita than New York.

Mills asserted in a statement:

"The taxpayers of our state should be commended for their generous payments to their state and local governments instead of being barraged with phony figures from a state administration committed to increasing taxes."

Levitt, in a report issued Friday, said New Yorkers paid $73.98 in state tax per capita in fiscal 1954-55, compared with a national average of $72.25. The rate of tax per capita in 18 other states is higher than New York's, he asserted.

Levitt's office said the comptroller's report tended to contradict "the notion that New York, so far as state-imposed taxes are concerned, is a high-tax state."

Mills, terming Levitt's comparisons "unrealistic," said the 18 states to which the comptroller referred were not competitive with New York in general. Many, he said, were rural and most performed services that local communities handled in this state.

The chamber official asserted that Levitt had "ignored important costs of state government" in—as he put it—"manufacturing" a per-capita figure.

Not included in Levitt's figures, Mills said, were unemployment insurance costs, money paid employers for administration of workmen's compensation, license fees and bridge and parkway tolls.

Mills said Levitt's statement "looks like the opening gun to condition the people for substantial tax increases at the next session of the Legislature."

Murder Link Is Probed

Three Arrested in West Have Records in Area

A trio of young Ulster county hoodlums arrested last Friday near El Reno, Okla., charged with a series of crimes across the counrty ranging from burglary and highjackings to rape, have long records against them in this area, a check with police authorities disclosed today.

The three, listed in an Associated Press dispatch as Marco Antonio Roggio, 19, and his brother, John, 15, both of Ardonia, and Charles Van Amburgh, 21, of Newburgh, were arrested following a blazing gun battle during a 100-MPH chase by police.

They were being held in Tulsa, Okla., today in connection with the alleged robbery of two Tulsa women, the AP reported.

Chief Criminal Deputy Houston Johnson told the AP that John Roggio admitted rapes in Virginia and Illinois and robberies and highjackings in New York, Illinois and Oklahoma. Mr. Johnson said the younger Roggio admitted six crimes committed by the three youths, including the raping of two women.

The three youths were also questioned about the slaying of Mrs. William R. Allen, Jr., wife of a wealthy Kansas City, Kansas, automobile dealer, whose body was found August 7 three days after she disappeared on a shopping trip. It was reported that the trio was attempting to establish an alibi which would clear them of any connection with Mrs. Allen's death.

At first, the trio told Mr. Johnston they left New York "a month and a half or two months ago." Later they said they started their trip Aug. 11.

Tulsa police have asked New York officers to see if they can find out when the trio left.

If they did leave New York Aug. 11, officers said they automatically would be ruled out as suspects in the Allen murder.

The Newburgh Police Department said the elder Roggio brother was arrested three times last year on charges of disorderly conduct and once on a charge of burglary third degree. The arrests for disorderly conduct were on May 18, July 16 and July 17 and the burglary arrest on August 16. His latest arrest in Newburgh was for a traffic violation on June 11 of this year.

John Roggio was arrested with his older brother on the burglary charge last year, according to the Newburgh police. A third brother, a juvenile, was also arrested at that time.

Newburgh police said Van Amburgh had been in trouble with police authorities since he was a child, including "quite a few burglaries." His latest term was in The New York State Vocational Institution, West Coxsackie, for petit larceny, police said. He was released from Coxsackie earlier this year.

The three youths are also known to Highland and Newburgh State Police who said they had been picked up several times on petty charges. No detailed record was immediately available.

Mountain Resorts Flourish

Ulster Business Is Up 12 Per Cent This Year

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 7 (AP)—Vacation business and travel boomed to record proportions this summer at many resorts and state campsites and parks in New York, the state commerce commissioner reports.

Edward T. Dickinson said yesterday that resort business was up 60 per cent over last year in the Schroon Lake area, up 30 per cent in the central Adirondacks, and 20 per cent higher at Lake George.

In the Catskills, he said, Sullivan county resorts attracted 30 per cent more patrons, while those in Ulster and Greene counties did 12 per cent more business.

Vacation business in the Chautauqua Lake area, in the southwestern part of the state, increased 15 per cent. The southern tier region, bordering on the Catskills, reported a 10 per cent gain.

Dickinson said that, from Memorial Day through Labor Day, 1,349,240 persons registered at the 35 campsites maintained by the State Conservation Department in the Catskills and Adirondacks and on Lake George Island. This was 20.8 per cent higher than the registration last summer.

The commissioner reported also that 20,704,873 persons visited the states's 81 parks, compared with 18,025,832 last year, and that 4,544,000 passenger cars traveled the State Thruway during June, July and August.

The State Thruway Authority estimated last night that 313,000 automobiles used the cross-state expressway during the four-day, Labor-Day weekend. The previous high for a holiday was 251,809, over the Fourth of July.

Dickinson attributed what he said was a decline in vacation travel in the Skaneateles area of the Finger Lakes region to the State Thruway, which he said diverted traffic from Route 20. In general, however, he said resort business in the region was on a par with 1954.

Niagara Falls had 3,300,000 summer visitors, five per cent below last year. Dickinson attributed the drop to excessive heat.

The commissioner said resort business in the eastern part of Long Island was running 12 per cent ahead of last year's until Hurricane Connie loomed. Hurricane warnings brought an avalanche of cancellations," Dickinson asserted.

Merger Plan Is To Elect Liberals

Milwaukee, Sept. 7 (AP)—George Meany, president of the American Federation of Labor, said last night the labor group to be formed by the merger of the AFL and the CIO will be active politically in order to carry out its objectives which are opposed by "strong forces."

He told the annual meeting of the National Urban League that the goal will be to elect liberal minded people—not labor people—to office.

Meany described the merged group, which he is scheduled to head, as "an instrument to give us a liberal Congress" and as a means to do a better job to improve the lot of working people.

He said there was no intent on the part of leaders planning the merger to create a labor monopoly to dominate the people.

THE UNION contends — and the commission denies—that the commission has been harsh and discriminatory against the ILA.

William V. Bradley, ILA president, said he had received a report 6,000 Philadelphia dockworkers were walking out this afternoon to attend a protest meeting in sympathy with the New York men.

He said another 4,000 in Boston will stay off the job tomorrow to attend a similar meeting.

"THIS IS SPREADING very rapidly," Bradley told newsmen. "If something isn't done by Monday, we'll have the whole coast tied up."

Thousands of Manhattan longshoremen walked off the job this morning to start the latest in a series of work stoppages that have beset the port for years.

The shipping industry estimates that such stoppages cost a million dollars a day.

Saugerties Soon To Have Modern Skywatcher Post

Skywatchers in Saugerties will shortly have a very modern observation post atop "Nanny Goat Hill" in the village between the Cantine mill and Montgomery street.

Remodeling has begun and many in the area have donated services or material for the work. Permission to erect a brick building on the "hill" was obtained from Holly R. Cantine and bricks to veneer the building were donated by the Staples brickyard. Concrete blocks were donated by Island Dock Lumber Company of Kingston and Lynch Contractors have offered their services to veneer the building.

THE TOP of the hill will be cleared off and a parking lot made for observers and picnic tables and benches will be under cover for use of the observers.

Sues U.S. For Salary Of $26,823

Politics Blamed For Loss of Job

Washington, Sept. 7 (AP)—A former Internal Revenue Service official is suing the government for $26,823 in back pay, charging he was fired in 1953 for refusing to "whitewash" an unfavorable character report on a key figure in the tax collection service.

The suit has been filed in the U. S. Court of Claims by Edward E. Hoppe, now a Dallas lawyer.

Hoppe was formerly assistant commissioner of Internal Revenue. At the time of his dismissal he headed the service's inspection unit, set up to guard against corruption within the service.

HOPPE SAID in his petition that his dismissal by Commissioner T. Coleman Andrews was approved by Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey and the Civil Service Commission and was "based on political considerations."

His lawyer, John P. Witsil, said Hoppe—a Republican-appointed veteran of 24 years in the service—was fired solely as "a matter of political expediency" because he refused to tone down "a critical adverse report on a new political appointee."

Witsil, in a telephone interview from Jefferson City, Mo., where he is vacationing, refused to name the "political appointee" but said that Hoppe will name him "when he takes the stand" in the law suit. The attorney said the appointee now holds a high post in the Internal Revenue service.

ANDREWS AND OTHER officials declined to comment on Hoppe's charges. The Justice Department, which is defending the suit, has until mid-October to file an answer.

The New York Herald Tribune broke the story of Hoppe's suit in a copyrighted Washington dispatch calling the affair "a major political scandal" which "will almost certainly produce repercussions from the White House."

Hoppe said Andrews and Deputy Commissioner O. O. Gordon Delk, Jr. first tried to get him to tone down "derogatory information" he had turned up about the new appointee. Hoppe said that when he refused, the officials at first asked for his resignation and then, on Oct. 7, 1953, fired him.

HE CONTENDED this was a violation of the 1912 Lloyd-LaFollette Act which protects Civil Service employes from summary dismissal.

Witsil made available to the Herald Tribune a statement by Hoppe to the Civil Service Commission. In it Hoppe said Andrews told him he had to go because "I was a controversial figure because he said I had been named under the former administration."

Hoppe's statement continued, with reference to Andrews:

"He said I was a Dunlap-Snyder appointee and he'd have the entire Eisenhower forces on his neck if I were reassigned to a directorship."

John B. Dundap headed the revenue service during latter days of the Truman administration when John W. Snyder was secretary of the treasury.

ACTUALLY, Hoppe said, he was appointed to the Internal

96 Civil Cases Set, Also Long Criminal List

County Judge William A. Kelly, holding his first term of County Court since his appointment to the bench, on Tuesday afternoon heard both civil and criminal matters. Judge Kelly was appointed to the County Court bench following the resignation of Judge John M. Cashin who was appointed to the Federal Court bench in New York.

Judge Kelly was faced with a civil calendar of 96 cases and also heard a long criminal calendar presented by District Attorney Howard C. St. John.

A DAY CALENDAR of civil cases was made up, six civil actions were announced settled and there were arraignment under sealed indictments recently handed down by the grand jury. There will be another calendar call of civil matters on next Monday at 10 a. m.

Malcolm H. Green, also known as Greenblatt, Brooklyn, was arraigned on a charge of grand larceny, second degree, alleged to have been committed last April. It involves a check. Charles Saccoman appeared for defendant and a plea of innocent was entered, 20 days allowed to make motions and bail was continued.

Edward Wroblewski, 111½ Spring street, was arraigned on a charge of operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated as a second offender, alleged to have been committed on June 19, 1955. Harry Gold appeared for defendant, a plea of innocent was entered, 20 days granted for motions and bail was continued. De-

Murder Link Is Probed

Three Arrested in West Have Records in Area

A trio of young Ulster county hoodlums arrested last Friday near El Reno, Okla., charged with a series of crimes across the counrty ranging from burglary and highjackings to rape, have long records against them in this area, a check with police authorities disclosed today.

The three, listed in an Associated Press dispatch as Marco Antonio Roggio, 19, and his brother, John, 15, both of Ardonia, and Charles Van Amburgh, 21, of Newburgh, were arrested following a blazing gun battle during a 100-MPH chase by police.

They were being held in Tulsa, Okla., today in connection with the alleged robbery of two Tulsa women, the AP reported.

Chief Criminal Deputy Houston Johnson told the AP that John Roggio admitted rapes in Virginia and Illinois and robberies and highjackings in New York, Illinois and Oklahoma. Mr. Johnson said the younger Roggio admitted six crimes committed by the three youths, including the raping of two women.

The three youths were also questioned about the slaying of Mrs. William R. Allen, Jr., wife of a wealthy Kansas City, Kansas, automobile dealer, whose body was found August 7 three days after she disappeared on a shopping trip. It was reported that the trio was attempting to establish an alibi which would clear them of any connection with Mrs. Allen's death.

At first, the trio told Mr. Johnston they left New York "a month and a half or two months ago." Later they said they started their trip Aug. 11.

Tulsa police have asked New York officers to see if they can find out when the trio left.

If they did leave New York Aug. 11, officers said they automatically would be ruled out as suspects in the Allen murder.

The Newburgh Police Department said the elder Roggio brother was arrested three times last year on charges of disorderly conduct and once on a charge of burglary third degree. The arrests for disorderly conduct were on May 18, July 16 and July 17 and the burglary arrest on August 16. His latest arrest in Newburgh was for a traffic violation on June 11 of this year.

John Roggio was arrested with his older brother on the burglary charge last year, according to the Newburgh police. A third brother, a juvenile, was also arrested at that time.

Newburgh police said Van Amburgh had been in trouble with police authorities since he was a child, including "quite a few burglaries." His latest term was in The New York State Vocational Institution, West Coxsackie, for petit larceny, police said. He was released from Coxsackie earlier this year.

The three youths are also known to Highland and Newburgh State Police who said they had been picked up several times on petty charges. No detailed record was immediately available.

Mountain Resorts Flourish

Ulster Business Is Up 12 Per Cent This Year

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 7 (AP)—Vacation business and travel boomed to record proportions this summer at many resorts and state campsites and parks in New York, the state commerce commissioner reports.

Edward T. Dickinson said yesterday that resort business was up 60 per cent over last year in the Schroon Lake area, up 30 per cent in the central Adirondacks, and 20 per cent higher at Lake George.

In the Catskills, he said, Sullivan county resorts attracted 30 per cent more patrons, while those in Ulster and Greene counties did 12 per cent more business.

Vacation business in the Chautauqua Lake area, in the southwestern part of the state, increased 15 per cent. The southern tier region, bordering on the Catskills, reported a 10 per cent gain.

Dickinson said that, from Memorial Day through Labor Day, 1,349,240 persons registered at the 35 campsites maintained by the State Conservation Department in the Catskills and Adirondacks and on Lake George Island. This was 20.8 per cent higher than the registration last summer.

The commissioner reported also that 20,704,873 persons visited the states's 81 parks, compared with 18,025,832 last year, and that 4,544,000 passenger cars traveled the State Thruway during June, July and August.

The State Thruway Authority estimated last night that 313,000 automobiles used the cross-state expressway during the four-day, Labor-Day weekend. The previous high for a holiday was 254,809, over the Fourth of July.

Dickinson attributed what he said was a decline in vacation travel in the Skaneateles area of the Finger Lakes region to the State Thruway, which he said diverted traffic from Route 20. In general, however, he said resort business in the region was on a par with 1954.

Niagara Falls had 3,300,000 summer visitors, five per cent below last year. Dickinson attributed the drop to excessive heat.

The commissioner said resort business in the eastern part of Long Island was running 12 per cent ahead of last year's until Hurricane Connie loomed. Hurricane warnings brought an avalanche of cancellations," Dickinson asserted.

Harriman Seen Tuning Up for 1955 Increases

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 7 (AP)—An official of the Empire State Chamber of Commerce says the Harriman Administration apparently is trying to "condition the people for substantial tax increases" next year.

William A. Mills, the organization's executive vice president, took issue yesterday with State Comprtoller's Arthur Levitt's report that 18 other states had higher tax rates per capita than New York.

Mills asserted in a statement:

"The taxpayers of our state should be commended for their generous payments to their state and local governments instead of being barraged with phony figures from a state administration committed to increasing taxes."

Levitt, in a report issued Friday, said New Yorkers paid $73.98 in state tax per capita in fiscal 1954-55, compared with a national average of $72.25. The rate of tax per capita in 18 other states is higher than New York's, he asserted.

Levitt's office said the comptroller's report tended to contradict "the notion that New York, so far as state-imposed taxes are concerned, is a high-tax state."

Mills, terming Levitt's comparisons "unrealistic," said the 18 states to which the comptroller referred were not competitive with New York in general. Many, he said, were rural and most performed services that local communities handled in this state.

The chamber official asserted that Levitt had "ignored important costs of state government" in—as he put it—"manufacturing" a per-capita figure.

Not included in Levitt's figures, Mills said, were unemployment insurance costs, money paid employers for administration of workmen's compensation, license fees and bridge and parkway tolls.

Mills said Levitt's statement "looks like the opening gun to condition the people for substantial tax increases at the next session of the Legislature."

Merger Plan Is To Elect Liberals

Milwaukee, Sept. 7 (AP)—George Meany, president of the American Federation of Labor, said last night the labor group to be formed by the merger of the AFL and the CIO will be active politically in order to carry out its objectives which are opposed by "strong forces."

He told the annual meeting of the National Urban League that the goal will be to elect liberal minded people—not labor people—to office.

Meany described the merged group, which he is scheduled to head, as "an instrument to give us a liberal Congress" and as a means to do a better job to improve the lot of working people.

He said there was no intent on the part of leaders planning the merger to create a labor monopoly to dominate the people.

Ace Play Is Fatal Error

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Shed a tear of sympathy for poor South in today's hand. If you'd been playing his hand at five diamonds you might have made the same mistake that he did. Just follow the play and see for yourself.

West opened the king of spades and continued with another spade, South ruffing the second trick. South led the ace of trumps to find out how that suit was going to break, and East discarded a heart.

Everything pretty normal so far? Perhaps you wonder which strange mistake South is going to make?

You can stop wondering, for South has already made the fatal error. The ace of trumps was a mistake!

After discovering the bad trump break, South took dummy's top clubs, got to his hand with the ace of hearts, ruffed a club in dummy, got to his hand with a trump, and ruffed his last club in dummy.

There was now no way to get out of dummy. Declarer actually led a heart from dummy, and East stepped up with a high heart in order to lead a spade through South. It didn't matter whether South now ruffed high or low, for West was bound to take the setting trick with the jack of diamonds.

This little tragedy wouldn't take place if South began by taking dummy's top clubs. Then and only then is it time to lead the first trump. If trumps break, South can afford to draw a second round. When they fail to break, South can go about the job of ruffing out the clubs and will be able to get out of dummy with a trump when the job has been finished.

The point is that each of dummy's trumps has an important task to perform. Two of them must ruff clubs, and the other two must be used to reach the South hand. South cannot afford to waste one of them on an unnecessary trump lead from his own hand.

Polio Minister Serving Again

Winnipeg, Man., Sept. 7 (AP)—Fighting to whip the polio paralysis which keeps him in an iron lung every night and in a wheelchair with his head held up by a harness during the day, the Rev. Maurice Hardman is conducting brief church services again.

In recent months the Anglican minister has assisted at a confirmation service and a wedding and blessed two stained glass windows at St. Michael's and All Angeles' Church here.

In August, 1953, he preached his last sermon at the Church of the Ascension in Stonewall, Man. Before the week was out he was stricken wtih polio.

THE ROAD BACK has been a long, hard one for the plucky churchman. He has mastered "frog breathing," gulping air into his lungs with his throat muscles. When he is in his wheelchair, a framework of straps holds his head erect. His legs are still paralyzed, but after constant exercise and therapy he can shave himself, type with two fingers and turn the pages of a book.

Each night he is returned to an iron lung at St. George Hospital.

"I hope to feel my way back into the ministry," the Rev. Mr. Hardman said recently. "I hope to go around from church to church, assisting wherever I can. Of course, it will be a long while before I can take charge of a church."

Takes Office in Syria

Damascus, Syria, Sept. 6 (AP)—Shukri Kuwatly, 62, assumed office today as Syria's president. He has held the job twice before. Kuwatly was elected Aug. 18 by the Syrian Parliament, getting a big majority over Foreign Minister Khaled Azem. Kuwatly's election to the presidency climaxed a comeback from deposition and five years exile. He was elected with the support of the middle-of-the road moderately pro-western parties. Azem had campaigned with leftist backing.

Company in Need Of Cash Helped By Amalgamated

Cincinnati, Sept. 7 (AP)—More than 500 employes of the Hamilton Tailoring Co. are lending $100,000 to its employer in a graphic demonstration of labor-management solidarity in the United States.

Members of the CIO Amalgamated Clothing Workers voted the funds after the company became somewhat short of cash following recent acquisitions, a company official said.

THE MONEY was turned over to the tailoring concern by Jack Kroll, chairman of the Cincinnati Amalgamated Clothing Workers board, who is better known nationally as director of the CIO's Political Action Committee.

Employe's paychecks, starting tomorrow, will have 10 per cent deducted as their share of the loan. The company will pay approximately $10,000 a month to the union until the debt is erased. The employes will receive debenture bonds, paying 3½ interest, to cover their payroll deduction loans.

Hamilton Tailoring has acquired two Cincinnati tailoring firms and the Kahn Tailoring Co. of Indianapolis in recent years. A company official said these acquisitions have left Hamilton with a lopsided inventory and somewhat shy of cash. The company official said the union afforded a more attractive proposition than could have been obtained from a bank.

Hamilton Tailoring does a seven million dollar a year business and claims to be the largest made-to-measure clothing organization in the world.

"I'M RELUCTANT to talk about the loan because it may embarrass the company," Kroll said. "We've done this a goodly number of times here in Cincinnati and elsewhere."

He said most of the loans are repaid to union treasuries.

Asked why the union would make a loan to management—a paradox perhaps — Kroll answered:

"Our members work in the place. It's their jobs. The union functions to protect people's jobs. We feel we're a part of the industry."

Alvin Heimann, vice president and secretary of the company, thanked the union members for their demonstration of loyalty to the firm.

New Methods of Job Fitting No Better

San Francisco, Sept. 7 (AP)—Psychologists' methods of picking jobs for men in business are no better than the old-fashioned way used by the boss in choosing workers, a leader of the profession asserted Monday night.

The batteries of tests used by the psychologists, mainly since World War 2, have not done well in fitting men into jobs, said Dr. Lee J. Cronbach of the University of Illonois. He said that's largely because they cannot predict the behavior of a worker in his assignment without knowing what the job will demand of him.

Dr. Cronbach addressed the American Psychological Association. He is its president-elect.

Dr. Cronbach said psychological testing for jobs came into popularity as an outgrowth of practices of the wartime Office of Strategic Services and other cloak and dagger agencies which used weekend parties to observe candidates for jobs.

PSYCHOLOGISTS later elaborated on this idea and the variety of tests resulted, he said.

The tests failed particularly, Dr. Cronbach added, in their failure to screen out men with emotional problems from pilot training. Some of the best pilots were unfitted for the job by the standards of psychological tests, he said.

'Any predictions made in ignoronce of job demands," Dr. Cronbach said, "are reminiscent of the Hindu fakir tossing a rope in the air and climbing it—a neat trick, but it can't be done."

Washington state has a total land area of 66,977 square miles.

BUDGET BALANCING

Announcement by Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey that he hopes the national budget can be balanced next year is good news. It makes it appear likely that there will be a reduction in income tax. Yet there are things that could prevent it.

Next year is an election year. The Republican party will be eager to grant a tax cut—such moves are always popular with the electorate. The Democrats on the other hand will not be eager to go along with a tax cut unless they can claim credit for it. And there is bound to be a protracted debate as to how the cut should be made—whether a straight percentage cut across the board should be granted or whether lower income groups should get the greatest amount of relief.

But with or without a tax cut the balancing of the budget would itself be cause for rejoicing. It would mean that the government is finding it possible to live within its income—and this would be a healthy state of affairs. An individual or a country can go on spending more than its income for just so long. If the budget is balanced we will all benefit, no matter what form the tax reductions take.

BACK TO POLITICAL A-B-C's

When you're out of power as long as the Republicans were before 1952, you can get rusty on some of the laws of politics. In 1954 the voters gave them a slight refresher course, and there's some fear in GOP circles that they may be in for another stiff lesson next year.

Specifically, they're worried over the continued slump of farm income. They believe it hurt them last year and could do so again. They know the Democrats see the farm issue as one of their hottest.

Then—and now—the GOP response has stressed that the big farm price drop happened under the Democrats. But they aren't sure the message will catch on. That's where the political law enters. Voters don't always look for the real cause of trouble. They just look to see who's in office when it comes—or when they become aware of it.

A lot of time is consumed in acquiring experience. Once in hand, it's wasteful not to go on using it.

STINGING HURRICANE AFTERMATH

The heavy rains accompanying hurricanes Connie and Diane brought eastern seaboard folk the biggest visitation of mosquitoes they have seen for many a year. Even New Jersey, long fabled as a favored habitat of these pests is complaining.

The state senate set up a mosquito control board after one lawmaker said the mosquitoes "have grown to a size and achieved an audacity hitherto unknown" in New Jersey.

The gentleman said further that the New Jersey Turnpike has increased the problem, though he didn't explain how. Possibly the insects are using it as a landing field during light traffic hours.

New Jersey has always been rather proud that it serves as a corridor state for traffic bound elsewhere. But clearly it would like to deny air rights to one rather large and pesky segment of its traffic.

The pain in the neck, unfortunately, is usually the type of person who lets it go to his head.

NOT SO ORDINARY

Many stories of personal heroism came out of the tragic floods which caused so much suffering and damage. Most of the stories were about ordinary people who risked their lives and comfort to help others in desperate trouble.

You can never tell about people. The quiet fellow who lives in the next house, the plain looking woman who lives across the street—these may be capable of deeds of great courage in an emergency. Stories like the ones about those who behaved nobly during the floods make one stop and take another look at the ordinary people of one's acquaintance. They may not be so ordinary after all.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

TOP SOIL

When the floods receded in these Berkshire Hills, what made exciting photography were torn up streets, smashed houses, destroyed homes—things that stand out and can be looked at. But, for farmers, the real damage was to the top soil.

Let me describe what happened to a neighbor of mine in New Boston, only about eight miles from my farm in these hills.

This was a prosperous farm as things are measured in these mountains. The farmers raised corn and grass to feed cows. A farmer with 35 or 40 head of cattle is regarded as prosperous here and his milk check comes in every month. Milk is his major business. On the side, he works in the woods or on the road.

He does not have as much machinery as a Western farmer because he does not need it. When his land lies low, along the river, he can use tractors but where the land is full of boulders, he often employs more primitive methods. Before the war, many of my neighbors still used work horses, but their sons, coming back from mechanized warfare, increased the mechanization on the farm somewhat.

The population here consists principally of what are known as Swamp Yankees, folks who came into these hills from Hartford to fight Indians. They stayed. Such areas as Sandisfield became prosperous principally because of the wonderful cheddar cheese they made—cheese that came to be known as American cheese, store cheese, rat cheese, or York cheese. Whatever it was called, it originated in Sandisfield, although when the railroads came to other parts, the cheese industry moved away, as did the most energetic young men, some of whom settled as far away as New York State and Ohio.

The farm I have in mind lies close to the Farmington River. There is a flat piece which grows good corn. On the rise there is ample grass for 35 milk cows. Then there is an abrupt mountainside covered with mixed wood—pine, maple, oak, birch, etc. There is a small apple orchard.

There have been floods here before but this Diane was something very peculiar. It was fast. It did little damage to trees in the woods; it seemed to specialize in gravel and boulders and tore top soil into shreds. It dumped tons of gravel on soil that had been carefully nurtured; it dumped sand on the low spots. The soil is no good for grass and corn anymore, unless it is given a coating of top soil or cured by some other method that agronomists may know about.

Farmers love soil as parents love children. Otherwise, they would not be farmers. There are easier ways of earning a living even up here. Their lives are tied to the soil and their wives work alongside them. Nowadays, those who have tractors work in teams, husband and wife, one on the tractor, one alongside heaping the stones into piles. Our people live that way, a long day of hard work, and we have few if any divorces.

So now that the soil is gone, one does not know what to do. A neighbor said to me: "We don't need relief. We can eat. We can get along over the Winter. But what are we going to do in the Spring when planting time comes? Where are we going to plant corn and alfalfa? In the sand?"

This is their problem and it is a technical problem beyond their knowledge and experience and probably entails costs beyond their capacity. Those who come in to aid still are hypnotized by the smashed roads, but the thought of the soil has not yet caught the attention of the rehabilitators. They know how to fix up a house or to repair a barn or a silo, but the soil is a new idea and a new problem and there is nothing in the questionnaires about it.

Yet socially, this is the most important consideration. These small farming comunities of New England, 200 or 300 population, centering about a General Store, looking forward to the annual Town Meeting, governed by selectmen, holding a square dance on a Friday or Saturday night—these are strong social centers in American life. TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS

Accidents are the third cause of death and as such deserve more attention from the medical profession than they have hitherto received. While heart disease is the leading cause and cancer takes second place, the role of accidents can no longer be ignored in our consideration of the present-day health problems. This is particularly true if we present the problem satitistically in life years lost rather than the usual crude death rate or standard death rate. In a recent year (1952) in British Columbia it is noted that, although heart disease was the leading cause of death and accounted for 36.2 per cent of all deaths, heart disease was only responsible for 12 per cent of life years lost from all causes of death. Cancer, the second cause, accounted for 15.7 per cent of all deaths, but cancer was responsible for only 10 per cent of life years lost from all causes. On the other hand, accidents, although accounting for only 7.9 per cent of all deaths, were responsible for 17.5 per cent of life years lost from all causes of death, and of those motor vehicle deaths accounted for 25 per cent."

I am quoting from an article in the Journal of the American Medical Association by Dr. George F. Strong Vancouver, B.C., who says that as one of the leading causes of death and as a potent factor in the cause of many serious orthopedic and other defects, accidents should be studied as any other common "disease" is studied. We should concern ourselves in the problem of motor car accidents with prevention, treatment and rehabilitation, just as we would in any other disorder capable of causing such a death rate.

So far as the cause is concerned, it is the human factor that is most responsible for traffic accidents. Attention must therefore be focused on the driver and his abilities or lack of abilities to safely and efficiently operate a motorcar. It has been suggested that drivers are studied as individuals to discover these defects, physical or psychiatric, that may contribute to the fact that they cannot operate a motorcar without endangering their own or other lives. While such a study would be expensive, that expense would be small compared with the present cost of motor accidents. If physical, mental or emotional defects were found to be responsible, legislation should insist that all drivers have annual examinations adequate enough to reveal the underlying defect. Although many places require medical certificates for drivers over 70 years of age, experience would indicate that more accidents occur as a result of carelessness of the young driver.

From the standpoint of the medical profession, control of traffic accidents would seem to require more attention to the drivers. No one should be given a driver's license unless he is competent to drive and competency should be determined by more than a consideration of age and gross physical defects. For those guilty of excessive speeding and violation of traffic rules and regulations, particularly the repeaters, the penalties should be severe. An intensive program of public education should be directed toward the dangers of driving after drinking.

"At Least They Can Eat Theirs"

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington— (NEA) — What hurricanes Connie and Diane did to New England and the Middle Atlantic states has apparently made necessary a completely new look at all flood prevention plans for this area, according to Lt. Gen. Samuel D. Sturgis and the Army Corps of Engineers.

After the 1936 floods, Congress authorized a 300 million dollar flood control plan for all of New England, except Maine. To date, 60 million dollars have been spent on this plan, mostly in the Connecticut River valley.

The plan was based on the assumption that the greatest flood danger was in the spring when melting snows in the Vermont and New Hampshire mountains would increase the runoff to the coastal states.

The 1938 hurricane upset this theory considerably. This storm moved northward across New England. It caused heavy rainfall and runoff both upstream and downstream.

SO FAR, FIVE of these upper Connecticut dams have been completed. They are at Union Village, Vt.; Surry Mountain, N. H.; Birch Hill, Hully and Knightsville, Mass. The Knightsville dam, which cost 3½ million, is supposed to have saved the lower Connecticut from another 11 million dollars worth of damage.

One project, the Mansfield Hollow, Conn., dam has been completed on the Thames. Little or nothing has been done on the Housatonic, which suffered this year's worst loss.

Delaware River basin development in eastern New York and Pennsylvania and western New Jersey is even less further along than the New England rivers. Fifty million dollars worth of projects have been authorized for flood prevention and control on this river, but only one million dollars worth of work has been completed.

General Sturgis wants another $650,000 for further surveys in this whole area, to revise his planning in the light of new data on inland storm patterns from hurricanes.

THE 1938 FLOODS should have been a warning of more of the same to follow. But the combination of mankind's natural apathy and his optimistic belief that bad things won't ever happen again caused interest in the New England flood control plan to wane in the next 15 years.

Last year's Hazel got Congress excited enough to appropriate a million dollars for a survey of hurricane damage prevention on the Gulf and Atlantic coasts. But now, along have come Connie and Diane to upset this planning for coastal protection only.

What seems to be happening is that the storm patterns are changing. Hurricanes used to hit Florida to Carolina coasts, then veer off into the Atlantic. Now they seem to be coming inland more, creating a fall flood menace.

CONNIE'S RAINS saturated the ground, but caused no particular problems. Diane's cloudbursts on top of it, plus a normal low from the west, dumped more water on the downstream stretches of northeastern rivers than they were ever prepared to handle. And they presented a brand-new flood control problem for future solution.

Such projects as have been completed in the New England flood control plan are estimated to have lessened the damage considerably.

Twenty million dollars have been spent on 10 Connecticut river local protection projects, like retaining walls and channel improvement. They are credited by the Corps of Engineers with saving Hartford and East Hartford from another 33 million dollars worth of damage such as it sustained in 1936.

The upstream dams and reservoirs are also credited with reducing the downstream runoff damage.

London Tailors Advised to Stress Color in Designs

London, Sept. 7 (AP)—London tailors, who regard themselves as the world's best, are being advised to emphasize color in their new designs for men.

The tip comes from the tailors' trade magazine, Tailor and Cutter, which said color is on the way in, and that while conservative designers may shudder, they cannot stop it.

THE DEMAND for brightness comes, it added, from the man who ultimately gets his way—the man who buys the suit.

The Edwardian look, on which smart British tailoring thrived for a number of years, is on the way out, Tailor and Cutter added. It said that in the opinion of men whose taste counts, it is now thought that the Edwardian look "over emphasized detail, velvet collar, flapped pockets everywhere, too much fullness, too much length—the Christmas tree effect. The top end of fashion now proclaims its individuality by tighter clothes, shorter jackets and more orthodox styling. Neatness and simplicity becomes the keynote and instead of relying on detail, the trend now has a chance to switch to color for effect. We can definitely expect men to start turning toward lighter colors for suitings."

IN ACCESSORIES, especially shirts and ties, the trend toward color is well-advanced, Tailor and Cutter said.

"Solid colors in shades that have come to be known as 'Italian' are arriving," it continued. "The white shirt is taking the knock from the yellows, the pinks, the blues and the pale mauves; the bright tie is being produced, not bright in the American sense—that is jazzy contrast of colors within the tie itself—but bright and strong in its own right and contrasting boldly with the shirt shade.

COLOR ENCROACHES on everything and men's suits can't escape, tailors were told. Combinations which 20 years ago would have been regarded an inartistic riot are becoming acceptable.

"Look at nature and see where bright greens are pressed against dull greens, against purples, against bright scarlets and ultramarines," the magazine said. "No one shudders at the juxtaposition of yellow and purple in an iris. Twenty years ago an iris was presumably in bad taste. But can nature be out of fashion?"

Truman Fails to Give Whole Story on Taft-Hartley Bill

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Sept. 6 (AP)—What former President Harry Truman didn't tell a nation-wide television and radio audience on Labor Day is far more significant than what he said.

Mr. Truman declared that the Federal labor-management relations act, usually called the "Taft-Hartley law," was vetoed by him because it was "not in the interests of the people." He endeavored to give the public the impression that, since the law was passed during a Republican Congress, it was the Republican party which was solely responsible for its enactment.

The record shows that the Taft-Hartley bill was adopted in disregard of the Truman veto, and fifty-five more members voted to override Mr. Truman than the two-thirds necessary in the House and six more than the necessary two-thirds in the Senate. On this vote in the House, the Democratic party was recorded 106 to override the veto and seventy-one to sustain it. In the Senate, the Democrats divided twenty-two for the veto and twenty against, but, without those twenty votes from the Democrats in the Senate, the Taft-Hartley bill would never have become law.

So when Mr. Truman attempts to tell the American people that the Taft-Hartley law was due solely to the Republican party, he does not tell the whole story and gives instead a misleading impression concerning the part played by his own party.

It has been more than eight years since the Taft-Hartley bill became law. In the last session, when the Democratic party was in control of both houses of Congress, efforts to amend it were defeated to no small extent as a result of a belief among certain Democratic senators that the amendment would weaken the existing law.

Mr. Truman made another misleading statement when he discussed the indictment brought by the present administration against the CIO union in Detroit for alleged violation of the Federal Corrupt Practices Act which bans contributions by either labor unions or corporations to political campaigns in which candidates for Federal offices are running. Mr. Truman called the filing of the indictment a manifestation by the present administration of a fear that labor would be active in the 1956 campaign. He accused the Republican administration of an intention "to get rough," and said he would get rough, too. He added that inclusion of this very provision affecting labor unions in the Taft-Hartley act was one of the reasons he vetoed it. But what the former President omitted to tell his audience was that in an election year—January, 1948—his own administration also indicted a CIO union under the same law.

Nobody at the time accused the Truman administration of trying to hamper the operations of unions in elections or of attempting to suppress free speech. The indictment was brought then just as another is being brought now, to determine the limits of the law.

What Justice Reed, speaking for the Supreme Court in June, 1948, said in his opinion was that the court was not passing on constitutionality because it wasn't necessary and that mere purchase of extra copies of a union newspaper containing political news and editorials or statements advocating a candidate's election wasn't a financial expenditure barred by the law. Justice Reed pointed out that Sen. Taft, in explaining his amendment to the corrupt practices act, had declared that no such expenditure would be barred because it was a union's right to publish a newspaper of its own and to say what it pleased.

The new point that has arisen, and which the Supreme Court didn't settle in the case that was dismissed by Justice Reed's opinion seven years ago, is related to whether an expenditure for a particular radio program on which a political speaker appears constitutes a direct contribution barred by the law. If the radio program is regularly used throughout a long period to espouse the views of a union and a speaker who happens to be a candidate talks on the program, it is difficult to see how it can be held that this would be a political expenditure but, from the viewpoint of all concerned, it is better to have a test case brought to resolve the issue than to leave it undecided, which means some who could properly buy radio time might hesitate to do so.

It seems unfortunate that Mr. Truman would condemn the Eisenhower administration for bringing a test case when under his own administration the same thing was done in an election year—and presumably for the same reason, namely, to determine the exact limits of the law governing campaign expenditures.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Rome—Since that afternoon in Geneva when a desperate wretch from Poland cried out against the leering arrogance of the drunken Communist "press delegation" from his home country, I have been haunted by a strange realization that "the press" is not newspapers or magazines or even radio and television. What is the press, then?

The guards were going to throw this tearful Polish patriot out of the press-house altogether. But, to their honor, Joe Newman, of the New York Herald Tribune, and a reporter for the London Morning Post, whose name I seem to have mislaid, formed bodily interference and bundled him into the office of the Morning Post on the balcony. This was asylum, like the inviolate premises of a foreign embassy when a troublesome individual holes up and makes snoots at the gendarmes through a window.

Newmen and the Post fellow had "credentials" from the Bureau of the Press. I have my card before me now. It has a photograph of a thuggish-looking character, with "Westbrook Pegler" scrawled across the face. It was good for access to the maison de le presse and the halls of the press at the Palace of the Nations. I was 'the press" because I happened to have a job with a corporation which distributes comic strips, puzzles, columns abont Broadway and Hollywood and other columns on political and moral subjects.

That poor fellow in Geneva was a nobleman of journalism by contrast with one contemptible individual from New York who actually went among the Communist Poles, drinking toasts to the day when Soviet Russia finally extinguished freedom in Poland and set up the Red regime. The so-called government in exile was excluded absolutely. The Catholic majority were allowed to maintain their religious practises only because the nuisance of putting down the church would have been an unprofitable distraction at the time. Communist refugees went in from Germany to take their revenge upon a tricked, betrayed and conquered people who had never permitted Communists to associate with them in social or professional life and had despised them as vermin. The Poles were down and the Communists, who had been wily and reptilian, as they are today in our country, became their masters. Foreigners with strang accents ordered them about.

The Poles were not allowed to indulge their anguish over the slaughter by the Russians of their 14,000 young officers and intellectuals, or their inexpressible horror over the realization that the Russians, having called them to revolt against the Nazis in the summer of 1944, then sat tight within gunshot of Warsaw, permitting the Nazis to slaughter the resistance forces. Having disclosed themselves in response to the Russian radio appeal, assuming that Russia would rush in over the last few miles to help, they could not return to hiding. So actually, the Russians got the Germans to do the slaughter for them. It saved them ammunition and spared them the task of conquering these glorious dupes later.

Now the Russian delegates were smiling publicly and our western world was infatuated with joy.

Why wasn't this excited Pole of the "press"? He was the only individual among 1,600 men and women of all nations with the courage to raise his voice in fierce outcry against this mockery. The Communist Polish "press" had asked the Swiss managers of the press house for permission to pour drinks for their colleagues of the press of the whole world on the occasion of their independence day. The Swiss were caught off-guard. It did not occur to them that this was the anniversary of Poland's enslavement to Moscow. So the tables were set out and I was conscious of loathsomeness as, several times that afternoon, I walked through that gradually more noisy and drunken gang. I could not understand their toasts and bluster. But I was impressed by their crummy appearance and something indescribable which I discern in all groups of Communists.

The "press" is the expression of opinion, protest and information, not the suppression of it. And this seedy exile from his own beloved country; this stranger without "credentials" from an employer, was more truly the "press" in that brief flurry than all 1,600 of us together.

BUDGET BALANCING

Announcement by Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey that he hopes the national budget can be balanced next year is good news. It makes it appear likely that there will be a reduction in income tax. Yet there are things that could prevent it.

Next year is an election year. The Republican party will be eager to grant a tax cut—such moves are always popular with the electorate. The Democrats on the other hand will not be eager to go along with a tax cut unless they can claim credit for it. And there is bound to be a protracted debate as to how the cut should be made—whether a straight percentage cut across the board should be granted or whether lower income groups should get the greatest amount of relief.

But with or without a tax cut the balancing of the budget would itself be cause for rejoicing. It would mean that the government is finding it possible to live within its income—and this would be a healthy state of affairs. An individual or a country can go on spending more than its income for just so long. If the budget is balanced we will all benefit, no matter what form the tax reductions take.

BACK TO POLITICAL A-B-C's

When you're out of power as long as the Republicans were before 1952, you can get rusty on some of the laws of politics. In 1954 the voters gave them a slight refresher course, and there's some fear in GOP circles that they may be in for another stiff lesson next year.

Specifically, they're worried over the continued slump of farm income. They believe it hurt them last year and could do so again. They know the Democrats see the farm issue as one of their hottest.

Then—and now—the GOP response has stressed that the big farm price drop happened under the Democrats. But they aren't sure the message will catch on. That's where the political law enters. Voters don't always look for the real cause of trouble. They just look to see who's in office when it comes—or when they become aware of it.

A lot of time is consumed in acquiring experience. Once in hand, it's wasteful not to go on using it.

STINGING HURRICANE AFTERMATH

The heavy rains accompanying hurricanes Connie and Diane brought eastern seaboard folk the biggest visitation of mosquitoes they have seen for many a year. Even New Jersey, long fabled as a favored habitat of these pests is complaining.

The state senate set up a mosquito control board after one lawmaker said the mosquitoes "have grown to a size and achieved an audacity hitherto unknown" in New Jersey.

The gentleman said further that the New Jersey Turnpike has increased the problem, though he didn't explain how. Possibly the insects are using it as a landing field during light traffic hours.

New Jersey has always been rather proud that it serves as a corridor state for traffic bound elsewhere. But clearly it would like to deny air rights to one rather large and pesky segment of its traffic.

The pain in the neck, unfortunately, is usually the type of person who lets it go to his head.

NOT SO ORDINARY

Many stories of personal heroism came out of the tragic floods which caused so much suffering and damage. Most of the stories were about ordinary people who risked their lives and comfort to help others in desperate trouble.

You can never tell about people. The quiet fellow who lives in the next house, the plain looking woman who lives across the street—these may be capable of deeds of great courage in an emergency. Stories like the ones about those who behaved nobly during the floods make one stop and take another look at the ordinary people of one's acquaintance. They may not be so ordinary after all.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

TOP SOIL

When the floods receded in these Berkshire Hills, what made exciting photography were torn up streets, smashed houses, destroyed homes—things that stand out and can be looked at. But, for farmers, the real damage was to the top soil.

Let me describe what happened to a neighbor of mine in New Boston, only about eight miles from my farm in these hills.

This was a prosperous farm as things are measured in these mountains. The farmers raised corn and grass to feed cows. A farmer with 35 or 40 head of cattle is regarded as prosperous here and his milk check comes in every month. Milk is his major business. On the side, he works in the woods or on the road.

He does not have as much machinery as a Western farmer because he does not need it. When his land lies low, along the river, he can use tractors but where the land is full of boulders, he often employs more primitive methods. Before the war, many of my neighbors still used work horses, but their sons, coming back from mechanized warfare, increased the mechanization on the farm somewhat.

The population here consists principally of what are known as Swamp Yankees, folks who came into these hills from Hartford to fight Indians. They stayed. Such areas as Sandisfield became prosperous principally because of the wonderful cheddar cheese they made—cheese that came to be known as American cheese, store cheese, rat cheese, or York cheese. Whatever it was called, it originated in Sandisfield, although when the railroads came to other parts, the cheese industry moved away, as did the most energetic young men, some of whom settled as far away as New York State and Ohio.

The farm I have in mind lies close to the Farmington River. There is a flat piece which grows good corn. On the rise there is ample grass for 35 milk cows. Then there is an abrupt mountainside covered with mixed wood—pine, maple, oak, birch, etc. There is a small apple orchard.

There have been floods here before but this Diane was something very peculiar. It was fast. It did little damage to trees in the woods; it seemed to specialize in gravel and boulders and tore top soil into shreds. It dumped tons of gravel on soil that had been carefully nurtured; it dumped sand on the low spots. The soil is no good for grass and corn anymore, unless it is given a coating of top soil or cured by some other method that agronomists may know about.

Farmers love soil as parents love children. Otherwise, they would not be farmers. There are easier ways of earning a living even up here. Their lives are tied to the soil and their wives work alongside them. Nowadays, those who have tractors work in teams, husband and wife, one on the tractor, one alongside heaping the stones into piles. Our people live that way, a long day of hard work, and we have few if any divorces.

So now that the soil is gone, one does not know what to do. A neighbor said to me: "We don't need relief. We can eat. We can get along over the Winter. But what are we going to do in the Spring when planting time comes? Where are we going to plant corn and alfalfa? In the sand?"

This is their problem and it is a technical problem beyond their knowledge and experience and probably entails costs beyond their capacity. Those who come in to aid still are hypnotized by the smashed roads, but the thought of the soil has not yet caught the attention of the rehabilitators. They know how to fix up a house or to repair a barn or a silo, but the soil is a new idea and a new problem and there is nothing in the questionnaires about it.

Yet socially, this is the most important consideration. These small farming comunities of New England, 200 or 300 population, centering about a General Store, looking forward to the annual Town Meeting, governed by selectmen, holding a square dance on a Friday or Saturday night—these are strong social centers in American life. Those are people with roots deep down who will never be relocated because here is their life. These are the people of the New England soil.

Diane's cloudbursts on top of it, plus a normal low from the west, dumped more water on the downstream stretches of northeastern rivers than they were ever prepared to handle. And they presented a brand-new flood control problem for future solution.

Such projects as have been completed in the New England flood control plan are estimated to have lessened the damage considerably.

Twenty million dollars have been spent on 10 Connecticut river local protection projects, like retaining walls and channel improvement. They are credited by the Corps of Engineers with saving Hartford and East Hartford from another 33 million dollars worth of damage such as it sustained in 1936.

The upstream dams and reservoirs are also credited with reducing the downstream runoff damage.

London Tailors Advised to Stress Color in Designs

London, Sept. 7 (AP)—London tailors, who regard themselves as the world's best, are being advised to emphasize color in their new designs for men.

The tip comes from the tailors' trade magazine, Tailor and Cutter, which said color is on the way in, and that while conservative designers may shudder, they cannot stop it.

THE DEMAND for brightness comes, it added, from the man who ultimately gets his way—the man who buys the suit.

The Edwardian look, on which smart British tailoring thrived for a number of years, is on the way out, Tailor and Cutter added. It said that in the opinion of men whose taste counts, it is now thought that the Edwardian look "over emphasized detail, velvet collar, flapped pockets everywhere, too much fullness, too much length—the Christmas tree effect. The top end of fashion now proclaims its individuality by tighter clothes, shorter jackets and more orthodox styling. Neatness and simplicity becomes the keynote and instead of relying on detail, the trend now has a chance to switch to color for effect. We can definitely expect men to start turning toward lighter colors for suitings."

IN ACCESSORIES, especially shirts and ties, the trend toward color is well-advanced, Tailor and Cutter said.

"Solid colors in shades that have come to be known as 'Italian' are arriving," it continued. "The white shirt is taking the knock from the yellows, the pinks, the blues and the pale mauves; the bright tie is being produced, not bright in the American sense—that is jazzy contrast of colors within the tie itself—but bright and strong in its own right and contrasting boldly with the shirt shade.

COLOR ENCROACHES on everything and men's suits can't escape, tailors were told. Combinations which 20 years ago would have been regarded an inartistic riot are becoming acceptable.

"Look at nature and see where bright greens are pressed against dull greens, against purples, against bright scarlets and ultramarines," the magazine said. "No one shudders at the juxtaposition of yellow and purple in an iris. Twenty years ago an iris was presumably in bad taste. But can nature be out of fashion?"

Truman Fails to Give Whole Story on Taft-Hartley Bill

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Sept. 6 (AP)—What former President Harry Truman didn't tell a nation-wide television and radio audience on Labor Day is far more significant than what he said.

Mr. Truman declared that the Federal labor-management relations act, usually called the "Taft-Hartley law," was vetoed by him because it was "not in the interests of the people." He endeavored to give the public the impression that, since the law was passed during a Republican Congress, it was the Republican party which was solely responsible for its enactment.

The record shows that the Taft-Hartley bill was adopted in disregard of the Truman veto, and fifty-five more members voted to override Mr. Truman than the two-thirds necessary in the House and six more than the necessary two-thirds in the Senate. On this vote in the House, the Democratic party was recorded 106 to override the veto and seventy-one to sustain it. In the Senate, the Democrats divided twenty-two for the veto and twenty against, but, without those twenty votes from the Democrats in the Senate, the Taft-Hartley bill would never have become law.

So when Mr. Truman attempts to tell the American people that the Taft-Hartley law was due solely to the Republican party, he does not tell the whole story and gives instead a misleading impression concerning the part played by his own party.

It has been more than eight years since the Taft-Hartley bill became law. In the last session, when the Democratic party was in control of both houses of Congress, efforts to amend it were defeated to no small extent as a result of a belief among certain Democratic senators that the amendment would weaken the existing law.

Mr. Truman made another misleading statement when he discussed the indictment brought by the present administration against the CIO union in Detroit for alleged violation of the Federal Corrupt Practices Act which bans contributions by either labor unions or corporations to political campaigns in which candidates for Federal offices are running. Mr. Truman called the filing of the indictment a manifestation by the present administration of a fear that labor would be active in the 1956 campaign. He accused the Republican administration of an intention "to get rough," and said he would get rough, too. He added that inclusion of this very provision affecting labor unions in the Taft-Hartley act was one of the reasons he vetoed it. But what the former President omitted to tell his audience was that in an election year—January, 1948—his own administration also indicted a CIO union under the same law.

Nobody at the time accused the Truman administration of trying to hamper the operations of unions in elections or of attempting to suppress free speech. The indictment was brought then just as another is being brought now, to determine the limits of the law.

What Justice Reed, speaking for the Supreme Court in June, 1948, said in his opinion was that the court was not passing on constitutionality because it wasn't necessary and that mere purchase of extra copies of a union newspaper containing political news and editorials or statements advocating a candidate's election wasn't a financial expenditure barred by the law. Justice Reed pointed out that Sen. Taft, in explaining his amendment to the corrupt practices act, had declared that no such expenditure would be barred because it was a union's right to publish a newspaper of its own and to say what it pleased.

The new point that has arisen, and which the Supreme Court didn't settle in the case that was dismissed by Justice Reed's opinion seven years ago, is related to whether an expenditure for a particular radio program on which a political speaker appears constitutes a direct contribution barred by the law. If the radio program is regularly used throughout a long period to espouse the views of a union and a speaker who happens to be a candidate talks on the program, it is difficult to see how it can be held that this would be a political expenditure but, from the viewpoint of all concerned, it is better to have a test case brought to resolve the issue than to leave it undecided, which means some who could properly buy radio time might hesitate to do so.

It seems unfortunate that Mr. Truman would condemn the Eisenhower administration for bringing a test case when under his own administration the same thing was done in an election year—and presumably for the same reason, namely, to determine the exact limits of the law governing campaign expenditures.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Rome—Since that afternoon in Geneva when a desperate wretch from Poland cried out against the leering arrogance of the drunken Communist "press delegation" from his home country, I have been haunted by a strange realization that "the press" is not newspapers or magazines or even radio and television. What is the press, then?

The guards were going to throw this tearful Polish patriot out of the press-house altogether. But, to their honor, Joe Newman, of the New York Herald Tribune, and a reporter for the London Morning Post, whose name I seem to have mislaid, formed bodily interference and bundled him into the office of the Morning Post on the balcony. This was asylum, like the inviolate premises of a foreign embassy when a troublesome individual holes up and makes snoots at the gendarmes through a window.

Newmen and the Post fellow had "credentials" from the Bureau of the Press. I have my card before me now. It has a photograph of a thuggish-looking character, with "Westbrook Pegler" scrawled across the face. It was good for access to the maison de le presse and the halls of the press at the Palace of the Nations. I was 'the press" because I happened to have a job with a corporation which distributes comic strips, puzzles, columns abont Broadway and Hollywood and other columns on political and moral subjects.

That poor fellow in Geneva was a nobleman of journalism by contrast with one contemptible individual from New York who actually went among the Communist Poles, drinking toasts to the day when Soviet Russia finally extinguished freedom in Poland and set up the Red regime. The so-called government in exile was excluded absolutely. The Catholic majority were allowed to maintain their religious practises only because the nuisance of putting down the church would have been an unprofitable distraction at the time. Communist refugees went in from Germany to take their revenge upon a tricked, betrayed and conquered people who had never permitted Communists to associate with them in social or professional life and had despised them as vermin. The Poles were down and the Communists, who had been wily and reptilian, as they are today in our country, became their masters. Foreigners with strang accents ordered them about.

The Poles were not allowed to indulge their anguish over the slaughter by the Russians of their 14,000 young officers and intellectuals, or their inexpressible horror over the realization that the Russians, having called them to revolt against the Nazis in the summer of 1944, then sat tight within gunshot of Warsaw, permitting the Nazis to slaughter the resistance forces. Having disclosed themselves in response to the Russian radio appeal, assuming that Russia would rush in over the last few miles to help, they could not return to hiding. So actually, the Russians got the Germans to do the slaughter for them. It saved them ammunition and spared them the task of conquering these glorious dupes later.

Now the Russian delegates were smiling publicly and our western world was infatuated with joy.

Why wasn't this excited Pole of the "press"? He was the only individual among 1,600 men and women of all nations with the courage to raise his voice in fierce outcry against this mockery. The Communist Polish "press" had asked the Swiss managers of the press house for permission to pour drinks for their colleagues of the press of the whole world on the occasion of their independence day. The Swiss were caught off-guard. It did not occur to them that this was the anniversary of Poland's enslavement to Moscow. So the tables were set out and I was conscious of loathsomeness as, several times that afternoon, I walked through that gradually more noisy and drunken gang. I could not understand their toasts and bluster. But I was impressed by their crummy appearance and something indescribable which I discern in all groups of Communists.

The "press" is the expression of opinion, protest and information, not the suppression of it. And this seedy exile from his own beloved country; this stranger without "credentials" from an employer, was more truly the "press" in that brief flurry than all 1,600 of us together.

British Reviewer Comments on Concert

Woodstock, Sept. 7 — Will Schaber, cultural and political reporter for the British Information Service, who attended some of the Harmony Hill musical events, was impressed by the growing musical activities in Woodstock. Mr. Schaber, who is at present preparing some articles on Music in America for the British Information Service, reviews the final recital of Mr. Schimmerling's series, held at the Maverick Concert Hall last Saturday evening, as follows:

"It was a Woodstock composers' affair which featured William Ames, Henry Cowell, Hanus A. Schimmerling and Alexander Semmler. It is difficult to arrive at a final judgment after the first hearing of Ames' music which seemed to me austere, yet profound. It might be worth while to search for some hidden valuables in Mr. Ames' music which apparently reflects the composer's personality who does not make concessions to the listener. Mr. Ames, whose vocal music was heard on August 22, played his Three Preludes for Piano himself.

"HENRY COWELL'S songs were distinctly interpreted by Ruth Cohn and accompanied by Ilse Sass. One of the songs was accompanied by the composer himself who, in his continual search for new sound effects used the strings of the piano to create 'spheric harmonies.' If I am not mistaken, these celestial sounds were heard preciously in one of his piano solos (aeolian harp). Cowell's Hymn and Fuguing Tune for Cello and Piano was played by Cynthia Eddy Britt and Ilse Sass. The composer explained that contemporary musicians must not discard the historical traditions of simplicity; this was perhaps an explanation—or excuse—for having used archaic musical material. For apparently the same reasons did H. A. Schimmerling call his Piano Suite a suite in 'three styles.' A rather ecceletic Chromatic Fugue (preceded by a Toccata), was followed by a Debussy-like Nocturne. These two moments and a lively Capriccio, the best of the three movements, were masterly performed by Ilse Sass.

"AFTER THIS performance one would wish to hear Miss Sass more often as soloist. Mr. Schimmerling was also represented by two chamber music pieces: a 'Poem for Voice, Cello and Piano' performed by Ruth Cohon, Hans Cohn and Ilse Sass who was introduced as the author to the lyrics to this Poem. This work, rooted in the impressionistic grounds of the earliest 20th Century, though utterly pleasing and well written, is not of the quality of Schimmerling's Second String Quartet, by far the best of the works.

"Unfortunately, there was only space enough in the program for two movements which showed the composer's personal Slavic characteristics. It is a vigorous, rythmically and harmonically interesting piece of good music, rich in polyphonic ideas and, despite being contemporary, not bare of melodic elements. The two movements, well rehearsed and prepared by William Kroll, were expertly played by Elizabeth Walker, Carol Snodgrass, Barbara Kroll and Cynthia Eddy Britt.

"THE FINAL WORK of this exciting program was Alexander Semmler's Suite for Cello and Piano, a powerful work with many beautiful spots within the four movements, a composition which appeals more to the musician's intellect than to the human heart. Mr. Schimmerling told me that he likes this composition better and better the more often he hears it; and according to what Hans Cohn said about it we have to believe it is, indeed, an excellent proof of the composer's abilities. Hans Cohn played the difficult work extremely well and Mr. Semmler was the excellent pianist in this duo."

This review would not be complete without mentioning Mr. Schimmerling's speech referring to the developing stages of his Series of Musical Events. We learned that 57 compositions by 35 composers were performed in eight concerts by a total of 25 instrumentalists and singers; there were many premieres, lecture-recitals, symposia, recording sessions. Mr. Schimmerling who was responsible for the entire enterprise is drawing more and more people into his music-educational orbit. He spoke about greater things to come, such as operatic performances; and if we are not mistaken, the Playhouse might become an essential part of these projects.

Think It Through

By EDWARD F. HUTTON

What's the "check-off" system?

Neighbor, it's a humdinger—and dangerous, because of the growing power of unionism. It means forced dues by pro-union labor laws,—a deal, authorized in the early thirties, between Government and labor. It made possible political gains and a long lead toward monopolistic powers, which had its taproot in the "checkoff" system. It is but one facet of organized labor's hold on our business structure, unknown before in history.

Mr. Hutton

When employers are forced to withhold union dues from pay envelopes and pass on to union bosses, it becomes a new system of taxation. "Uncle Samuel" is saying nothing. Businessmen have buckled. The rank and file of workers may not like—but take—and say nothing. These dues represent a tremendous sum total.

Power follows the dollar. These sums create power. They're rolling in by the millions. It's the lushest pile of cash ever dreamed of by any Free Enterprise System under the sun.

The unions collect, but pay no taxes.

The next step in the "checkoff" system could be the organization of farm labor. I believe that is the intention. Will the farmers—without pay—be forced to withhold union dues, keep a set of books, and act as agents for the unions and Government?

Why not send this to your Congressmen, neighbor?

Sinatra's Wife Is Acting in Movies

Hollywood, Sept. 7 (AP)—Another Sinatra has entered the acting business. This time it's Nancy, former wife of famous Frankie.

Nancy, who is pretty and petite with dark brown-reddish hair, is playing the role of a Red Cross worker in the Pacific war in Paramount's "The Proud and Profane." It's her first fling at acting and she's having herself a ball.

She was running the hat check concession in a longshot scene of a recreation hall while Deborah Kerr did her acting in the foreground. After the scene was filmed, Nancy came over to chat.

"No lines today," she reported. "But I had some yesterday. And the day before. No, I haven't seen the rushes. Nobody asks to see them."

But producer William Perlberg reported that she was doing excellently.

"The gal is a real comer," said Perlberg, a longtime friend. "She has a way of throwing away lines that is sensational."

Nancy was happy to hear such praise.

The two movements, well rehearsed and prepared by William Kroll, were expertly played by Elizabeth Walker, Carol Snodgrass, Barbara Kroll and Cynthia Eddy Britt.

"THE FINAL WORK of this exciting program was Alexander Semmler's Suite for Cello and Piano, a powerful work with many beautiful spots within the four movements, a composition which appeals more to the musician's inteilect than to the human heart. Mr. Schimmerling told me that he likes this composition better and better the more often he hears it; and according to what Hans Cohn said about it we have to believe it is, indeed, an excellent proof of the composer's abilities. Hans Cohn played the difficult work extremely well and Mr. Semmler was the excellent pianist in this duo."

This review would not be complete without mentioning Mr. Schimmerling's speech referring to the developing stages of his Series of Musical Events. We learned that 57 compositions by 35 composers were performed in eight concerts by a total of 25 instrumentalists and singers; there were many premieres, lecture-recitals, symposia, recording sessions. Mr. Schimmerling who was responsible for the entire enterprise is drawing more and more people into his music-educational orbit. He spoke about greater things to come, such as operatic performances; and if we are not mistaken, the Playhouse might become an essential part of these projects.

Funza-Poppin Slated For Foundation Show

Woodstock, Sept. 7—Although the summer company at the Woodstock Playhouse has departed for another year, the theatre has been the scene of feverish activity this week as preparations went into full swing for the Woodstock Foundation variety show, Funza-Poppin, to be presented Friday and Saturday night.

A dazzling aggregation of Woodstock notables, from the art, music, literary and other circles, has been assembled for the production, both on and back stage and in the aisles. In the Gay Nineties tradition Houston Richards, who has participated in many Foundation shows as both actor and director, will bid the audience welcome and introduce Mistress of Ceremonies Penny Perry. Miss Perry, who will be remembered as the singing star of last year's Fonudation musical play, A Lesson in Love, will also sing a couple of numbers. Robert Eric Carlson, who co-starred with his wife last year, will also be heard in the show.

IN ALL THERE will be 20 acts mixing fun, music and frolic and among the leading lights will be Alexander Semmler, noted composer-pianist and former NBC symphony conductor, Peter Pike and Harry Kapreillian in an instrumental number, Abe Molyneaux who will sing, William Spanhake, Sr., and his orchestra.

The Clem Nessel and Bill Moore combo will present a jam session, and among those also to appear are Bill Wingert, Norma Champanier, Karl Hubbell, Anne Olin, George Joel and Herbert Lent in the various skits. Barbara Moncure will sing her special variety of folk songs.

On hand to add to the gaiety of the proceedings will be the corps of singing waiters and barmaids. Dud Summers and Ed Williams are in charge of the waiters who are: Dave Carlson, Alexander Franck, Robert Angeloch, Louis Lewis, Pat Burke, Vere Nessel, Bud Plate, Sam Wylie and Michael Tregnier. Mrs. Roland d'Albis is in charge of the bar maids and will be assisted by Mrs. Alexander Franck and Mrs. Louis Lewis.

THE SET IS BEING designed and painted by John Pike and Howard Mandel, and Peter Cohn will be the electrician. The entire production is under the direction of Mrs. Helen Fletcher.

Tickets will be on sale at the Playhouse box office starting Wednesday from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. and on Friday and Saturday, the days of the show from 10 a. m. to show time. They may also be obtained at the Catskill Book and Record Shop and the Studio Shop.

Proceeds from the show will be used for awards to worthy people in the fields of art, music and literature.

Think It Through

By EDWARD F. HUTTON

Mr. Hutton

What's the "check-off" system?

Neighbor, it's a humdinger—and dangerous, because of the growing power of unionism. It means forced dues by pro-union labor laws,—a deal, authorized in the early thirties, between Government and labor. It made possible political gains and a long lead toward monopolistic powers, which had its taproot in the "checkoff" system. It is but one facet of organized labor's hold on our business structure, unknown before in history.

When employers are forced to withhold union dues from pay envelopes and pass on to union bosses, it becomes a new system of taxation. "Uncle Samuel" is saying nothing. Businessmen have buckled. The rank and file of workers may not like—but take—and say nothing. These dues represent a tremendous sum total.

Power follows the dollar. These sums create power. They're rolling in by the millions. It's the lushest pile of cash ever dreamed of by any Free Enterprise System under the sun.

The unions collect, but pay no taxes.

The next step in the "checkoff" system could be the organization of farm labor. I believe that is the intention. Will the farmers—without pay—be forced to withhold union dues, keep a set of books, and act as agents for the unions and Government?

Why not send this to your Congressmen, neighbor?

On Public View

Mackinaw City, Mich. (AP)—Rising along with a 100 million dollar bridge across the Straits of Mackinac are telescopes through which construction may be watched for a dime. They give a closeup view of what's going on out in the straits between Michigan's two peninsulas. Bridge opening date is Nov. 1, 1957.

Actor's Eye Removed

New York, Sept. 7 (AP)—Paul Muni, one of the top actors of Broadway and Hollywood, has come through an operation for the removal of his left eye satisfactorily and is said to have taken the loss in good spirit. Muni, who had complained of pain and failing eyesight, gave up his leading role in the Broadway hit "Inherit the Wind" last week. His performance in the show had earned him Variety's nomination as best actor of the year.

Pot and Kettle Driving

Lakeland, Fla. (AP)—A motorist reported to police that a reckless driver had been following him, trying to hit his car. He gave the license number of the offender. About the same time, another motorist reported a case of reckless driving. He said he had chased the man to warn him not to drive so recklessly, but couldn't catch him.

Sinatra's Wife Is Acting in Movies

Hollywood, Sept. 7 (AP)—Another Sinatra has entered the acting business. This time it's Nancy, former wife of famous Frankie.

Nancy, who is pretty and petite with dark brown-reddish hair, is playing the role of a Red Cross worker in the Pacific war in Paramount's "The Proud and Profane." It's her first fling at acting and she's having herself a ball.

She was running the hat check concession in a longshot scene of a recreation hall while Deborah Kerr did her acting in the foreground. After the scene was filmed, Nancy came over to chat.

"No lines today," she reported. "But I had some yesterday. And the day before. No, I haven't seen the rushes. Nobody asks to see them."

But producer William Perlberg reported that she was doing excellently.

"The gal is a real comer," said Perlberg, a longtime friend. "She has a way of throwing away lines that is sensational."

Nancy was happy to hear such praise.

Junior Police

Detroit (AP)—A lot of folk stopped to take a second look at some of the policemen walking beats in suburban Harper Woods this summer. The cops were aged 10 to 15 years. Harper Woods swore in a Junior Police Force of 28, pledged to "uphold the laws of safety" and to "act in a manner befitting our titles." They were equipped with silver badges and books of tickets. The tickets were used to notify police and parents of traffic violations by other youngsters and placed on cars which ignored the suburb's campaign against parking on residential streets.

For Fathers Only

Houston, Tex. (AP)—Hermann Hospital has a contest to name the father's waiting room on the maternity floor. Some of the entries: Heir Point, Stork Club, Pappy's Paternity Pacing Parlor, Papa-teria.

Chiang Talks to Cadets

Taipei, Formosa, Sept. 7 (AP)—President Chiang Kai-shek told army cadets in a commencement day speech yesterday that they must be ready to sacrifice their lives in the "sacred war against the Chinese Communists and Soviet Russia." Among those who heard the generalissimo's exhortation was his 18-year-old grandson, Chiang Hsiao-wen, who has just begun his 4-year-training course.

Gourmet Prison Fare

Science Says Worms Proof Land Joined

Washington, Sept. 6 (AP)—The Smithsonian Institution announced today the discovery of tiny "planarian" worms in Alaska—new evidence that the land masses of Asia and North America were joined many centuries ago.

The Smithsonian said the planarians—"fantastic creatures" which are "among earth's most primitive animals"—were discovered by Dr. Roman Kenk on a rcent mission to Alaska.

Dr. Kenk concluded that his discovery indicates Asia and North America were once joined together, since up to now fresh water planarians of this general type have been found only in Siberia.

He said his work established the fact that planarians crossed between Siberia and Alaska during the ice age, although it is not known which way they traveled.

Dr. Kenk concluded also that most of Alaska must have been free of ice during the ice age, when glaciers covered most of the southern half of North America.

One way to help children to find their clothes themselves is to glue pictures of the items on the outside of each drawer.

Junior Police

Detroit (AP)—A lot of folk stopped to take a second look at some of the policemen walking beats in suburban Harper Woods this summer. The cops were aged 10 to 15 years. Harper Woods swore in a Junior Police Force of 28, pledged to "uphold the laws of safety" and to "act in a manner befitting our titles." They were equipped with silver badges and books of tickets. The tickets were used to notify police and parents of traffic violations by other youngsters and placed on cars which ignored the suburb's campaign against parking on residential streets.

Chiang Talks to Cadets

Taipei, Formosa, Sept. 7 (AP)—President Chiang Kai-shek told army cadets in a commencement day speech yesterday that they must be ready to sacrifice their lives in the "sacred war against the Chinese Communists and Soviet Russia." Among those who heard the generalissimo's exhortation was his 18-year-old grandson, Chiang Hsiao-wen, who has just begun his 4-year-training course.

Gourmet Prison Fare

Science Says Worms Proof Land Joined

Washington, Sept. 6 (AP)—The Smithsonian Institution announced today the discovery of tiny "planarian" worms in Alaska—new evidence that the land masses of Asia and North America were joined many centuries ago.

The Smithsonian said the planarians—"fantastic creatures" which are "among earth's most primitive animals"—were discovered by Dr. Roman Kenk on a recent mission to Alaska.

Dr. Kenk concluded that his discovery indicates Asia and North America were once joined together, since up to now fresh water planarians of this general type have been found only in Siberia.

He said his work established the fact that planarians crossed between Siberia and Alaska during the ice age, although it is not known which way they traveled.

Dr. Kenk concluded also that most of Alaska must have been free of ice during the ice age, when glaciers covered most of the southern half of North America.

One way to help children to find their clothes themselves is to glue pictures of the items on the outside of each drawer.

Truck Strike Ends

Montreal, Sept. 7 (AP)—A truck drivers' strike that stopped work on the St. Lawrence Seaway project near the south shore town of Laprairie, is over. The drivers signed a new contract yesterday, paying them 38 cents a ton mile for transporting shale and slate from Laprairie to the development. They had complained their rates had been cut from 60 cents to 18. The strikers quit work last Thursday and parked their trucks across the only road joining the project with the main highway.

Stabbed Teacher Sues

New York, Sept. 7 (AP)—The city is being sued for $250,000 by a teacher who was stabbed in the back by a 15-year-old youth while conducting an evening gym class last June. The teacher, James O'Farrell, 28, has recovered enough to take a job teaching English and dramatics at an all-girl junior high school in the Bronx. His lawyer said, however, that injuries to O'Farrell's spinal nerves left him unable to resume teaching physical education. After the attack during an evening program at Joan of Arc High School, the board of education agreed to pay O'Farrell's medical expenses and also made a special salary adjustment. In his suit for further compensation, the teacher claimed yesterday the city was negligent in allowing the youth to come into the gym class without an admission card.

Wrap individual hamburgers in aluminum foil for picnics. The patties can be cooked right in the hot coals, and leave no dirty pans to take home.

DANIEL BOONE

By Russ Winterbotham and Ralph Lane

In 1760, on the Yadkin River in North Carolina, lived a young man who was destined to become America's greatest frontiersman. His name was Daniel Boone.

Pennsylvania-born Dan'l was a mighty hunter, even at 26. He hunted westward beyond the Smokies, in a country where Indians had fought "dark and bloody" wars.

Boone's tales of the rich wilderness country, called by the Indians "Kentucky," vastly intrigued Judge Richard Henderson. "A fortune's there for us, lad," he exclaimed.

New York, Sept. 7 (AP)—An elevator accident, in which a baby was crushed to death Monday, has claimed a second victim, the child's mother, Mrs. Marie Handwerk, 25, of Manhatan, died yesterday of injuries suffered when she fell three stories down an elevator shaft in a vain effort to keep a rising elevator from crushing her 6-month-old daughter, Linda.

The Mature Parent

Dozen Searching Why's for Parents to Ask Themselves

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

WHY ARE WE PARENTS SO ANXIOUS FOR CHILDREN TO LOVE US?
Because it prepares them to love other people —OR
Because it secures us the driver's seat without any questions?
WHY DOES A CHILD'S LIE UPSET US SO?
Because it tells us he's suffering from fear—OR Because deceitfulness threatens our control of him?
WHY DO WE ADORE GOOD SCHOOL MARKS?
Because they represent the child's joy in learning—OR Because they stamp him with the seal "Approved"?
WHY DO WE FEEL CHEATED WHEN CHILDREN SHOW THEY WANT TO LEAVE US?
Because we enjoy having them around—OR
Because we've put up with them when we often didn't want to —and think that they should do the same for us?
WHY DO WE SACRIFICE TO GIVE OUR DAUGHTER PIANO LESSONS?
Because she loves music—OR
Because we didn't get them and our younger sister did?
WHY DO WE CALL HER "BABY" WHEN BOYS COME TO CALL?
Because we always have—OR
Because it reminds her that she's too little for big ideas?
WHY ARE WE SO ANGRY WHEN OUR SON CALLS US "MEAN" WITH THE CAR?
Because we are not mean with it—OR
Because he's a dependent who has stepped out of line?
WHY ARE WE TELEPHONING JIMMY AT CAMP AGAIN TONIGHT?
Becaust we're thrilled by the fun he reports—OR
Because it will interrupt his joy in other people and make him notice us?
WHY HAVE WE WARNED OUR DAUGHTER ABOUT TOO-ARDENT NECKING?
Because she has assets other than sexual charm to offer—OR Because female sexual disobedience can bring disgrace?
WHY ARE WE SO MISERABLE THAT GROWN CHILDREN DON'T NEED US?
Because we are useful people—OR
Because we've belittled ourselves so long that we can't see their independence as our crowning achievement?
WHY DO WE WANT WHAT'S "BEST" FOR CHILDREN?
Because "best" is the superlative of goodness—OR Because we want our human opinion to be accepted as superlative?
WHY DO WE ADMIT SOME OF THESE UNWORTHY MOTIVES WITHOUT ALARM?
Because we share them with nearly everyone else—OR Because we don't intend to do anything to improve them?

Boiceville Picnic Attended by 200

The Boiceville picnic and reunion of former and present residents of the Town of Olive had a very successful Labor Day gathering at Joseph Friedburg's Grove with more than 200 persons attending. Present and former residents of the Ahsokan area met and enjoyed lunch and refreshments served by the Olive Fire Company No. 5, and then renewed old friendships and listened to the music by Fred Russell and his boys, who were on hand as usual.

Guest speaker was Frederic Snyder who gave one of the best talks the group has had in many years. The Rev. J. Dean Dykstra opened the meeting with prayer and later in the afternoon was called upon, as it was his first visit to the affair, and his message was enjoyed by everyone present.

EACH YEAR this group finds some of the former residents missing but secretary Elwyn C. Davis reported the following people and their ages who were in attendance this year: William Haver, 92, Donald Van Etten, 83, Mrs. Orpha Van Keeck 83, Mrs. Addie Kelder 82, Mrs. Cassie Terwilliger 84, Mrs. Mary Kiersted 84, Schuyler Bishop 87, Fred Adsit 82, Ferris Davis 75, Mrs. Ferris Davis 76, Mrs. Emma Fetter 82, Edna Moore 76, Florence Ennist 77, Allie Terwilliger 77, Ira Hyatt 77, Rachel Barringer 76.

As this picnic lasts all afternoon, one of the enjoyable features of the gathering are the talks given by those who attend in addition to the guest speaker. This year these speakers were Mary Margaret McBride, Dr. Shom Everett, Major H. Edgar Timmerman, Jessie Shurter, Millard H. Davis, Schuyler Bishop and Joseph Friedburg. The same officers were elected for the next year, Pratt Boice, president; Mrs. Lottie Hesley, vice-president and Elwyn C. Davis, secretary-treasurer.

Keresman Is Not Concerned; He Quit in January

Peter Keresman, of this city, executive secretary of the New York State Police Conference, indicated today that he was not actually concerned over recently requested resignations from the State Police Advisory Board, because he had given notice of his resignation in January.

Controversy stirred in Poughkeepsie and elsewhere recently when Fire Chief Irving Merrick, there, and other members of the State Fire Advisory Board took issue with a call for credentials by Michael H. Prendergast, state safety director.

KERESMAN in a letter to Gov. Averell Harriman January 1, noted that he had served on the police advisory board from May 26, 1953, after appointment under Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, and he was opening the way for the new governor to exercise "the greatest of freedom," in making new appointments.

This view appeared to be shared by Mrs. Alexander G. Cummins, a former Poughkeepsie police commissioner and only woman member of the state police advisory board, who said she considered her term ended when state administrations changed.

CHIEF MERRICK and other members of the fire advisory board, however, contended that former Gov. Dewey appointed them, and they felt a governor should "fire" them. Prendergast had asked for automobile medallions and membership cards.

Mrs. Cummins said she had received a "courteous letter," informing her that she probably realized that the board on which she served had been dissolved.

Keresman said members of the board serve in an honorary capacity.

68 Escape Death

Albubuerque, Sept. 7 (AP)—Sixty-eight men miraculously escaped death yesterday in the white-hot pyre of a four-engined C124 Globemaster which crashed on takeoff during a dust storm, killing one man. One of the 68 was reported in serious condition at the Sandia Base Hospital. Three others were released after treatment. The huge air force transport, from Briggs Air Force Base, El Paso, went almost the full length of the runway at Kirtland Air Force Base on the last leg of a "restricted mission" to March Air Force Base, Calif. It cleared the ground but then hit again and skidded several hundred feet before pancaking on a shoulder of the runway.

House a 'Mess'

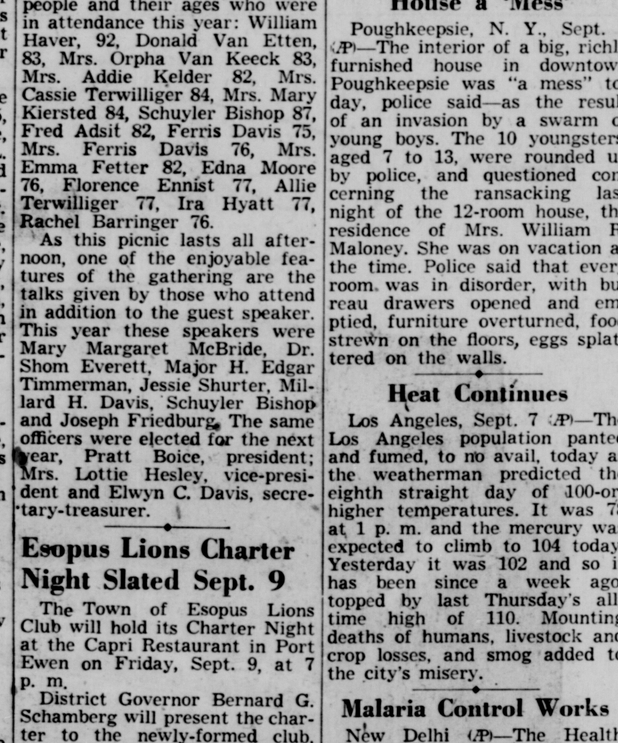

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Sept. 7 (AP)—The interior of a big, richly furnished house in downtown Poughkeepsie was "a mess" today, police said—as the result of an invasion by a swarm of young boys. The 10 youngsters, aged 7 to 13, were rounded up by police, and questioned concerning the ransacking last night of the 12-room house, the residence of Mrs. William R. Maloney. She was on vacation at the time. Police said that every room was in disorder, with bureau drawers opened and emptied, furniture overturned, food strewn on the floors, eggs splattered on the walls.

Heat Continues

Los Angeles, Sept. 7 (AP)—The Los Angeles population panted and fumed, to no avail, today as the weatherman predicted the eighth straight day of 100-or-higher temperatures. It was 78 at 1 p. m. and the mercury was expected to climb to 104 today. Yesterday it was 102 and so it has been since a week ago, topped by last Thursday's all-time high of 110. Mounting deaths of humans, livestock and crop losses, and smog added to the city's misery.

Malaria Control Works

New Delhi (AP)—The Health Ministry says its malaria control program in West Punjab has produced "an unprecedented reduction" in the number of persons afflicted with the disease. During 1954 malaria struck 380,000 persons, killing 125,055. In 1950, more than 680,000 persons were afflicted and 210,961 died. West Punjab has a population of 12½ millions.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Sept. 7 (AP)—The stock market paused today to catch its breath after running up yesterday to a new record high mark.

Prices ranged from 1 to 3 points lower to 1 to 2 points higher. Most major divisions were mixed to lower.

Trading at times hit a good pace. The rate was around yesterday's 2,360,000 shares. That total was the best since late July.

DEEP-SEATED PAIN—Twenty-month-old Harold Carter of Memphis, Tenn., has finally gotten to the seat of his troubles. It's his six-year-old brother, who accidentally shot Harold with a .22-caliber rifle for the second time in six weeks. First bullet grazed Harold's cheek. But this second one! Harold has given up sitting for a while, and that's why Nurse Anne Godwin is holding him.

Over 6,000 . . .

National Forest in South Central Oregon.

The biggest blackened approximately 10,000 acres near Medford in southwestern Oregon, destroyed five homes and forced families out of the Tolo district. Another swept over 2,000 acres of scattered pine and brush on the Ochoco National Forest, west of Sneca where a firefighter was trapped and killed Sunday. A third raced out of control over 1,000 acres on the Rogue River National Forest near Medford.

SEVERAL HUNDRED miles to the south, a fast-moving brush fire destroyed three dwellings and halted four trains when it burned out 20 feet of ties on the Southern Pacific Railroad, 12 miles north of Santa Barbara on the southern California coast. The 3,000-acre blaze, touched off by an explosion in a lighting plant at a ranch, destroyed two cottages at a ranch some 20 miles north of Santa Barbara and the home of the ranch owner, Mrs. Florence Brown, a few miles north of the ranch. No injuries were reported.

Traffic was halted on U. S. Highway 101 along the coast and transmitter personnel of Santa Barbara television station KEYT, along with fire lookouts on hills outside Santa Barbara, were ordered evacuated.

One of the few notes of cheer came from Sequoia National Forest in east Central California where firefighters reported they had checked a 15,000 acre blaze that once threatened the famed Grant Grove of giant Sequoia trees. One of the trees, the Gen. Grant, is believed to be the oldest tree in the world.

GOP Head . . .

election" when Democrats wrested control of both houses from the GOP.

"I THINK we can all agree that there are areas in this country where party harmony was not good enough in 1954 for the party as a whole to make a good showing," he said. "In some places we were able to win without harmony, but not everywhere."

He did not elaborate on the point except to say that there had been an improvement in this situation because prominent local Republicans had knitted together "tears that have appeared in the fabric of the party."

To help in House contests, Simpson announced a series of meetings at "neighborhood levels" would be held in 94 congressional districts in 29 states where the victor's margin in 1954 was 5 per cent of the vote or less.

Simpson said 63 of these seats now are held by Republicans and 31 by the Democrats.

NOTING THAT the GOP needs a net gain of 15 seats to control the House, Simpson told the state chairmen: "This will not be easy to do, but with the proper campaign it can be done."

He said his committee will give priority in its campaigning to retaining present Republican seats but would not neglect "the bright prospect of substantial gains in southern states, as well as other areas where Democratic members are failing the people."

"If we work hard on this project, we can win the Congress as well as the presidency in 1956," he predicted.

Boiceville Picnic Attended by 200

The Boiceville picnic and reunion of former and present residents of the Town of Olive had a very successful Labor Day gathering at Joseph Friedburg's Grove with more than 200 persons attending. Present and former residents of the Ahsokan area met and enjoyed lunch and refreshments served by the Olive Fire Company No. 5, and then renewed old friendships and listened to the music by Fred Russell and his boys, who were on hand as usual.

Guest speaker was Frederic Snyder who gave one of the best talks the group has had in many years. The Rev. J. Dean Dykstra opened the meeting with prayer and later in the afternoon was called upon, as it was his first visit to the affair, and his message was enjoyed by everyone present.

EACH YEAR this group finds some of the former residents missing but secretary Elwyn C. Davis reported the following people and their ages who were in attendance this year: William Haver, 92, Donald Van Etten, 83, Mrs. Orpha Van Keeck 83, Mrs. Addie Kelder 82, Mrs. Cassie Terwilliger 84, Mrs. Mary Kiersted 84, Schuyler Bishop 87, Fred Adsit 82, Ferris Davis 75, Mrs. Ferris Davis 76, Mrs. Emma Fetter 82, Edna Moore 76, Florence Ennist 77, Allie Terwilliger 77, Ira Hyatt 77, Rachel Barringer 76.

As this picnic lasts all afternoon, one of the enjoyable features of the gathering are the talks given by those who attend in addition to the guest speaker. This year these speakers were Mary Margaret McBride, Dr. Shom Everett, Major H. Edgar Timmerman, Jessie Shurter, Millard H. Davis, Schuyler Bishop and Joseph Friedburg. The same officers were elected for the next year, Pratt Boice, president; Mrs. Lottie Hesley, vice-president and Elwyn C. Davis, secretary-treasurer.

Keresman Is Not Concerned; He Quit in January

Peter Keresman, of this city, executive secretary of the New York State Police Conference, indicated today that he was not actually concerned over recently requested resignations from the State Police Advisory Board, because he had given notice of his resignation in January.

Controversy stirred in Poughkeepsie and elsewhere recently when Fire Chief Irving Merrick, there, and other members of the State Fire Advisory Board took issue with a call for credentials by Michael H. Prendergast, state safety director.

KERESMAN in a letter to Gov. Averell Harriman January 1, noted that he had served on the police advisory board from May 26, 1953, after appointment under Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, and he was opening the way for the new governor to exercise "the greatest of freedom," in making new appointments.

This view appeared to be shared by Mrs. Alexander G. Cummins, a former Poughkeepsie police commissioner and only woman member of the state police advisory board, who said she considered her term ended when state administrations changed.

CHIEF MERRICK and other members of the fire advisory board, however, contended that former Gov. Dewey appointed them, and they felt a governor should "fire" them. Prendergast had asked for automobile medallions and membership cards.

Mrs. Cummins said she had received a "courteous letter," informing her that she probably realized that the board on which she served had been dissolved.

Keresman said members of the board serve in an honorary capacity.

68 Escape Death

Albubuerque, Sept. 7 (AP)—Sixty-eight men miraculously escaped death yesterday in the white-hot pyre of a four-engined C124 Globemaster which crashed on takeoff during a dust storm, killing one man. One of the 68 was reported in serious condition at the Sandia Base Hospital. Three others were released after treatment. The huge air force transport, from Briggs Air Force Base, El Paso, went almost the full length of the runway at Kirtland Air Force Base on the last leg of a "restricted mission" to March Air Force Base, Calif. It cleared the ground but then hit again and skidded several hundred feet before pancaking on a shoulder of the runway.

House a 'Mess'

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Sept. 7 (AP)—The interior of a big, richly furnished house in downtown Poughkeepsie was "a mess" today, police said—as the result of an invasion by a swarm of young boys. The 10 youngsters, aged 7 to 13, were rounded up by police, and questioned concerning the ransacking last night of the 12-room house, the residence of Mrs. William R. Maloney. She was on vacation at the time. Police said that every room was in disorder, with bureau drawers opened and emptied, furniture overturned, food strewn on the floors, eggs splattered on the walls.

Heat Continues

Los Angeles, Sept. 7 (AP)—The Los Angeles population panted and fumed, to no avail, today as the weatherman predicted the eighth straight day of 100-or-higher temperatures. It was 78 at 1 p. m. and the mercury was expected to climb to 104 today. Yesterday it was 102 and so it has been since a week ago, topped by last Thursday's all-time high of 110. Mounting deaths of humans, livestock and crop losses, and smog added to the city's misery.

Malaria Control Works

New Delhi (AP)—The Health Ministry says its malaria control program in West Punjab has produced "an unprecedented reduction" in the number of persons afflicted with the disease. During 1954 malaria struck 380,000 persons, killing 125,055. In 1950, more than 680,000 persons were afflicted and 210,961 died. West Punjab has a population of 12½ millions.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Sept. 7 (AP)—The stock market paused today to catch its breath after running up yesterday to a new record high mark.

Prices ranged from 1 to 3 points lower to 1 to 2 points higher. Most major divisions were mixed to lower.

Trading at times hit a good pace. The rate was around yesterday's 2,360,000 shares. That total was the best since late July.

DEEP-SEATED PAIN—Twenty-month-old Harold Carter of Memphis, Tenn., has finally gotten to the seat of his troubles. It's his six-year-old brother, who accidentally shot Harold with a .22-caliber rifle for the second time in six weeks. First bullet grazed Harold's cheek. But this second one! Harold has given up sitting for a while, and that's why Nurse Anne Godwin is holding him.

National Forest in South Central Oregon.

The biggest blackened approximately 10,000 acres near Medford in southwestern Oregon, destroyed five homes and forced families out of the Tolo district. Another swept over 2,000 acres of scattered pine and brush on the Ochoco National Forest, west of Sneca where a firefighter was trapped and killed Sunday. A third raced out of control over 1,000 acres on the Rogue River National Forest near Medford.

SEVERAL HUNDRED miles to the south, a fast-moving brush fire destroyed three dwellings and halted four trains when it burned out 20 feet of ties on the Southern Pacific Railroad, 12 miles north of Santa Barbara on the southern California coast. The 3,000-acre blaze, touched off by an explosion in a lighting plant at a ranch, destroyed two cottages at a ranch some 20 miles north of Santa Barbara and the home of the ranch owner, Mrs. Florence Brown, a few miles north of the ranch. No injuries were reported.

Traffic was halted on U. S. Highway 101 along the coast and transmitter personnel of Santa Barbara television station KEYT, along with fire lookouts on hills outside Santa Barbara, were ordered evacuated.

One of the few notes of cheer came from Sequoia National Forest in east Central California where firefighters reported they had checked a 15,000 acre blaze that once threatened the famed Grant Grove of giant Sequoia trees. One of the trees, the Gen. Grant, is believed to be the oldest tree in the world.

GOP Head . . .

election" when Democrats wrested control of both houses from the GOP.

"I THINK we can all agree that there are areas in this country where party harmony was not good enough in 1954 for the party as a whole to make a good showing," he said. "In some places we were able to win without harmony, but not everywhere."

He did not elaborate on the point except to say that there had been an improvement in this situation because prominent local Republicans had knitted together "tears that have appeared in the fabric of the party."

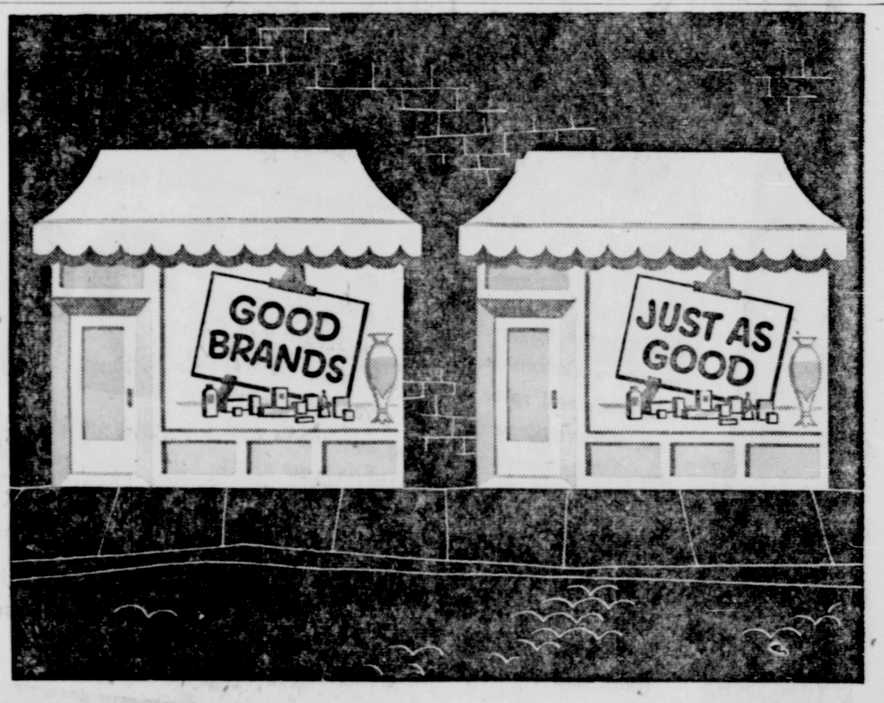

To help in House contests, Simpson announced a series of meetings at "neighborhood levels" would be held in 94 congressional districts in 29 states where the victor's margin in 1954 was 5 per cent of the vote or less.

Simpson said 63 of these seats now are held by Republicans and 31 by the Democrats.

NOTING THAT the GOP needs a net gain of 15 seats to control the House, Simpson told the state chairmen: "This will not be easy to do, but with the proper campaign it can be done."

He said his committee will give priority in its campaigning to retaining present Republican seats but would not neglect "the bright prospect of substantial gains in southern states, as well as other areas where Democratic members are failing the people."

"If we work hard on this project, we can win the Congress as well as the presidency in 1956," he predicted.

Scientist Backs Mushrooms as CancerPreventive

BY ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Reporter

East Lansing, Mich., Sept. 6 (AP) — An old folklore story says that eating certain kinds of mushrooms may help prevent cancer.

Today a scientist who became curious about it said that extracts from some mushrooms do indeed show ability to retard or stop the growth of some cancers transplanted into mice.

THESE EXTRACTS are not yet pure enough for human tests, to disprove or prove the old story. They may provide a new clue for cancer control.

The scientific research into the old wives' tale was described by Dr. E. H. Lucas and Joseph Stevens of Michigan State University at the opening of the annual meeting of the American Institute of Biological Sciences.

Dr. Lucas became interested in the claim in some central European countries that people eating a certain species of mushroom, named Boletus edulis had very little cancer.

HE TESTED an extract from it and found it could retard growth of some types of experimental cancer in mice.

Since then, five years ago, 80 different species of mushrooms have been studied. Extracts from 10 have been found to contain some principle able to slow tumor growth in mice, Dr. Lucas said.

This work has been done in collaboration with the Division of Experimental Chemo-Therapy of the Sloan-Kettering Institute of New York.

The anti-cancer chemical appears able to withstand heat, Dr. Lucas said. So it perhaps could be cooked and digested and still have anti-cancer effect within the body, supporting the folklore yarn.

Dr. Lucas said he has not been able to obtain medical reports substantiating the claim of less cancer among people eating the Boletus edulis mushrooms in Czechoslovakia, Germany and Austria.

SIMILAR folklore about mushrooms is reported in some areas of Pennsylvania where mushrooms are grown, he added.

Dr. Lucas said American species of Boletus edulis were not found to have any anti-cancer effect in animal tests. But similar chemicals were extracted from other species of mushrooms, growing in this country.

The extracts from each species appear to differ chemically. None has been fully identified chemically.

The best that any extract has done is to retard growth of tumors in animals, not to make them shrink or disappear. In cancer control, one interesting possibility is drugs which would keep cancers in check. In that event, people might live for years with controled cancers with no harmful effects.

No such drug is promised by the mushroom work. Neither is it an invitation to eat lots of mushrooms, some kinds of which are poisonous.

Russia Is Sending Antarctic Expedition

London, Sept. 7 (AP)—Moscow Radio said today a Soviet scientific expedition made up of two ships and several planes will leave in November for a two-year stay in the Antarctic. The broadcast said the expedition will set up three bases, one in the vicinity of Knox Land, another near the south magnetic pole and the third in the central Polar region.

The expedition will be part of a preliminary program to prepare for more extensive exploration during the international geophysical year, 1957-58.

The broadcast added: "Meteorologists will study the influence of the icebound Antarctic continent on the general circulation of the earth's atmosphere with a view to improving the methods of longrange weather forecasts.

The expedition will also make a "physical geographical survey of the Antarctic and glaciers there, compiling the geological characteristics and history of the Antarctic as well as its biological and geographical characteristics."

Here's a Different Way To Serve Liver Appetizer

FRENCH FRIED liver twists served with dunking sauces are a thrifty, tasty appetizer.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

In Chicago, Mrs. Frank Stamm gave us a new recipe for serving beef liver as an appetizer. With great supplies of beef liver on the market at low prices, this recipe is a thrifty, hearty accompaniment to almost any long, tall drink, served tinkling with ice.

To prepare the fried twists, Mrs. Stamm cuts the beef liver into 1-inch-long strips, just right for eating with the fingers, and dips them in seasoned corn meal. The strips may be dipped in flour instead, but the corn meal coating gives a coarse texture in contrast with the cooked liver. She does this ahead of time and stores the strips in the refrigerator until time to prepare.

French Fried Beef Liver Twists (Yield: About 4-6 servings per pound)

Cut ½-inch-wide slices of beef liver into strips about 1 inch long. Dip in seasoned corn meal or seasoned flour. This may be done ahead of time and the prepared liver stored in the refrigerator until time to fry.

Fry in hot shortening (350 degrees F.) about 1 minute. Keep strips separated and do not overload the fry kettle. The temperature of the fat should remain between 325 to 350 degrees F. so the liver cooks and browns uniformly. Do not overcook.

Drain on absorbent paper Serve hot with dunking sauces, such as commercially prepared sour cream mixed with chives, or a mixture of prepared mustard and catsup or an onion-sharp thick barbecue sauce.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: French fried liver twists with dunking sauces, chilled fruit juice, meat loaf, mushroom gravy, baked potatoes, buttered summer squash, enriched bread, butter or margarine, sliced tomatoes, apple pie, cheese, coffee, tea, milk.

Murdered Back in Cell

Montreal, Sept. 7 (AP)—Wilbur Coffin, 44-year-old convicted murderer, was in a death row cell in Montreal's Bordeaux jail today after escaping from jail in Quebec and then giving himself up. Coffin fled in Quebec early yesterday, using a gun carved from soap to force his way past five guards into a cell. He went to the home of his attorney, Raymond Maher, who persuaded him to surrender. Coffin, a Gaspe prospector, is scheduled to be hanged Sept. 23 for the murder of Richard Lindsey, 17, of Hollidaysburg, Pa. The remains of Lindsey, his father, Eugene, 47, and Albert Claar, 17, were found in the Gaspe bush where they had gone to hunt bears in 1943.

The President of the United States does not require a passport to visit a foreign country.

WicksStill Mighty, Democrats Seek Candidates by Ads

Richard J. Roth, staff writer on The New York World-Telegram and Sun, writing in his column "of politics and things" made comment last Tuesday on the political situation in Delaware county, one of the counties of the senatorial district in which Senator Arthur H. Wicks holds forth, and also gave some "good advice to Brooklyn politicians.

"Democratic aspirants for public office whose hopes have been dashed in Brooklyn," writes Roth, "attention. All is not lost, as the following classified ad, which appeared the other day in the Catskill Mountain News, attests:

"Notice; Democrats interested in running for offices for the town of Middletown, Delaware county, this fall, please contact chairman Fred Smith on or before September 8, 1955."

"The need to advertise for candidates indicates that Republican State Senator Arthur H. Wicks is still a mighty man in and around Ulster county and points west", comments Roth.

Miami, Fla., Sept. 7 (AP)—A $20 bill from the $300,000 ransom money in the Bobby Greenlease kidnap-murder has been found in Florida. Charles E. French Fried Beef Liver Twists (Yield: About 4-6 servings per pound)

Cut ½-inch-wide slices of beef liver into strips about 1 inch long. Dip in seasoned corn meal or seasoned flour. This may be done ahead of time and the prepared liver stored in the refrigerator until time to fry.

Fry in hot shortening (350 degrees F.) about 1 minute. Keep strips separated and do not overload the fry kettle. The temperature of the fat should remain between 325 to 350 degrees F. so the liver cooks and browns uniformly. Do not overcook.

Drain on absorbent paper Serve hot with dunking sauces, such as commercially prepared sour cream mixed with chives, or a mixture of prepared mustard and catsup or an onion-sharp thick barbecue sauce.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: French fried liver twists with dunking sauces, chilled fruit juice, meat loaf, mushroom gravy, baked potatoes, buttered summer squash, enriched bread, butter or margarine, sliced tomatoes, apple pie, cheese, coffee, tea, milk.

Murdered Back in Cell

Montreal, Sept. 7 (AP)—Wilbur Coffin, 44-year-old convicted murderer, was in a death row cell in Montreal's Bordeaux jail today after escaping from jail in Quebec and then giving himself up. Coffin fled in Quebec early yesterday, using a gun carved from soap to force his way past five guards into a cell. He went to the home of his attorney, Raymond Maher, who persuaded him to surrender. Coffin, a Gaspe prospector, is scheduled to be hanged Sept. 23 for the murder of Richard Lindsey, 17, of Hollidaysburg, Pa. The remains of Lindsey, his father, Eugene, 47, and Albert Claar, 17, were found in the Gaspe bush where they had gone to hunt bears in 1943.

The President of the United States does not require a passport to visit a foreign country.

WicksStill Mighty, Democrats Seek Candidates by Ads

Richard J. Roth, staff writer on The New York World-Telegram and Sun, writing in his column "of politics and things" made comment last Tuesday on the political situation in Delaware county, one of the counties of the senatorial district in which Senator Arthur H. Wicks holds forth, and also gave some "good advice to Brooklyn politicians.

"Democratic aspirants for public office whose hopes have been dashed in Brooklyn," writes Roth, "attention. All is not lost, as the following classified ad, which appeared the other day in the Catskill Mountain News, attests:

"Notice; Democrats interested in running for offices for the town of Middletown, Delaware county, this fall, please contact chairman Fred Smith on or before September 8, 1955."

"The need to advertise for candidates indicates that Republican State Senator Arthur H. Wicks is still a mighty man in and around Ulster county and points west", comments Roth.

New Arms Control Stressed in Light of Changes by Science

'Post Geneva' Stands Asked of Four Nations

United Nations, N. Y., Sept. 7 (AP)—The United States is pressing for a new look at the whole problem of international arms control in the light of scientific developments which may have made previous plans obsolete.

This was disclosed yesterday by Harold E. Stassen, President Eisenhower's disarmament adviser, who declared that all U. S. positions on the key question of control put forward prior to the Big Four summit talks were subject to change.

Stassen stated the new U. S. view before the United Nations subcommittee on disarmament, now in its second week of private discussions on the various proposals made at Geneva and previously.

HE CALLED on the other members — Russia, Britain, France and Canada—to prepare and present to the subcommittee their "post-Geneva" positions on arms inspection and control, which he asserted must be the foundation of any disarmament plan.

The U. S. delegate was understood to have told the group that significant changes had taken place in weapons and the means of delivering atomic bombs in recent years, making a review of the whole problem necessary.

INFORMED QUARTERS said Stassen pointed out that both Russia and the United States had agreed in recent months that no plan had yet been devised which would prevent the clandestine manufacture of atomic and hydrogen weapons.

Stassen was reported to have suggested that all countries put their scientists to studying the problem of atomic detection, while the disarmament subcommittee confined its efforts to such practical inspection proposals as President Eisenhower's plan for exchanging military blueprints and aerial checkups.

AS THE FIRST STEP, the American said, the subcommittee could concentrate on setting up machinery to check on the methods of delivering atomic weapons, such as longrange bombers and naval vessels to prevent surprise attack.

Because of the uncertain situation, Stassen told the subcommittee, the United States had reserved its position on all pre-Geneva declarations on inspection and control. He said this did not mean that the United States was disavowing any of these policies, but he made it clear they could no longer be considered valid unless they were reaffirmed.

There was no immediate reaction from any of the other delegates to the Stassen declaration. French delegate Jules Moch was scheduled to speak at this afternoon's subcommittee session (2 p. m. EST) on Premier Edgar Faure's Geneva proposal to reduce arms by agreed budgetary cuts.

Marine Captain Reaches $32,000 On TV Program

New York, Sept. 7 (AP)—Marine Corps Capt. Richard Sherrill McCutchen has won $32,000 by dishing up some tasty dessert recipes out of his store of gastronomic knowledge.

Next Tuesday night he can try for the top prize on "The $64,000 Question" CBS televison show.

OR HE CAN call it quits and settle for the $32,000 he reached last night in his fourth appearance on the show. If he tries again and fails, he'll get an expensive automobile as a consolation prize. No contestant yet has tried for the $64,000.

McCutchen, who had chosen "Food and Cooking" as his question category at the start, last night described five desserts and gave the counrty of origin of each. They were: bombe, zabaglione, olykoek, flummery and pfeffernuss.

Another contestant last night—a widowed grandmother—advanced through the $8,000 mark by telling the last four years the St. Louis Cardinals won the National League baseball pennant.

Mrs. Myrtle Power, 70, of Buford, Ga., and Long Island, answered: 1942, 1943, 1944 and 1946.

MRS. POWER, who said she has been watching the game since 1895, got the chance at $8,000 by answering a series of questions in her chosen baseball category.

She is currently employed as a housekeeper at Roslyn Heights, N. Y., on Long Island. She is the mother of three sons and a daughter and grandmother of six.

Next Tuesday night she will return to the program to announce whether she will try then for the $16,000 question. She can settle for the $8,000. If she tries for $16,000 and fails, she will get an automobile.

AMERICANS RELEASED BY REDS — Three Americans who spent years of captivity in Soviet hands face an Army camera in West Berlin, Germany (Sept. 5) after Russians released the trio to U. S. Military Police. From left are: Frederick C. Hopkins, a civilian about whom the U. S. State Department says it has no information; Murray Fields, 36, of Brooklyn, N. Y., who disappeared from his Army unit in 1948, and Wilfred Kumis, 39, of Amesbury, Mass., an Army private reported missing in Vienna, Austria, more than seven years ago. The two soldiers are listed as deserters. (AP Wirephoto by radio from Berlin.)

Irish Echo Lauds Choice of Cashin By Eisenhower

The New York "Irish Echo" under date of September 3, 1955, in its "Political Echoes" column by Harry Rapp, comments on the recent appointment of Judge John M. Cashin to the Federal bench.

"Federal Judge John M. Cashin, long a highly esteemed figure in Manhattan and Kingston political circles, will be sworn in September 15 by Federal Judge William Bondy. For years an active figure in 'Roman Catholic circles, he is the first Irishman of the Catholic faith to be appointed by a Republican to the Federal bench in a great many years.

"Formerly Ulster county judge, he was recently appointed by President Eisenhower to the Southern District of New York bench. He was also a judge of the Kingston Children's Court and was formerly assistant U. S. district attorney. He was supported by Senator Arthur H. Wicks of Kingston and Congressman Dean Taylor, Republican National Committeeman of New York state as well as by Republican State Chairman Morehouse. He was endorsed by virtually every bar association in this state.

"Judge Cashin started his law career here in 1928. In 1934 he was appointed Ulster County Judge by Governor Dewey and was subsequently elected for two terms. He will resign as county judge before being sworn in as a Federal Judge."

Cyprus itself was the scene of violence and armed police guarded the Greek consulate against any possible demonstrations by pro-Turkish elements there. A Turkish shepherd was shot to death while tending his flock near the village of Chatos.

BRITAIN has moved to forestall any more serious outbreaks on Cyprus and has ordered more than 600 Royal Marine Commandos to the island from Malta to reinforce its security force there.

In Athens, a foreign ministry spokesman said Greece had requested a meeting of the permanent NATO Council in Paris to consider the riots and that Deputy Foreign Minister Panayoitis Kanellopoulos had delivered personally a strong protest to the Turkish charge d'affaires.

Greek authorities also ordered special security measures in western Thrace and on the Island of Rhodes, both of which have large Turkish minorities, to forestall any reprisals for the riots in Turkey.

There was no official estimate of casualties but the Istanbul newspaper Milliyet said more than 300 were injured. Newspapers estimated about 500 persons were arrested in Istanbul.

The mobs in Istanbul wrecked and pillaged hundreds of Greek shops. Several Greek Orthodox churches were damaged. Fires burned at scattered points.

Sheriff Ordered To Open Docket Book to Reporters

Mobile, Ala., Sept. 7 (AP)—Sheriff Ray D. Bridges of Mobile county has been ordered by Circuit Judge Cecil F. Bates to let reporters examine his docket book at any time.

The jurist issued the order yesterday after Mobile Press Register reporters testified they were denied access to the docket book the night of Aug. 30 and the next morning.

The book was reopened to newsmen Aug. 31 shortly after the newspaper filed the petition, and has been open since.

THE NEWSPAPER had charged that Theodore M. Easley, convicted slayer of two Negroes, was spending his 25-year sentence in the Mobile county jail with special privileges under a "lease" arrangement with the State Department of Corrections.

The department investigated and then ordered Easley, 33, returned to Kilby Prison at Montgomery. Sheriff Bridges took him back last Wednesday.

Under the "lease" arrangement, a county pays the state $30 a month and assumes responsibility for a prisoner's upkeep and service of his term in return for his services. The Mobile Press Register said that Easley was being used as a turnkey in the Negro section of the jail, with the privilege of going to his home at night.

Bridges' attorney, W. C. Taylor, said he was not ready to say whether Judge Bates' ruling will be appealed.

Resident of Vly Has Music Guide Ready on Stands

"Good Listening," a guide to the world's best music, by R. D. Darrell of The Vly, has just been published as a paper-back Mentor book.

It was originally published last year as a hardcover edition by Alfred A. Knopf, Inc.

"Good Listening" is described on the cover as a "simple and authoritative book for everyone interested in music appreciation and record collecting.

"Here, in one remarkably handy and inexpensive volume, is a delightful and instructive introduction to the pleasures of music appreciation and the excitement of building your own record library," says one reviewer. The sections include: You and Music—how to approach, enjoy and widen your musical horizons. Music and Its Makers—a rapid survey from ancient and medieval times to the present. One World, Many Mansions—a review of opera, ballet, symphonic, chamber and religious music." There is also an up-to-date listing of the best long-playing recordings of every composition mentioned.

Mr. Darrell is the author of "The High Road to Musical Enjoyment" and the editor of Schirmer's "Guide to Books on Music and Musicians." He came to fame in the musical world with the publication of the first "Gramaphone Shop Encyclopedia of Recorded Music."

Ghastly Road Toll Spurs Industry on Safety Devices

New York, Sept. 7 (AP)—The ghastly highway toll over the Labor Day holiday is spurring the auto industry today to stress new safety devices.

Car makers can't keep motorists from running into each other, but industry spokesmen say that crash injuries when accidents happen can be cut by at least one third if safety devices to be offered with the 1956 models are used.

AND CAR makers are teaming up today with medical research experts to seek still further ways of cutting the death and injury toll on the highways.

Cornell University announces that Chrysler and Ford have each given $200,000 to the automotive crash research program centered at the department of public health and preventive medicine of the university's medical college in New York city.

Using the highway as a laboratory, the program directors work with state medical societies, departments of public health, police and traffic enforcement agencies in North Carolina, Virginia, Maryland, Connecticut, Indiana, Minnesota, Arizona, Vermont, Texas and the city of Minneapolis.

FORD IS crashing cars together deliberately today at Dearborn, Mich., in a national safety forum and crash demonstration so that doctors and state police officials attending the two-day event can see what happens to the life-like dummies inside. Latest safety devices are being shown.

Just as the Chinese give their years names instead of numbers, the auto industry could call 1955 "the year of the flashing colors." And with all the auto makers bringing out new gadgets, they could call 1956 "the year of the safety devices."

CORNELL'S STUDIES show that 40 per cent of all injured drivers are hurt on the steering assembly. Ford engineers are demonstrating today a deep-center safety steering wheel which slowly gives way under crash impact, distributing the shock over the driver's chest rather than let him be impaled on the steering column as at present after the wheel collapses.

Indiana state police research shows that a passenger's chances of escaping injury in an accident are twice as great if he isn't thrown from the car by a crash. Auto engineers are coming out with new safety door latches which they say will keep doors from springing open under impact.

MOST OF THE new models will be equipped with—or can be equipped with—seat belts, much like those with which airplane passengers have long been familiar. These belts will help keep occupants inside the vehicle.

They also will cut down the chances of passengers being thrown against the instrument panel. Cornell research shows that 38 per cent of those injured in the front seat are hurt on the instrument panel.

Crash cushioning for the instrument panel and sun visors is being demonstrated today by Ford engineers, who claim the padding is five times more shock absorbent than sponge, and distributes the force of an impact over a wider area of the head or body.

A final device being shown is a safety rear view mirror with a new backing which engineers say cuts the chance of glass falling out when shattered — a mishap that causes about four per cent of all injuries to front seat passengers.

With several million more cars expected to hit the highways next year, the number of crashes may rise even over last weekend's grim rate, but the industry hopes its new devices can at least cut the injury and death toll.

Family Tradition

Miami, Fla. (AP)—Hurrying home to celebrate his 14th wedding anniversary, Harry Gaber got a ticket for speeding. Gaber told the policeman it was his first ticket in 13 years, the other one having been given to him when he was hustling to celebrate his first wedding anniversary. "And a funny thing," Gaber said, looking at his summons. "The officer who stopped me than was named Campbell too."

"Yes," said Patrolman C. E. Campbell, Jr., "that was my father."

Why We Say--

The Romans didn't think that there was much difference between apples and peaches. They called peaches Persian apples when they first saw them imported from Persia. Gradually this name turned into our word peach.

Church Members Show Increase, Total 97 Million

New York, Sept. 7 (AP)—Americans have kept up their postwar interest in religion, swelling total membership in U. S. churches of all faiths to a record 97,482,611.

This figure, reported Monday by the National Council of Churches, means 6 out of every 10 persons in the United States is listed as a church member.

"THERE HAS BEEN no pause or letdown in the vigorous postwar growth of the churches," said Dr. Benson Y. Landis, editor of the council's yearbook, in which the new figures are to be published this month.

"The awesome destructive power of atomic energy may have something to do with it," he continued. "But beyond ascribing membership increases to such known factors as unusually high birthrates, accelerated evangelism on the part of the churches and shifting population trends from city to suburbs, it is difficult to point to causes."

The council's figures show that church membership is growing faster than the population of the country. Most of the current church figures are for 1954. The rise over 1953 is 2,639,766 or 2.8 per cent. In the same period the population rose 1.7 per cent.

THE COUNCIL is an organization of 30 Protestant and Eastern Orthodox bodies but its yearbook statistics cover all American churches, which now have a total of 300,056 congregations, 5,597 more than in 1953.

More than two billion dollars are given annually to churches, the council reported, and church construction in 1954 hit an all-time high, amounting to 588 million dollars. This was 25 per cent more than a year ago.

Clergymen in active charge of local churches total at least 213,167, compared with 207,618 the year before.

The yearbook reported that church members now make up 60.3 per cent of the population, compared with 49 per cent in 1940 and 16 per cent a century ago "when Americans were popularly supposed to be more religious-minded than today."

THE YEARBOOK listed this membership breakdown by religious groups:

Protestant—57,124,142 in 273,508 churches.

Roman Catholic—32,403,322 in 20,794 churches.

Jewish — 5,500,000 in 4,079 churches.

Eastern Orthodox — 2,024,219 in 1,341 churches.

Old Catholic and Polish National Catholic—367,918 in 285 churches.

Buddhist — 63,000 in 49 churches.

Protestants gained the most numerically in 1954 with an increase of 1,286,817 or 2.3 per cent. Greater percentage increases were shown by the Roman Catholics, up 927,071 or 2.9 per cent, and the Jews, increased by 500,000 or 10 per cent.

Membership in the largest Protestant denominations or denominational groups was:

Baptist (26 bodies)—18,488,621.

Methodist (21 bodies)—11,688,002.

Lutheran (20 bodies)—6,818,283.

Presbyterian (10 bodies)—3,703,021.

Protestant Episcopal — 2,660,699.

Albuquerque, N. M. (AP)—Walter Moriarty knows where to come the next time he needs help. Driving home to New York from California, he told the Albuquerque Tribune, he blew out a tire and had no funds with which to buy a new one. An Albuquerque man, known to Moriarty only as a construction worker named Hastings, took the tourist into Albuquerque, paid for tire repairs and then drove Moriarty back to his stalled car and stranded family. Moriarty so far has had no luck finding his benefactor to repay him.

Retraction Asked On Severity of Ellenville Flood

Mayor Eugene Glusker of Ellenville has asked for a retracteion by Life magazine of a report in a recent issue that four thousand residents of Ellenville were evacuated in the recent floods. The mayor said today he has been promised a correction in this week's issue.

The magazine requested a story for the retraction together with flood pictures, Mayor Glusker said, and these have been submitted for publication which has been promised in this week's issue.

TERMING THE STORY "exagerated," the mayor said only 130 people were evacuated from their homes. "Most of those were able to return within a short time," he said. He also pointed out that only 14 families had requested Red Cross help in the flood.

The mayor said he had requested the retraction in last week's issue because the news story jeopardized resort business. However, he said the magazine could not publish the retraction in time for the holiday weekend but had given him promise of publication in the next issue.

Ghastly Road Toll Spurs Industry on Safety Devices

New York, Sept. 7 (AP)—The ghastly highway toll over the Labor Day holiday is spurring the auto industry today to stress new safety devices.

Car makers can't keep motorists from running into each other, but industry spokesmen say that crash injuries when accidents happen can be cut by at least one third if safety devices to be offered with the 1956 models are used.

AND CAR makers are teaming up today with medical research experts to seek still further ways of cutting the death and injury toll on the highways.

Cornell University announces that Chrysler and Ford have each given $200,000 to the automotive crash research program centered at the department of public health and preventive medicine of the university's medical college in New York city.

Using the highway as a laboratory, the program directors work with state medical societies, departments of public health, police and traffic enforcement agencies in North Carolina, Virginia, Maryland, Connecticut, Indiana, Minnesota, Arizona, Vermont, Texas and the city of Minneapolis.

FORD IS crashing cars together deliberately today at Dearborn, Mich., in a national safety forum and crash demonstration so that doctors and state police officials attending the two-day event can see what happens to the life-like dummies inside. Latest safety devices are being shown.

Just as the Chinese give their years names instead of numbers, the auto industry could call 1955 "the year of the flashing colors." And with all the auto makers bringing out new gadgets, they could call 1956 "the year of the safety devices."

CORNELL'S STUDIES show that 40 per cent of all injured drivers are hurt on the steering assembly. Ford engineers are demonstrating today a deep-center safety steering wheel which slowly gives way under crash impact, distributing the shock over the driver's chest rather than let him be impaled on the steering column as at present after the wheel collapses.

Indiana state police research shows that a passenger's chances of escaping injury in an accident are twice as great if he isn't thrown from the car by a crash. Auto engineers are coming out with new safety door latches which they say will keep doors from springing open under impact.

MOST OF THE new models will be equipped with—or can be equipped with—seat belts, much like those with which airplane passengers have long been familiar. These belts will help keep occupants inside the vehicle.

They also will cut down the chances of passengers being thrown against the instrument panel. Cornell research shows that 38 per cent of those injured in the front seat are hurt on the instrument panel.

Crash cushioning for the instrument panel and sun visors is being demonstrated today by Ford engineers, who claim the padding is five times more shock absorbent than sponge, and distributes the force of an impact over a wider area of the head or body.

A final device being shown is a safety rear view mirror with a new backing which engineers say cuts the chance of glass falling out when shattered — a mishap that causes about four per cent of all injuries to front seat passengers.

With several million more cars expected to hit the highways next year, the number of crashes may rise even over last weekend's grim rate, but the industry hopes its new devices can at least cut the injury and death toll.

Family Tradition

Miami, Fla. (AP) — Hurrying home to celebrate his 14th wedding anniversary, Harry Gaber got a ticket for speeding. Gaber told the policeman it was his first ticket in 13 years, the other one having been given to him when he was hustling to celebrate his first wedding anniversary. "And a funny thing," Gaber said, looking at his summons. "The officer who stopped me than was named Campbell too."

"Yes," said Patrolman C. E. Campbell, Jr., "that was my father."

Church Members Show Increase, Total 97 Million

New York, Sept. 7 (AP)—Americans have kept up their postwar interest in religion, swelling total membership in U. S. churches of all faiths to a record 97,482,611.

This figure, reported Monday by the National Council of Churches, means 6 out of every 10 persons in the United States is listed as a church member.

"THERE HAS BEEN no pause or letdown in the vigorous postwar growth of the churches," said Dr. Benson Y. Landis, editor of the council's yearbook, in which the new figures are to be published this month.

"The awesome destructive power of atomic energy may have something to do with it," he continued. "But beyond ascribing membership increases to such known factors as unusually high birthrates, accelerated evangelism on the part of the churches and shifting population trends from city to suburbs, it is difficult to point to causes."

The council's figures show that church membership is growing faster than the population of the country. Most of the current church figures are for 1954. The rise over 1953 is 2,639,766 or 2.8 per cent. In the same period the population rose 1.7 per cent.

THE COUNCIL is an organization of 30 Protestant and Eastern Orthodox bodies but its yearbook statistics cover all American churches, which now have a total of 300,056 congregations, 5,597 more than in 1953.

More than two billion dollars are given annually to churches, the council reported, and church construction in 1954 hit an all-time high, amounting to 588 million dollars. This was 25 per cent more than a year ago.

Clergymen in active charge of local churches total at least 213,167, compared with 207,618 the year before.

The yearbook reported that church members now make up 60.3 per cent of the population, compared with 49 per cent in 1940 and 16 per cent a century ago "when Americans were popularly supposed to be more religious-minded than today."

THE YEARBOOK listed this membership breakdown by religious groups:

Protestant—57,124,142 in 273,508 churches.

Roman Catholic—32,403,322 in 20,794 churches.

Jewish — 5,500,000 in 4,079 churches.

Eastern Orthodox — 2,024,219 in 1,341 churches.

Old Catholic and Polish National Catholic—367,918 in 285 churches.

Buddhist — 63,000 in 49 churches.

Protestants gained the most numerically in 1954 with an increase of 1,286,817 or 2.3 per cent. Greater percentage increases were shown by the Roman Catholics, up 927,071 or 2.9 per cent, and the Jews, increased by 500,000 or 10 per cent.

Membership in the largest Protestant denominations or denominational groups was:

Baptist (26 bodies)—18,488,621.

Methodist (21 bodies)—11,688,002.

Lutheran (20 bodies)—6,818,283.

Presbyterian (10 bodies)—3,703,021.

Protestant Episcopal — 2,660,699.

Albuquerque, N. M. (AP)—Walter Moriarty knows where to come the next time he needs help. Driving home to New York from California, he told the Albuquerque Tribune, he blew out a tire and had no funds with which to buy a new one. An Albuquerque man, known to Moriarty only as a construction worker named Hastings, took the tourist into Albuquerque, paid for tire repairs and then drove Moriarty back to his stalled car and stranded family. Moriarty so far has had no luck finding his benefactor to repay him.

Retraction Asked On Severity of Ellenville Flood

Mayor Eugene Glusker of Ellenville has asked for a retracteion by Life magazine of a report in a recent issue that four thousand residents of Ellenville were evacuated in the recent floods. The mayor said today he has been promised a correction in this week's issue.

The magazine requested a story for the retraction together with flood pictures, Mayor Glusker said, and these have been submitted for publication which has been promised in this week's issue.

TERMING THE STORY "exagerated," the mayor said only 130 people were evacuated from their homes. "Most of those were able to return within a short time," he said. He also pointed out that only 14 families had requested Red Cross help in the flood.

The mayor said he had requested the retraction in last week's issue because the news story jeopardized resort business. However, he said the magazine could not publish the retraction in time for the holiday weekend but had given him promise of publication in the next issue.

Craig was whisked home in a hurry.

Experiments Show Drug Helenine Helps Cut Polio

Iowa City, Iowa, Sept. 7 (AP)—Experiments with monkeys show the drug Helenine apparently has remarkable effects in preventing polio caused by the Mahoney strain type I virus, a Michigan scientist reported here Monday.

A review of research with Helenine, an antiviral substance derived from penicillium mold, was given before the American Society for Pharmacology and Experimental Therapeutics by Dr. Kenneth W. Cochran, epidemiologist at the University of Michigan.

MORE THAN 400 of the specialists who test new drugs before they are placed in public use were present to open a three-day meeting. Reports on the anti-tuberculosis drug isoniazid and on the body's amazing adrenalin and noradrenalin hormones also were given.

Dr. Cochran said Helenine prevented polio in all but 18 per cent of a group of monkeys inoculated with Mahoney Type I virus. By contrast, 100 per cent of a group of monkeys inoculated but not given Helenine contracted polio.

He said that while Helenine had significant value in preventing polio it had no important effects when used to treat monkeys after the polio had started. He emphasized Helenine is not yet suitable for human use.

ANOTHER SPEAKER, Dr. Harry L. Williams of Emory University's medical faculty, said experiments indicate the widely-used anti-tuberculosis drug isoniazid removes vitamin B-6 from the body. This apparently explains the nerve paralysis and convulsions in some tuberculosis patients receiving isoniazid. Vitamin B-6 is essential to functions of the human brain.

Dr. Williams said studies with animals show isoniazid combines with B-6, causing rises as much as 20-fold in the amount of B-6 passed in the urine. Use of B-6 to counteract side effects of isoniazid, however, requires careful study to see whether B-6 might diminish isoniazid's healing action, he said.

TWO REPORTS were given covering somewhat related studies of adrenalin and the related compound noradrenalin in the bloodstream. These hormones, chiefly associated with human stress situations such as fear and anger, help fit the body to meet emergencies by stepping up the heart beat and blood pressure.

Dr. James A. Richardson, pharmacologist at the medical college of South Carolina, reported a five-member research team has discovered that:

1. During anesthesia with ether, choloroform or vinethene, the hormones increased from four to six times. This had the significant effect of counteracting the action of the anesthesia which tends to weaken the heart beat and reduce blood pressure.

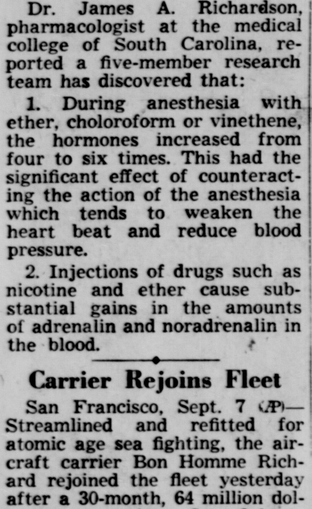

2. Injections of drugs such as nicotine and ether cause substantial gains in the amounts of adrenalin and noradrenalin in the blood.

Carrier Rejoins Fleet

San Francisco, Sept. 7 (AP)—Streamlined and refitted for atomic age sea fighting, the aircraft carrier Bon Homme Richard rejoined the fleet yesterday after a 30-month, 64 million dollar reconversion. Jet fighters roared overhead as thousands of spectators joined high ranking navy officials in recommissioning the 11-year-old flattop, a veteran of both World War 2 and the Korean war. Capt. Lamar Peyton Carver of St. Louis, Mo., told the spectators: "It is hard to believe, but true, that our ship with her air group has a striking power greater than the entire U. S. Fleet had in 1945."

Hurricane at Sea

Miami, Fla., Sept. 7 (AP)—Hurricane Flora pushed her 100 m.p.h. winds slowly northward in the Atlantic today, a menace only to shipping. The Hurricane, moving north at about 8 miles an hour, was approximately 510 miles east northeast of Bermuda at 5 a. m. (EST) with little change in direction or intensity expected. Winds of hurricane force extended 115 miles north and 75 miles to the south of center, with gales extending 225 miles from the center in the northeastern semicircle and 125 miles in the southwestern semicircle.

A Delegate

Houston, Tex. (AP)—The husband of a local woman had just left the house. His wife was washing the breakfast dishes when the doorbell rang. She thought her husband had forgotten something and was returning for it. "That you angel?" she called. "No indeed," answered a pleasant voice, "but I'm from the same department." The visitor was Episcopal Bishop Clinton S. Quinn.

Grandma Moses 95 Today, Has Quiet Time

Eagle Bridge, N. Y., Sept. 7 (AP) — Grandma Moses, not as spry as she used to be but still chipper, celebrated her 95th birthday today amid well wishes from all corners of the earth.

A small group of relatives and friends gathered about the renowned painter of rural scenes for a quiet afternoon tea party in her honor.

After the fuss was over, said Grandma, she planned to "sit quiet and think and remember and imagine" and paint a bit.

Grandma, that is Mrs. Anna Mary Robertson Moses, lives with a daughter in this Vermont border community, surrounded by the hills that form the background for many of her paintings.

The daughter, Mrs. Winona Fisher, said that illness had kept grandma indoors all last winter and that the little, old lady tired easily now. She had to give up weeding her garden this summer.

Grandma began painting 18 years ago after spending most of her life at farm work. She paints when she pleases, and in recent months began five oils, most of them spring scenes.

Citra, Fla. (AP)—When John Hagan says "I'm an old cow hand" he really means it. He's 82 and still rides the range every day. Hagan's 2,000-acre ranch is normally much under water but there is plenty of space to ride.

Order to Halt Strike

New York, Sept. 7 (AP)—A union official says only a presidential order setting up a fact-finding board will stop 1,500 trainmen from striking the Long Island Rail Road, busiest commuter line in the country. Harold Pryor, chairman of Local 517, Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen (Ind.), made the statement yesterday after the union rejected a federal mediator's suggestion that the Long Island's labor dispute be settled by arbitration. The union said it turned down arbitration because the issues were "so fundamental that they could best be settled by direct union-management talks."

ExperimentsShow Drug Helenine Helps Cut Polio

Iowa City, Iowa, Sept. 7 (AP)—Experiments with monkeys show the drug Helenine apparently has remarkable effects in preventing polio caused by the Mahoney strain type I virus, a Michigan scientist reported here Monday.

A review of research with Helenine, an antiviral substance derived from penicillium mold, was given before the American Society for Pharmacology and Experimental Therapeutics by Dr. Kenneth W. Cochran, epidemiologist at the University of Michigan.

MORE THAN 400 of the specialists who test new drugs before they are placed in public use were present to open a three-day meeting. Reports on the anti-tuberculosis drug isoniazid and on the body's amazing adrenalin and noradrenalin hormones also were given.

Dr. Cochran said Helenine prevented polio in all but 18 per cent of a group of monkeys inoculated with Mahoney Type I virus. By contrast, 100 per cent of a group of monkeys inoculated but not given Helenine contracted polio.

He said that while Helenine had significant value in preventing polio it had no important effects when used to treat monkeys after the polio had started. He emphasized Helenine is not yet suitable for human use.

ANOTHER SPEAKER. Dr. Harry L. Williams of Emory University's medical faculty, said experiments indicate the widely-used anti-tuberculosis drug isoniazid removes vitamin B-6 from the body. This apparently explains the nerve paralysis and convulsions in some tuberculosis patients receiving isoniazid. Vitamin B-6 is essential to functions of the human brain.

Dr. Williams said studies with animals show isoniazid combines with B-6, causing rises as much as 20-fold in the amount of B-6 passed in the urine. Use of B-6 to counteract side effects of isoniazid, however, requires careful study to see whether B-6 might diminish isoniazid's healing action, he said.

TWO REPORTS were given covering somewhat related studies of adrenalin and the related compound noradrenalin in the bloodstream. These hormones, chiefly associated with human stress situations such as fear and anger, help fit the body to meet emergencies by stepping up the heart beat and blood pressure.

Dr. James A. Richardson, pharmacologist at the medical college of South Carolina, reported a five-member research team has discovered that:

1. During anesthesia with ether, choloroform or vinethene, the hormones increased from four to six times. This had the significant effect of counteracting the action of the anesthesia which tends to weaken the heart beat and reduce blood pressure.

2. Injections of drugs such as nicotine and ether cause substantial gains in the amounts of adrenalin and noradrenalin in the blood.

Carrier Rejoins Fleet

San Francisco, Sept. 7 (AP)—Streamlined and refitted for atomic age sea fighting, the aircraft carrier Bon Homme Richard rejoined the fleet yesterday after a 30-month, 64 million dollar reconversion. Jet fighters roared overhead as thousands of spectators joined high ranking navy officials in recommissioning the 11-year-old flattop, a veteran of both World War 2 and the Korean war. Capt. Lamar Peyton Carver of St. Louis, Mo., told the spectators: "It is hard to believe, but true, that our ship with her air group has a striking power greater than the entire U. S. Fleet had in 1945."

Hurricane at Sea

Miami, Fla., Sept. 7 (AP)—Hurricane Flora pushed her 100 m.p.h. winds slowly northward in the Atlantic today, a menace only to shipping. The Hurricane, moving north at about 8 miles an hour, was approximately 510 miles east northeast of Bermuda at 5 a. m. (EST) with little change in direction or intensity expected. Winds of hurricane force extended 115 miles north and 75 miles to the south of center, with gales extending 225 miles from the center in the northeastern semicircle and 125 miles in the southwestern semicircle.

BIG JOB—Civil Defense Administrator Val Peterson is heading the 80-million-dollar flood-relief program announced by the White House. The money will be used mainly for repair and rehabilitation of public facilities in flood-damaged cities and towns in the Northeast.

A Delegate

Houston, Tex. (AP)—The husband of a local woman had just left the house. His wife was washing the breakfast dishes when the doorbell rang. She thought her husband had forgotten something and was returning for it. "That you angel?" she called. "No indeed," answered a pleasant voice, "but I'm from the same department." The visitor was Episcopal Bishop Clinton S. Quinn.

Grandma Moses 95 Today, Has Quiet Time

Eagle Bridge, N. Y., Sept. 7 (AP) — Grandma Moses, not as spry as she used to be but still chipper, celebrated her 95th birthday today amid well wishes from all corners of the earth.

A small group of relatives and friends gathered about the renowned painter of rural scenes for a quiet afternoon tea party in her honor.

After the fuss was over, said Grandma, she planned to "sit quiet and think and remember and imagine" and paint a bit.

Grandma, that is Mrs. Anna Mary Robertson Moses, lives with a daughter in this Vermont border community, surrounded by the hills that form the background for many of her paintings.

The daughter, Mrs. Winona Fisher, said that illness had kept grandma indoors all last winter and that the little, old lady tired easily now. She had to give up weeding her garden this summer.

Grandma began painting 18 years ago after spending most of her life at farm work. She paints when she pleases, and in recent months began five oils, most of them spring scenes.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 7 (AP)—Gov. Harriman has designated Sept. 10-18 as Home Week in New York state. In a proclamation yesterday, the governor observed that "a home of one's own is the goal of an ever increasing number of citizens."

The Commission states also that applicants are still desired for the position of Electronic Engineer-Wire Communications (Telephone Plant Design and Construction), $5,440 and $6,390, with the Rural Electrification Administration in Washington, D. C., and throughout the United States. To qualify for the positions, applicants must have had pertinent education or experience or a combination of education and experience. Full information regarding the requirements, and instructions on applying, may be obtained from Mr. William P. Applicantions will be accepted in the appropriate offices until further notice.

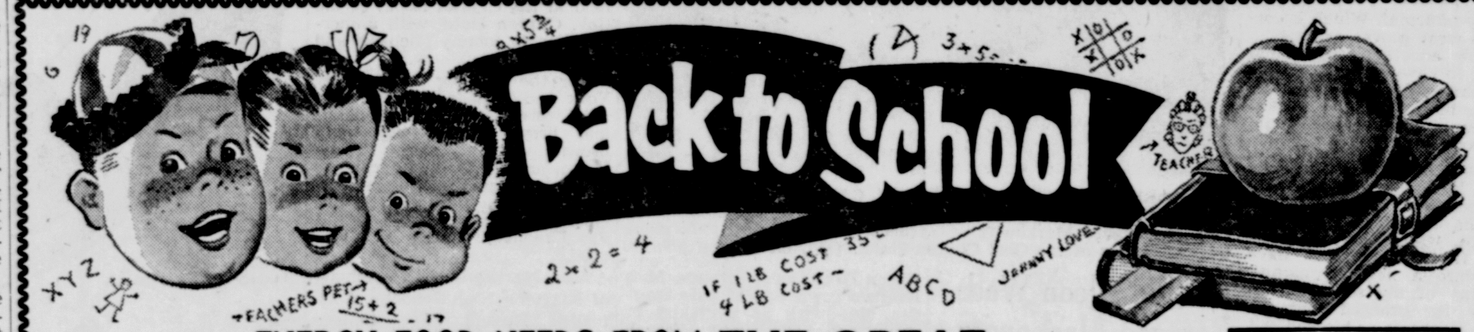

Old Cow Hand

Citra, Fla. (AP)—When John Hagan says "I'm an old cow hand" he really means it. He's 82 and still rides the range every day. Hagan's 2,000-acre ranch is normally much under water but there is plenty of space to ride.

Order to Halt Strike

New York, Sept. 7 (AP)—A union official says only a presidential order setting up a fact-finding board will stop 1,500 trainmen from striking the Long Island Rail Road, busiest commuter line in the country. Harold Pryor, chairman of Local 517, Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen (Ind.), made the statement yesterday after the union rejected a federal mediator's suggestion that the Long Island's labor dispute be settled by arbitration. The union said it turned down arbitration because the issues were "so fundamental that they could best be settled by direct union-management talks."

CLUB HOSPITALITY

"I am hospitality chairman for our club and on club day stand at the door to greet the members as they enter. I have two or three assistants to stand with me. We generally shake hands with the members as they come in. Some of the women who receive with me think that we should all wear our gloves when shaking hands. I don't think so and always take mine off and put them aside when shaking hands. Our meetings are very informal. Which is correct—to wear gloves or not?"

If the meeting is formal enought to have a receiving line then wearing gloves is certainly correct, but if you dispensed with your assistance you would not wear them.

When Son Has Different Name

Dear Mrs. Post: I was recently married for the second time. I have a son by my former marriage whose name is different from mine. We have moved into a new community and many of my son's friends take it for granted that my name is the same as his and call me Mrs. Jones. How can I correct this without getting into unnecessary detail.

Answer: "I was Mrs. Jones but I'm now Mrs. Smith" is all you have to say.

May Son Give Her Away?

Dear Mrs. Post: I am being married for the second time next month. I have a 16-year-old son by former marriage. Would it be proper, when the clergyman asks, "Who giveth this woman . . . " for my son to answer, "I do"? My father is living and could give his consent but I would like to have my son do this if it would not cause criticism.

Answer: This is not unheard of and a matter of your own choice. I'm sure no one will criticize you, provided your son is tall and not very small and young for his age.

Natalie Alcon Weds Bernard Markowitz In Garden Ceremony

At a candlelight ceremony under a pink tinted floral canopy in the gardens of the Gov. Clinton Hotel, Miss Natalie Rhoda Alcon became the bride of Bernard Markowitz, Aug. 28, at 6:30 p. m. Rabbi H. Z. Rappaport of Congregation Agudas Achim performed the ceremony under the canopy of gardenias, gladioli and coronet carnations.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Alcon of 43 East Strand. Mr. Markowitz is the son of Albert Markowitz of Syracuse and the late Mary Markowitz.

James Sweeney provided the music at the electric piano and Henry Levy sang "Because" and "Oh Promise Me."

Escorted by Father

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of imported Swiss embroidered organdy with a pandoise collar and petaled bodice. Her bouffant skirt was petal-tiered pandoise and a petal and pearl crown secured her fingertip veil. The bridal bouquet was a heart-shaped arrangement of white stephanotis, swan philinopsis and lily of the valley

For her maid of honor, the bride chose her cousin, Miss Eileen Kraitz of Westbury. Miss Kraitz's gown was of pale Dresden blue with an overskirt of swan white imported French eyelet. She carried a heart-shaped arrangement of pink demure sweetheart roses, lily of the valley, croton and ti leaves.

The bridesmaids were Miss Barbara Fillmore of Darien, Conn.; Miss Marcia Levine and Miss Corine Levine, both of Kingston; Miss Lois Cohen, the bridegroom's cousin of Syracuse; and Miss Joyce Rosenberg, the bride's cousin of Kansas City, Mo. Their gowns were all of French rose fluffy silk chiffon with a smocked bodice and fashioned with a ballerina length skirt. Each carried heart arrangements of pink demure sweetheart roses, swan delight carnations, lily of the valley and croton and ti leaves.

Jay Alcon of Kingston, brother of the bride, was the best man. The ushers were Harold Manheim, Donald Hughes, Robert Hughes and Richard Hughes, all cousins of the bridegroom from Syracuse and Francis Rochelson of Syracuse.

Reception for 200

A reception for 200 guests was held in the Crystal Room of the Gov. Clinton Hotel with dinner-dancing by Johnny Michaels and his orchestra.

For the wedding trip to New York and Canada, Mrs. Markowitz wore a suit of champagne and brown Italian silk with brown velvet collar, French brown accessories and a corsage of champagne lady slipper orchids with cultured pearls. The couple will make their home at 715 Crawford avenue in Syracuse.

Mrs. Markowitz is a graduate of Kingston High School and attended Russell Sage College where she was president of La Maison Francaise and Hillel. She is presently enrolled as a junior at Syracuse University College of Liberal Arts. Her husband is a graduate of Pebble Hill Academy, Manlius Military Academy and is now a senior at Syracuse University. He is affiliated with his father in the florist business.

May Son Give Her Away?

Dear Mrs. Post: I am being married for the second time next month. I have a 16-year-old son by former marriage. Would it be proper, when the clergyman asks, "Who giveth this woman . . . " for my son to answer, "I do"? My father is living and could give his consent but I would like to have my son do this if it would not cause criticism.

Answer: This is not unheard of and a matter of your own choice. I'm sure no one will criticize you, provided your son is tall and not very small and young for his age.

If you are planning a dinner party without help, you will find Mrs. Post's booklet No. 503 helpful. This booklet includes details for easy serving. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. UNDER A PINK TINTED FLORAL CANOPY in a Sunday evening candlelight ceremony, Miss Natalie Rhoda Alcon became the wife of Bernard Markowitz of Syracuse. The wedding took place in the gardens of the Gov. Clinton Hotel. (Merton Gordon photo).

Natalie Alcon Weds Bernard Markowitz In Garden Ceremony

At a candlelight ceremony under a pink tinted floral canopy in the gardens of the Gov. Clinton Hotel, Miss Natalie Rhoda Alcon became the bride of Bernard Markowitz, Aug. 28, at 6:30 p. m. Rabbi H. Z. Rapaport of Congregation Agudas Achim performed the ceremony under the canopy of gardenias, gladioli and coronet carnations.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Alcon of 43 East Strand. Mr. Markowitz is the son of Albert Markowitz of Syracuse and the late Mary Markowitz.

James Sweeney provided the music at the electric piano and Henry Levy sang "Because" and "Oh Promise Me."

Escorted by Father

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of imported Swiss embroidered organdy with a pandoise collar and petaled bodice. Her bouffant skirt was petal-tiered pandoise and a petal and pearl crown secured her fingertip veil. The bridal bouquet was a heart-shaped arrangement of white stephanotis, swan philinopsis and lily of the valley

For her maid of honor, the bride chose her cousin, Miss Eileen Kraitz of Westbury. Miss Kraitz's gown was of pale Dresden blue with an overskirt of swan white imported French eyelet. She carried a heart-shaped arrangement of pink demure sweetheart roses, lily of the valley, croton and ti leaves.

The bridesmaids were Miss Barbara Fillmore of Darien, Conn.; Miss Marcia Levine and Miss Corine Levine, both of Kingston; Miss Lois Cohen, the bridegroom's cousin of Syracuse; and Miss Joyce Rosenberg, the bride's cousin of Kansas City, Mo. Their gowns were all of French rose fluffy silk chiffon with a smocked bodice and fashioned with a ballerina length skirt. Each carried heart arrangements of pink demure sweetheart roses, swan delight carnations, lily of the valley and croton and ti leaves.

Jay Alcon of Kingston, brother of the bride, was the best man. The ushers were Harold Manheim, Donald Hughes, Robert Hughes and Richard Hughes, all cousins of the bridegroom from Syracuse and Francis Rochelson of Syracuse.

Reception for 200

A reception for 200 guests was held in the Crystal Room of the Gov. Clinton Hotel with dinner-dancing by Johnny Michaels and his orchestra.

For the wedding trip to New York and Canada, Mrs. Markowitz wore a suit of champagne and brown Italian silk with brown velvet collar, French brown accessories and a corsage of champagne lady slipper orchids with cultured pearls. The couple will make their home at 715 Crawford avenue in Syracuse.

Mrs. Markowitz is a graduate of Kingston High School and attended Russell Sage College where she was president of La Maison Francaise and Hillel. She is presently enrolled as a junior at Syracuse University College of Liberal Arts. Her husband is a graduate of Pebble Hill Academy, Manlius Military Academy and is now a senior at Syracuse University. He is affiliated with his father in the florist business.

Mystery 'American' Claims He's German

Berlin, Sept. 7 (AP)—The mystery "American" the Russians freed Monday now claims he's a German. U. S. officials say there're not convinced of that story either.

The Soviets released the man as Charles Frederick Hopkins, an American civilian, along with two soldiers who had been prisoners of the Reds for seven years. The civilian said then he was from New York city.

Last night, after extended questioning by U. S. Intelligence officers, the army command in Berlin said in a statement Hopkins now claimed to be Klaus Frederick Glaubitz, a 27-year-old German National who had been in Soviet hands since 1947.

"U. S. authorities are continuing to check his story and status," the announcement added. He is still being held incommunicado.

Berlin, Sept. 7 (AP)—The mystery "American" the Russians freed Monday now claims he's a German. U. S. officials say there're not convinced of that story either.

The Soviets released the man as Charles Frederick Hopkins, an American civilian, along with two soldiers who had been prisoners of the Reds for seven years. The civilian said then he was from New York city.

Last night, after extended questioning by U. S. Intelligence officers, the army command in Berlin said in a statement Hopkins now claimed to be Klaus Frederick Glaubitz, a 27-year-old German National who had been in Soviet hands since 1947.

"U. S. authorities are continuing to check his story and status," the announcement added. He is still being held incommunicado.

Won't Attend Meetings

Milwaukee, Sept. 7 (AP)—A suburban Lutheran minister declared last night he will follow the orders of his congregation not to attend any more meetings of a heresy investigation commitee until demands spelled out by his church council are met. The Rev. Mr. Victor K. Wrigley, 35, said he was "ordered by his council not to go." The investigating committee of the Northwest Synod of the United Lutheran Church in America, which returned two earlier indictments that led to heresy trials, planned another meeting with Pastor Wrigley tomorrow.

Monaco Faces Upheaval

Monte Carlo, Monaco, Sept. 7 (AP)—The tiny riviera principality of Monaco, which recently rode out a banking crisis, was in the throes of a government upheaval today. Eleven of the 18 members of the National Council, which function as a cabinet for handsome young Prince Rainier III, resigned yesterday. Two councilmen had resigned during the banking crisis and now an election will have to be held within three months.

Forty Candidates Report for First KHS Football Practice

Only Three Vets Return From Last Year's Squad; Opener Slated Sept. 23

Forty candidates appeared for Kingston High School's first football practice of 1955 yesterday at Dietz Stadium.

Coach Bill Burke said he expected the number to swell to approximately 55 within a week, bringing the squad to its normal size.

This includes the varsity and junior varsity squads. An additional 30 freshman team candidates are probable.

The candidates were subjected to a light one and one-half hour drill, which included calisthenics, ball handling, "grass drill," and a touch football scrimmage.

Contact with the ground will begin today. The blocking and tackling dummies will be put into service tomorrow. Beginning today, the practice sessions will be two hours, beginning at 3:45 and ending at 5:45.

BURKE REMINDED the squad members that only 15 days practice are available before the first game with Christian Brothers Academy of Albany on Friday night, Sept. 23. Under the revised laws of the New York State Public High School Athletic Association, each football candidate must participate in at least 15 practice sessions before playing in a regularly-scheduled game.

"Therefore, if you miss even one practice," Burke told the players, "you disqualify yourself from the first game."

Burke and his assistants, Russ Cunningham and Bill Hurley, face a tough chore of rebuilding the team which tied Middletown for DUSO League honors last fall.

Only three first stringers, plus five experienced reserves are still around.

MISSING ARE starting ends Fred Jackson and Joe Aiello, tackles John Miller and Al Wood, guard Bill "Tex" Ritter, quarterback Bob Nash, right halfback Charley Johnson and fullback Gene Massa.

Jackson, Wood, Ritter and Massa were first-string All-DUSO choices and Massa was also named "Player of the Year." Nash and Aiello were named to the second All-DUSO eleven. That's a lot of talent to lose.

However, the KHS grid cupboard isn't exactly bare. It still has two All-DUSO players—left halfback Ronnie Ashdown and guard Alo Saluste. These two and Pete Blanschan, 195-pound center, are the returning first stringers.

RESERVES WITH experience include Neil Keyser a regular linebacker last fall; guards Andy Lee and George Stephano; tackle Gene Nagele; and halfback Jim "Junior" Jackson.

The above group, and a few promising jayvee graduates, are what Burke will use to make the KHS split T work. As in the past, Burke plans to mix some spread plays with his regular formation.

Also, Don Van Kleeck, Tom Feeney, Al Long, Dick Richards, Bob Smith, Barney Millens, Lee Kias, Bill Chase, Connie Vandetti, Jim McDonald, Dan Levy, Don Holsapple, Frank Sammons, George Uhl and Jim Uhl.

Burke rates the team as a heavier one than last year's which was unusually light. However, the '55 squad is still lighter than average.

Massa, incidentally, is working out with the team. He is finishing his high school subjects this year and apparently has hopes of playing college ball.

Specialists Win Net Score of 105

The three-man team of Billy Waterous, Harold Dungey and Charles J. Tiano posted a net score of 105 to capture the 27-hole specialists tournament at the Woodstock country.

The winners grossed 110 on nines of 37, 35 and 38. Runners-up were Bill Van Aken, Harry Byrnes and Tony DeLisio with 118-7-111.

Kiner to Retire

Baltimore, Sept. 7 (AP)—Ralph Kiner, Cleveland outfielder and one of the National League's all-time home run greats at Pittsburgh, disclosed today he's quitting baseball at the end of this season. The 32-year-old slugger said he was getting too old and indicated that was the chief reason for his decision. "I haven't been playing too much," he said, "I don't know, maybe I'm just getting too old."

The SCOREBOARD

By ED WILKS
(The Associated Press)

Wary, but confident. That's the way four guys named Lopez, Stengel, Marion and Higgins called their shots as the frantic American League race spun into the stretch run today.

Manager Al Lopez, whose Clevelend Indians open their final Eastern trip tonight at Baltimore, figured "It'll be tough, but I feel sure we'll still be in first place when we get back home."

He said his Tribe would win a second straight flag away back last spring. He still thought so on July 2 when they were eight games out. Now, with a half-game lead, he's more confident than ever.

Casey Stengel, knocked off a run of five straight pennants by Lopez in '54, is a little more cautious, but he's not giving ground. With his New York Yankees in second place and due to meet Chicago and Cleveland this weekend, Ol' Case allows as how "this here race has got down to a day-by-day proposition and I got my pitching lined up pretty good. But if I have to use one of my starters in relief I'll have to go another way."

POSSIBLY the least exuberant of the four contending managers is Marty Marion of the White Sox. He has good reason. They've just lost four of five and slipped from the lead to third, 1½ games back. Yet Marty, too, was still in their pitching as his Sox moved to Washington for two games.

"At least we've had a day off," said Marty, "and we always bounce good after a little rest."

The White Sox will have to have plenty of bounce on this trip. After Washington, they hit the Yanks for two Friday and Saturday, then play a Sunday doubleheader at Boston. After that — two doubleheaders in two days at Baltimore.

Mike (Pinky) Higgins of Boston's Red Sox pulled everything neatly in focus. "Anything can happen," said he. "Our bullpen got straightened out against Washington and we're in a good spot."

THE RED SOX got straightened out against Washington, too. By sweeping the Labor Day twinbill behind two complete games from the staff, the Bosox ran their latest winning spurt to five games and got back into the pennant picture, pulling to within three games of the top.

Lopez named Early Wynn (15-9) to start tonight against Baltimore's Skinny Brown (1-3), but wouldn't mention who was to follow in the pitching rotation. "It's not really set," said Al. "But I plan to have my best ready for the Yanks."

That's the way Stengel saw it, too. "Those other teams are going to be shooting the works at us every day," said Casey. Then he picked Whitey Ford (16-6) to face Kansas City's Arnie Portocarrero (5-7) this afternoon. Tomorrow, he'll go with Bob Turley (14-13).

The National League race that wasn't may grind to a close within 48 hours. First place Brooklyn, 15 games out front, needs any combination of victories or Milwaukee defeats that total three to win it. The Dodgers open a two-game set at Milwaukee against the second-place Braves tonight. A sweep would end it.

Sluggers on Spree

New Home Run Marks Certain In Both Leagues

New York, Sept. 7 (AP)—Baseball's power hitters, enjoying their best season ever, are boosting the National and American leagues toward almost certain home run records.

With three weeks of the season remaining, National League sluggers have walloped 1,141 four-baggers and American League hitters have produced 885. This puts both loops well within range of their existing standards, 1,197 for the National set in 1953 and 973 for the American established in 1950.

The senior circuit actually is 60 homers ahead of its record pace. In a similar number of games in 1953, the National League had 1,081 home runs.

THE AMERICAN League had 883 at this time in 1950.

Both leagues already have surpassed their home run totals of last year when the National accounted for 1,114 homers and the American for 823.

The Brooklyn Dodgers pace both circuits in homers this year with 187. They're followed by Cincinnati with 167, Milwaukee with 166 and the Chicago Cubs with 149.

The New York Yankees head the American League with 159. Then come Cleveland with 134, Boston with 125 and Detroit with 123.

The stepped home run productivity also is reflected in the individual totals.

MICKEY MANTLE of the Yankees, the American League leader with 37 homers, had 27 in as many games in 1954. Al Kaline of Detroit, who has hit 26, had only four at this time last season.

In the National League, Ernie Banks of the Cubs has shown the biggest increase. He's hit 40 or 21 more than he had in '54. Brooklyn's Duke Snider has 42 against 34 last year.

Ted Kluszewski of Cincinnati, the Natinoal's pace-setter with 44, had the same total a year ago.

Seek Foreigners

Baltimore — (NEA — Joseph Cascarella, executive vice-president, will fly to Italy and Germany in the interest of the Washington, D. C. International at his Laurel Race Course, Nov. 11.

The highest and lowest points in the United States are only 86 miles apart.

But Which One?

Series Opener Slated For AL Park on Sept. 28

New York, Sept. 7 (AP)—The 1955 World Series will open in an American League park—but exactly which one or when it's anybodys guess.

Four clubs are in the hectic running for the American League pennant — Cleveland, New York, Chicago and Boston. If they settle the question by the end of the regular season, the series will open Sept. 28. But if a tie results, the necessary playoff will set back the series opener to Thursday, Sept. 29.

Those tentative plans were arranged yesterday when Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick called together representatives of the AL's top four clubs and officials of the Brooklyn Dodgers, about-to-be champs of the National.

ALSO PRESENT, as a concession to formality, were representatives of the Detroit Tigers, fifth place club in the American League, and the Milwaukee Braves, the only club that could possibly beat the Dodgers.

In the event of a tie in the AL—and it could be a two, three or four-team snarl—the playoff game, or games, will be played Monday, Sept. 26, and/or Tuesday, Sept. 27.

If rain should interrupt the playoff, the series opener would be put back another day.

American League President Will Harridge already has scheduled a coin-tossing session at his Chicago offices tomorrow to determine opponents and sites in the event of four, three or two-team ties when the season ends Sunday, Sept. 25.

IT WILL BE the eighth coin-flipping in AL history—although only one tie ever has resulted. That was in 1948 when Cleveland beat Boston in the extra game.

Games 1 and 2 of the Series wil be played in the American League Park, 3, 4 and 5 are set for Ebbets Field, assuming the Brooks win in the NL, and 6 and 7, if necessary, will be held in the American League city.

If Brooklyn and Chicago hook up, there will be a day off for travel after the first two games. If the Dodgers combine with Cleveland, New York or Boston, the series will be played on consecutive days.

World Series ticket prices are the same as last year — box seats $10, reserve seats $7, grandstand standing room $4, bleachers $2. The prices include federal tax, but are subject to existing local levies.

Hohnhorst Will Defend Title In Class A Seniors Division

Harry Hohnhorst, the 1954 Ulster county seniors golf champion, heads the entry list for this year's event scheduled Sunday at Twaalfskill.

Competition starts at 10 a. m., with about 50 of the greybeards expected to compete in five classes.

Hohnhorst captured the Class A crown — for golfers 70 and over—with a low gross of 85 on his home links last year.

THE CLASS A entry list to date includes such established veterans as Rodney B. Osterhoudt, Bruff W. Olin, Wilson C. Ingalls and Harold F. King, president of the newly-formed Seniors Association.

Walter Seaton, of Woodstock, last year's Class champion (60 to 64) will be on hand to defend his title. Other entries in that group include Fred J. K. Ertel, Philip Lerman, James A. Dwyer, Ray LeFevre, Anthony J. DeLisio, J. Richard Miller, J. Karl Hartfeur.

Several newcomers are listed in the Class A "baby group," including N. LeVan Haver, J. William Johnson, Walter S. Van Wagenen of Woodstock and Dr. Robert F. Moseley. Herman Roosa and Maurice Davenport are also entered.

LAST YEAR'S entry list of 43 is certain to be broken. Maurice Davenport, the Class E. champion, has already filed his entry blank.

Springfield Hurler 1-Hits FYL Stars

Frank Janeczek's single was the only hit the Kingston Fraternal Youth League All-Stars could manage off Bill Rainey in the consolation game of the National Junior Baseball Tournament Monday at Bridgeport, Conn.

The Springfield, Mass., team notched a 4-0 triumph over the locals. Stamford, Conn., won the finals by edging Williamsport, Pa., 4-3.

Mike Newton's two home runs were the big reason for Kingston pitcher Bob Short's downfall.

Short went the route, giving up three runs in the first inning and one in the second. He struck out four and walked two. Rainey whiffed 14 while passing three.

Forty Candidates Report for First KHS Football Practice

Only Three Vets Return From Last Year's Squad; Opener Slated Sept. 23

Forty candidates appeared for Kingston High School's first football practice of 1955 yesterday at Dietz Stadium.

Coach Bill Burke said he expected the number to swell to approximately 55 within a week, bringing the squad to its normal size.

This includes the varsity and junior varsity squads. An additional 30 freshman team candidates are probable.

The candidates were subjected to a light one and one-half hour drill, which included calisthenics, ball handling, "grass drill," and a touch football scrimmage.

Contact with the ground will begin today. The blocking and tackling dummies will be put into service tomorrow. Beginning today, the practice sessions will be two hours, beginning at 3:45 and ending at 5:45.

BURKE REMINDED the squad members that only 15 days practice are available before the first game with Christian Brothers Academy of Albany on Friday night, Sept. 23. Under the revised laws of the New York State Public High School Athletic Association, each football candidate must participate in at least 15 practice sessions before playing in a regularly-scheduled game.

"Therefore, if you miss even one practice," Burke told the players, "you disqualify yourself from the first game."

Burke and his assistants, Russ Cunningham and Bill Hurley, face a tough chore of rebuilding the team which tied Middletown for DUSO League honors last fall.

Only three first stringers, plus five experienced reserves are still around.

MISSING ARE starting ends Fred Jackson and Joe Aiello, tackles John Miller and Al Wood, guard Bill "Tex" Ritter, quarterback Bob Nash, right halfback Charley Johnson and fullback Gene Massa.

Jackson, Wood, Ritter and Massa were first-string All-DUSO choices and Massa was also named "Player of the Year." Nash and Aiello were named to the second All-DUSO eleven. That's a lot of talent to lose.

However, the KHS grid cupboard isn't exactly bare. It still has two All-DUSO players—left halfback Ronnie Ashdown and guard Alo Saluste. These two and Pete Blanschan, 195-pound center, are the returning first stringers.

RESERVES WITH experience include Neil Keyser a regular linebacker last fall; guards Andy Lee and George Stephano; tackle Gene Nagele; and halfback Jim "Junior" Jackson.

The above group, and a few promising jayvee graduates, are what Burke will use to make the KHS split T work. As in the past, Burke plans to mix some spread plays with his regular formation.

Other candidates who answered the first call yesterday were Mike Wood, Larry Johnson, Ray Johnson, Joe White, Ed Feeney, Tony Koenig, Bill Taylor, Ken Barr, Bob Manello, Marv Engle, Charley Council, Dave Hughes, Bill Cragan, Marv Shaub, Art Jackson, Bob Sember, Bob Johnson.

Also, Don Van Kleeck, Tom Feeney, Al Long, Dick Richards, Bob Smith, Barney Millens, Lee Kias, Bill Chase, Connie Vandetti, Jim McDonald, Dan Levy, Don Holsapple, Frank Sammons, George Uhl and Jim Uhl.

Burke rates the team as a heavier one than last year's which was unusually light. However, the '55 squad is still lighter than average.

Massa, incidentally, is working out with the team. He is finishing his high school subjects this year and apparently has hopes of playing college ball.

Specialists Win Net Score of 105

The three-man team of Billy Waterous, Harold Dungey and Charles J. Tiano posted a net score of 105 to capture the 27-hole specialists tournament at the Woodstock country.

The winners grossed 110 on nines of 37, 35 and 38. Runners-up were Bill Van Aken, Harry Byrnes and Tony DeLisio with 118-7-111.

Kiner to Retire

Baltimore, Sept. 7 (AP)—Ralph Kiner, Cleveland outfielder and one of the National League's all-time home run greats at Pittsburgh, disclosed today he's quitting baseball at the end of this season. The 32-year-old slugger said he was getting too old and indicated that was the chief reason for his decision. "I haven't been playing too much," he said, "I don't know, maybe I'm just getting too old."

The SCOREBOARD

By ED WILKS
(The Associated Press)

Wary, but confident. That's the way four guys named Lopez, Stengel, Marion and Higgins called their shots as the frantic American League race spun into the stretch run today.

Manager Al Lopez, whose Clevelend Indians open their final Eastern trip tonight at Baltimore, figured "It'll be tough, but I feel sure we'll still be in first place when we get back home."

He said his Tribe would win a second straight flag away back last spring. He still thought so on July 2 when they were eight games out. Now, with a half-game lead, he's more confident than ever.

Casey Stengel, knocked off a run of five straight pennants by Lopez in '54, is a little more cautious, but he's not giving ground. With his New York Yankees in second place and due to meet Chicago and Cleveland this weekend, Ol' Case allows as how "this here race has got down to a day-by-day proposition and I got my pitching lined up pretty good. But if I have to use one of my starters in relief I'll have to go another way."

POSSIBLY the least exuberant of the four contending managers is Marty Marion of the White Sox. He has good reason. They've just lost four of five and slipped from the lead to third, 1½ games back. Yet Marty, too, was still in their pitching as his Sox moved to Washington for two games.

"At least we've had a day off," said Marty, "and we always bounce good after a little rest."

The White Sox will have to have plenty of bounce on this trip. After Washington, they hit the Yanks for two Friday and Saturday, then play a Sunday doubleheader at Boston. After that — two doubleheaders in two days at Baltimore.

Mike (Pinky) Higgins of Boston's Red Sox pulled everything neatly in focus. "Anything can happen," said he. "Our bullpen got straightened out against Washington and we're in a good spot."

THE RED SOX got straightened out against Washington, too. By sweeping the Labor Day twinbill behind two complete games from the staff, the Bosox ran their latest winning spurt to five games and got back into the pennant picture, pulling to within three games of the top.

Lopez named Early Wynn (15-9) to start tonight against Baltimore's Skinny Brown (1-3), but wouldn't mention who was to follow in the pitching rotation. "It's not really set," said Al. "But I plan to have my best ready for the Yanks."

That's the way Stengel saw it, too. "Those other teams are going to be shooting the works at us every day," said Casey. Then he picked Whitey Ford (16-6) to face Kansas City's Arnie Portocarrero (5-7) this afternoon. Tomorrow, he'll go with Bob Turley (14-13).

The National League race that wasn't may grind to a close within 48 hours. First place Brooklyn, 15 games out front, needs any combination of victories or Milwaukee defeats that total three to win it. The Dodgers open a two-game set at Milwaukee against the second-place Braves tonight. A sweep would end it.

Sluggers on Spree

New Home Run Marks Certain In Both Leagues

New York, Sept. 7 (AP)—Baseball's power hitters, enjoying their best season ever, are boosting the National and American leagues toward almost certain home run records.

With three weeks of the season remaining, National League sluggers have walloped 1,141 four-baggers and American League hitters have produced 885. This puts both loops well within range of their existing standards, 1,197 for the National set in 1953 and 973 for the American established in 1950.

The senior circuit actually is 60 homers ahead of its record pace. In a similar number of games in 1953, the National League had 1,081 home runs.

THE AMERICAN League had 883 at this time in 1950.

Both leagues already have surpassed their home run totals of last year when the National accounted for 1,114 homers and the American for 823.

The Brooklyn Dodgers pace both circuits in homers this year with 187. They're followed by Cincinnati with 167, Milwaukee with 166 and the Chicago Cubs with 149.

The New York Yankees head the American League with 159. Then come Cleveland with 134, Boston with 125 and Detroit with 123.

The stepped home run productivity also is reflected in the individual totals.

MICKEY MANTLE of the Yankees, the American League leader with 37 homers, had 27 in as many games in 1954. Al Kaline of Detroit, who has hit 26, had only four at this time last season.

In the National League, Ernie Banks of the Cubs has shown the biggest increase. He's hit 40 or 21 more than he had in '54. Brooklyn's Duke Snider has 42 against 34 last year.

Ted Kluszewski of Cincinnati, the Natinoal's pace-setter with 44, had the same total a year ago.

Seek Foreigners

Baltimore — (NEA — Joseph Cascarella, executive vice-president, will fly to Italy and Germany in the interest of the Washington, D. C. International at his Laurel Race Course, Nov. 11.

The highest and lowest points in the United States are only 86 miles apart.

But Which One?

Series Opener Slated For AL Park on Sept. 28

New York, Sept. 7 (AP)—The 1955 World Series will open in an American League park—but exactly which one or when it's anybodys guess.

Four clubs are in the hectic running for the American League pennant — Cleveland, New York, Chicago and Boston. If they settle the question by the end of the regular season, the series will open Sept. 28. But if a tie results, the necessary playoff will set back the series opener to Thursday, Sept. 29.

Those tentative plans were arranged yesterday when Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick called together representatives of the AL's top four clubs and officials of the Brooklyn Dodgers, about-to-be champs of the National.

ALSO PRESENT, as a concession to formality, were representatives of the Detroit Tigers, fifth place club in the American League, and the Milwaukee Braves, the only club that could possibly beat the Dodgers.

In the event of a tie in the AL—and it could be a two, three or four-team snarl—the playoff game, or games, will be played Monday, Sept. 26, and/or Tuesday, Sept. 27.

If rain should interrupt the playoff, the series opener would be put back another day.

American League President Will Harridge already has scheduled a coin-tossing session at his Chicago offices tomorrow to determine opponents and sites in the event of four, three or two-team ties when the season ends Sunday, Sept. 25.

IT WILL BE the eighth coin-flipping in AL history—although only one tie ever has resulted. That was in 1948 when Cleveland beat Boston in the extra game.

Games 1 and 2 of the Series wil be played in the American League Park, 3, 4 and 5 are set for Ebbets Field, assuming the Brooks win in the NL, and 6 and 7, if necessary, will be held in the American League city.

If Brooklyn and Chicago hook up, there will be a day off for travel after the first two games. If the Dodgers combine with Cleveland, New York or Boston, the series will be played on consecutive days.

World Series ticket prices are the same as last year — box seats $10, reserve seats $7, grandstand standing room $4, bleachers $2. The prices include federal tax, but are subject to existing local levies.

Hohnhorst Will Defend Title In Class A Seniors Division

Harry Hohnhorst, the 1954 Ulster county seniors golf champion, heads the entry list for this year's event scheduled Sunday at Twaalfskill.

Competition starts at 10 a. m., with about 50 of the greybeards expected to compete in five classes.

Hohnhorst captured the Class A crown — for golfers 70 and over—with a low gross of 85 on his home links last year.

THE CLASS A entry list to date includes such established veterans as Rodney B. Osterhoudt, Bruff W. Olin, Wilson C. Ingalls and Harold F. King, president of the newly-formed Seniors Association.

Walter Seaton, of Woodstock, last year's Class champion (60 to 64) will be on hand to defend his title. Other entries in that group include Fred J. K. Ertel, Philip Lerman, James A. Dwyer, Ray LeFevre, Anthony J. DeLisio, J. Richard Miller, J. Karl Hartfeur.

Several newcomers are listed in the Class A "baby group," including N. LeVan Haver, J. William Johnson, Walter S. Van Wagenen of Woodstock and Dr. Robert F. Moseley. Herman Roosa and Maurice Davenport are also entered.

LAST YEAR'S entry list of 43 is certain to be broken. Maurice Davenport, the Class E. champion, has already filed his entry blank.

Springfield Hurler 1-Hits FYL Stars

Frank Janeczek's single was the only hit the Kingston Fraternal Youth League All-Stars could manage off Bill Rainey in the consolation game of the National Junior Baseball Tournament Monday at Bridgeport, Conn.

The Springfield, Mass., team notched a 4-0 triumph over the locals. Stamford, Conn., won the finals by edging Williamsport, Pa., 4-3.

Mike Newton's two home runs were the big reason for Kingston pitcher Bob Short's downfall.

Short went the route, giving up three runs in the first inning and one in the second. He struck out four and walked two. Rainey whiffed 14 while passing three.

Perrys Defeat Rapps, 4-1, in Playoff Opener

Venuti Pitches 3-Hitter, Musto Slams 2 Triples

Krovans Upset Subway Grill, 12-10

A brilliant performance by the team's veteran battery — Joe Venuti and Tony Musto — gave Perry's first blood in yesterday's City Softball League championship series opener at Hasbrouck Park.

The second game is scheduled tonight at 8 o'clock at Dietz Stadium.

Venuti three-hit Rapp's Express into submission, 4 to 1, and it was Musto who perpetrated the heaviest damage against Rapps' John Kozlowski with a pair of long triples.

THE EXPRESSMEN picked up their single marker in the fifth. Musto cracked run producing triples in the third and fifth. Both were solid shots deep into the left center field alley. He and Vince Peck shared four of the five hits off Kozlowski. The other went to Bill Slover.

Bill Sinsabaugh, Lou Perry and Kozlowski had three hits off Venuti, all singles.

Krovans upset Subway Grill, 12-10, while the American Legion edged Chez Emile 2-1, in the start of the inter-league Shaughnessy playoffs.

John Berardi was the big gun for the realtors with a double and triple, while Jack Gilligan pitched in with three singles.

AL HUNT and Tom Spada were touched up for 15 safeties by Krovans who exploded for two big innings, with five runs in the second and seven in the third. Subways made a belated bid with five runs in the sixth but Ed Knight shut them off with the tying runs on the bases.

Back to back triples by Nick Carl and Ronnie Scheffel in the fourth inning was the only damage Chez Emile could inflict on Tom Rizzi of the Legion.

Rizzi stopped the powerhouse on four hits. The Legion loaded the bases with no outs in the fourth but the best they could do was a pair of runs. Jerry Kaplan delivered the clincher with a two out single.

Rich Scherer and Kaplan belted two hits for the Legion.

Basilio 12-5 Choice to Beat Gil Turner

Syracuse, N. Y. Sept. 7 (AP)—Welterweight king Carmen Basilio takes his middleweight title aspirations into the ring tonight in a 10-round bout with fast-punching Gil Turner, 10th-ranked fighter in the heavier weight class.

Basilio was a 12-5 local betting favorite to launch successfully his campaign for the crown worn by milleweight champion Carl (Bobo) Olson. Turner, however, promised to turn the tables and put himself in line for a shot at Basilio's title.

THE FIGHT, in the County War Memorial Auditorium, will be broadcast and televised nationally (ABC, 10 p. m., EDT.).

Basilio sees himself as a knockout victor over the Philadelphian, and feels a triumph over Turner will qualify him for a title match with Olson.

Turner vows to whip Basilio, then demand another crack at Carmen—this time with the 147-pound championship at stake.

Turner, who campaigns alternately as a welterweight and middleweight, plans to enter the ring weighing 151 pounds. Basilio expected to weigh in at 149.

Kalloch Restored To Coaching Post

Returns on Terms Offered by Board

After a four-day disagreement over salary, Poughkeepsie High School coach Sam J. Kalloch and the Bridge City Board of Education came to terms yesterday.

The terms reached were the board's, meaning that Kalloch wasn't granted either his requested $650 increase or his "compromise" of $325.

Kalloch was relieved of his football coaching duties Friday after the board had refused his request. It was made clear at that time, however, that Kalloch could have his $9,900 job back if he was willing to work without the increase.

KALLOCH MET with the board's Instruction Committee yesterday and reached the agreement.

In a joint statement, Board President Samuel R. Rosen and Kalloch declared that they "were delighted that an amicable conclusion had been reached, and that the benefits of it would extend to the students of the Poughkeepsie educational system."

The statement also said that more responsibility would now be delegated to members of Mr. Kalloch's staff, and that there would be a wider participation of students in physical education activities when the facilities in the new high school become available.

With the reinstatement of Kalloch, George A. Strba, who was named his successor, returns to his former post as coach of junior varsity squads.

You don't need a "BUNDLE" to wrap up this BONUS-BARGAIN

Sometimes, a bargain is measured by how little you pay.
Sometimes, it's measured by how much you get.
But here's one that's a whopping bargain by both measures.
Because right now—for the leastest money of the year—you can buy the mostest Buick in history.
That, Mister, is because we're adding a profit-sharing bonus allowance on top of the long trade-in allowances we've been making all year.
And when we say the "mostest" Buick, we mean the most-wanted Buick ever built—the one that has broken every record in the book—outselling by far all other cars except the two most widely known smaller ones.
We mean the Buick that brings you the most for your money in terms of mighty V8 Power—of real family-size room—of bold fresh styling. The one that gives you the most buoyant ride ever born of all-coil springing.
And we mean the only car blessed by the smooth magic of Variable Pitch Dynaflow*—world's first transmission built on the switch-pitch principle of the modern plane's propeller.
Come on in. We're ready and waiting to make you the deal of your life on the most thrilling Buick ever.
*Variable Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, optional at modest extra cost on other Series.

1. Bonus Trade-In Allowance -biggest in our history
2. Bonus Buy -because Buick is the thrill of the year in style, power, performance, value
3. Bonus Resale -because a Buick always resells high—brings you more money when you trade it in

Basilio 12-5 Choice to Beat Gil Turner

Syracuse, N. Y. Sept. 7 (AP)—Welterweight king Carmen Basilio takes his middleweight title aspirations into the ring tonight in a 10-round bout with fast-punching Gil Turner, 10th-ranked fighter in the heavier weight class.

Basilio was a 12-5 local betting favorite to launch successfully his campaign for the crown worn by milleweight champion Carl (Bobo) Olson. Turner, however, promised to turn the tables and put himself in line for a shot at Basilio's title.

THE FIGHT, in the County War Memorial Auditorium, will be broadcast and televised nationally (ABC, 10 p. m., EDT.).

Basilio sees himself as a knockout victor over the Philadelphian, and feels a triumph over Turner will qualify him for a title match with Olson.

Turner vows to whip Basilio, then demand another crack at Carmen—this time with the 147-pound championship at stake.

Turner, who campaigns alternately as a welterweight and middleweight, plans to enter the ring weighing 151 pounds. Basilio expected to weigh in at 149.

Kalloch Restored To Coaching Post

Returns on Terms Offered by Board

After a four-day disagreement over salary, Poughkeepsie High School coach Sam J. Kalloch and the Bridge City Board of Education came to terms yesterday.

The terms reached were the board's, meaning that Kalloch wasn't granted either his requested $650 increase or his "compromise" of $325.

Kalloch was relieved of his football coaching duties Friday after the board had refused his request. It was made clear at that time, however, that Kalloch could have his $9,900 job back if he was willing to work without the increase.

KALLOCH MET with the board's Instruction Committee yesterday and reached the agreement.

In a joint statement, Board President Samuel R. Rosen and Kalloch declared that they "were delighted that an amicable conclusion had been reached, and that the benefits of it would extend to the students of the Poughkeepsie educational system."

The statement also said that more responsibility would now be delegated to members of Mr. Kalloch's staff, and that there would be a wider participation of students in physical education activities when the facilities in the new high school become available.

With the reinstatement of Kalloch, George A. Strba, who was named his successor, returns to his former post as coach of junior varsity squads.

You don't need a "BUNDLE" to wrap up this BONUS-BARGAIN

Sometimes, a bargain is measured by how little you pay.
Sometimes, it's measured by how much you get.
But here's one that's a whopping bargain by both measures.
Because right now—for the leastest money of the year—you can buy the mostest Buick in history.
That, Mister, is because we're adding a profit-sharing bonus allowance on top of the long trade-in allowances we've been making all year.
And when we say the "mostest" Buick, we mean the most-wanted Buick ever built—the one that has broken every record in the book—outselling by far all other cars except the two most widely known smaller ones.
We mean the Buick that brings you the most for your money in terms of mighty V8 Power—of real family-size room—of bold fresh styling. The one that gives you the most buoyant ride ever born of all-coil springing.
And we mean the only car blessed by the smooth magic of Variable Pitch Dynaflow*—world's first transmission built on the switch-pitch principle of the modern plane's propeller.
Come on in. We're ready and waiting to make you the deal of your life on the most thrilling Buick ever.
*Variable Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, optional at modest extra cost on other Series.
Thrill of the year is Buick—
Biggest-selling Buick in History! (So we're trading high, wide- and then some!)

Pleads Innocent

Hingham, Mass., Sept. 7 (AP)—Domenick Bonomi, 34-year-old prosperous Scituate contractor, loudly pleaded innocent today when charged with murder of his 30-year-old estranged wife. He was held without bail until Sept. 16. The black-haired defendant stood leaning forward slightly, his hands clasped behind his back, as the clerk read the complaint against him in the small, crowded Hingham district courtroom. "Not guilty," he replied firmly and promptly when asked how he pleaded.

1955 State Fair To End Saturday

Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 7 (AP)—The New York State Fair swung into its fifth day today, which was set aside as "Grange and Women's Organization Day."

Morning and afternoon events included judging of sheep, poultry, flowers and food and a fashion show. On tap for the evening program were a musical revue, a rodeo and an automobile thrill show.

The fair ends on Saturday.

Adios Harry Out Of $25,000 Pace At Yonkers Track

Yonkers, Sept. 7 (AP)—The field of starters in tomorrow night's $25,000 championship pace at Yonkers Raceway was down to nine today with the speedy Adios Harry definitely out of the race.

Adios Harry, holder of the 1:55 world mark for a mile on a three-quarter mile track and two other records, was scratched yesterday by trainer-driver Luther Lyons, who said the 4-year-old is ailing after a strenuous 1955 campaign. He was defeated by Adios Boy, his closest rival, Sept. 2 a Yonkers.

PARKER BYRD, the 3-5 favorite handled by Stanley Dancer, scored an easy 2-length victory in the featured Broadway pace last night.

The 4-year-old, owned by R. W. Droegmyer of Chicago, covered the mile in 2:03.1 and returned $3.60, $2.50 and $2.30

In second place was Mac's Dominion, with Al Thomas at the reins. Two lengths farther back was Rebel Land, with William Fleming in the sulky.

Brownsville, Tex., Sept. 7 (AP)—Vicious squalls that temporarily chased scores from their homes in Corpus Christi and dumped up to 11 inches of rain on the Texas coast since midnight Monday were expected to die down today. The squalls are a last reminder of tropical storm Gladys, which flirted with a flood-jittery Rio Grande valley for three days. The threat of flood still hung over south Texas, though.

Leafs Charge Red Wing Assist To Montreal

(By The Associated Press)

The Toronto Maple Leafs, claiming they were "cheated" out of the pennant, hooked up with Montreal, Rochester and Havana today in the opening round of the International League playoffs.

Toronto owner Jack Kent Cooke touched off the rhubarb on the eve of the Governor's Cup series. He and other Leaf officials charged the Rochester Red Wings with deliberately using second string pitchers in their season-ending doubleheader with Montreal Labor Day, and as a result, the Royals swept the twinbill and the pennant—by a half game over the Torontos.

COOKE CHARGED the Red Wings, already assured of a playoff berth, had pitched reliefers in starting roles against the Royals so as to line up their front line staff for the playoffs.

The Red Wings meet the Royals at Montreal today in one of the two best-of-seven semi-finals. Rochester has named Duke Markell (13-13) to face Pete Wojey (12-6). Markell's last appearance was last Thursday.

Toronto opens at home against the Cuban Sugar Kings, with either righthander Jack Crimian (19-6) or Lefty Ken Johnston (14-10) to oppose Havana's Pat Scantlebury (13-10).

Football Briefs

Ithaca, Sept. 7 (AP)—Art Boland, who manned a halfback post for Cornell University last year, is trying to make the switch to quarterback.

Boland directed a team in yesterday's light scrimmage and drew praise from Coach Lefty James, who ordered the conversion.

* * *

Hamilton, Sept. 7 (AP)—Colgate University's football team is practicing behind closed gates for its home opener with Dartmouth Sept. 24.

Coach Hal Lahar hung out the "closed practice" sign yesterday as the Red Raiders ran pass plays out of the split-T formation during the long scrimmage.

* * *

Hershey, a sophomore, suffered a dislocation of the shoulder in a block drill yesterday and was sidelined indefinitely. The Orange coaching staff, struggling to bolster a shaky line, was counting on him to spell veteran Jim Brill.

Mike Bill, another soph, was shifted from end to fill the gap left by Hershey.

Jobless Figure Drops

Washington, Sept. 7 (AP)—The government reported today the number of the nation's long term jobless workers is only about half what it was a year ago. A joint report of the Commerce and Labor Departments showed that employment reached a new record of 65,488,000 in August, nearly a half million above July and 3,211,000 over August, 1954.

Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 7 (AP)—The New York State Fair swung into its fifth day today, which was set aside as "Grange and Women's Organization Day."

Morning and afternoon events included judging of sheep, poultry, flowers and food and a fashion show. On tap for the evening program were a musical revue, a rodeo and an automobile thrill show.

A crowd of 45,238 swarmed into the sprawling fair grounds yesterday to raise attendance for the first four days to 257,771. The half-way-mark turnout was slightly below the 261,815 turnout for the first four days last year.

The fair ends on Saturday.

Adios Harry Out Of $25,000 Pace At Yonkers Track

Yonkers, Sept. 7 (AP)—The field of starters in tomorrow night's $25,000 championship pace at Yonkers Raceway was down to nine today with the speedy Adios Harry definitely out of the race.

Adios Harry, holder of the 1:55 world mark for a mile on a three-quarter mile track and two other records, was scratched yesterday by trainer-driver Luther Lyons, who said the 4-year-old is ailing after a strenuous 1955 campaign. He was defeated by Adios Boy, his closest rival, Sept. 2 a Yonkers.

PARKER BYRD, the 3-5 favorite handled by Stanley Dancer, scored an easy 2-length victory in the featured Broadway pace last night.

The 4-year-old, owned by R. W. Droegmyer of Chicago, covered the mile in 2:03.1 and returned $3.60, $2.50 and $2.30

In second place was Mac's Dominion, with Al Thomas at the reins. Two lengths farther back was Rebel Land, with William Fleming in the sulky.

Brownsville, Tex., Sept. 7 (AP)—Vicious squalls that temporarily chased scores from their homes in Corpus Christi and dumped up to 11 inches of rain on the Texas coast since midnight Monday were expected to die down today. The squalls are a last reminder of tropical storm Gladys, which flirted with a flood-jittery Rio Grande valley for three days. The threat of flood still hung over south Texas, though.

Leafs Charge Red Wing Assist To Montreal

(By The Associated Press)

The Toronto Maple Leafs, claiming they were "cheated" out of the pennant, hooked up with Montreal, Rochester and Havana today in the opening round of the International League playoffs.

Toronto owner Jack Kent Cooke touched off the rhubarb on the eve of the Governor's Cup series. He and other Leaf officials charged the Rochester Red Wings with deliberately using second string pitchers in their season-ending doubleheader with Montreal Labor Day, and as a result, the Royals swept the twinbill and the pennant—by a half game over the Torontos.

COOKE CHARGED the Red Wings, already assured of a playoff berth, had pitched relievers in starting roles against the Royals so as to line up their front line staff for the playoffs.

The Red Wings meet the Royals at Montreal today in one of the two best-of-seven semi-finals. Rochester has named Duke Markell (13-13) to face Pete Wojey (12-6). Markell's last appearance was last Thursday.

Toronto opens at home against the Cuban Sugar Kings, with either righthander Jack Crimian (19-6) or Lefty Ken Johnston (14-10) to oppose Havana's Pat Scantlebury (13-10).

Football Briefs

Ithaca, Sept. 7 (AP)—Art Boland, who manned a halfback post for Cornell University last year, is trying to make the switch to quarterback.

Boland directed a team in yesterday's light scrimmage and drew praise from Coach Lefty James, who ordered the conversion.

James announced that backs Chris Schmid and Bob Flynn would be sidelined indefinitely with injuries. Schmid suffered a fracture of the right hand and Flynn hurt a shoulder in a rough scrimmage Monday.

Hamilton, Sept. 7 (AP)—Colgate University's football team is practicing behind closed gates for its home opener with Dartmouth Sept. 24.

Coach Hal Lahar hung out the "closed practice" sign yesterday as the Red Raiders ran pass plays out of the split-T formation during the long scrimmage.

Syracuse, Sept. 7 (AP)—Syracuse University's question-mark football line will go into the 1955 campaign without the services of tackle Gerry Hershey.

Hershey, a sophomore, suffered a dislocation of the shoulder in a block drill yesterday and was sidelined indefinitely. The Orange coaching staff, struggling to bolster a shaky line, was counting on him to spell veteran Jim Brill.

Mike Bill, another soph, was shifted from end to fill the gap left by Hershey.

Jobless Figure Drops

Washington, Sept. 7 (AP)—The government reported today the number of the nation's long term jobless workers is only about half what it was a year ago. A joint report of the Commerce and Labor Departments showed that employment reached a new record of 65,488,000 in August, nearly a half million above July and 3,211,000 over August, 1954.

Staten Island, N. Y.; to Jersey City and Hoboken, N. J., to other sections of the huge port.

BRADLEY, AT 12:15 p. m., declared:

"The port of New York is now tied up."

The New York Shipping Assn., employer group, protested the work stoppage as a "flagrant violation" of contracts and said it would sue to collect damages.

Alexander P. Chopin, the association's acting chairman, said industry's loss in a port-wide dock strike last year was one million dollars a day.

Chopin, in a telegram to the union, said the union had no dispute with the employers. He said shipping association attorneys would seek an injunction to halt the walkout.

A MASS MEETING of Manhattan longshoremen early today broke off after a man describing himself as a commission investigator tried to attend.

William V. Bradley, ILA president, then ordered the dockers off the job until they could hold what he called a private meeting.

Samuel Lane, the commission's executive director, sent an apology to the union for the investigator incident, but a union official brushed it off with the comment:

"Like the old song, it's too late to say you're sorry."

ILA OFFICIALS said that, by 10 a. m., 6,500 Manhattan longshoremen, 3,500 in Hoboken and Jersey City, and 1,000 on Staten Island had joined the walkout.

Brooklyn dockers were to meet this afternoon.

Bradley declined to call it a strike, but said there would be no work pending a protest meeting.

He added that there would be no meeting today.

"I don't know when we will have the meeting, but there will be no work until we have this private meeting," he said.

The union did not name a specific complaint against the commission, which governs pier operations on both the New York and New Jersey shores of New York harbor.

Jurors to Meet Monday, Sept. 12; Plan Prison Trip

A busy schedule faces the Grand Juror's Association during the regular monthly meeting set for Monday, Sept. 12, at the Court House, Thomas J. Murphy, president, pointed out today.

The jurors will be given a full report of the association's teenage program, will hear a report from one of the boys sent to a summer camp in Sullivan county and will make plans for the annual visit to the Napanoch Institution for Male Defective Delinquents.

ACCORDING to President Murphy, many youths of the area have met with officers of the association, talking over various subjects for the welfare of those who they think need advice, and most of all for educational training. One such boy will be on hand to tell of his experiences while attending a summer camp in Sullivan couny.

Meanwhile, the Jurors are planning their annual visit to the Napanoch Institution on Wednesday, Sept. 21. All Jurors and their friends are requested to meet at the institution that day at 1 p. m.

Superintendent John V. Harding of Napanoch has promised a varied educational program again with a military drill band concert as well as a tour of the grounds.

Superintendent Harding, commenting on the relationship of the Jurors and Napanoch Institution during the late Thomas J. Hanlon's administration, said in a letter to President Murphy "this fine relationship will continue, let me assure you. Your visits to the institution will be as welcomed as before."

President Murphy has requested a large attendance of his members to greet the new Napanoch superintendent during the Sept. 12 visit.

Ex-Agent Claims

Revenue Service under the Hoover administration. Andrews, whose appointment was sponsored by Sen. Byrd (D-Va.), is a Virginian who describes himself as a "Byrd Democrat."

Hoppe said at the time of his conversation with Andrews he had been told he could give up his post as assistant commissioner and take a lower paid job as an Internal Revenue Service director in the southwest.

The assistant commissioner for inspecion is the revenue service's top internal policeman, charged with inspecting the work of the service.

WHEN HOPPE was ousted, he was replaced by Harry J. Trainor, brought to the revenue service from the government's general accounting office. Trainor was first named acting assistant commissioner for inspection, and was given full title to the job on August 24, 1954.

Hoppe's dismissal was effective as of July 21, 1953.

Witsil, in a statement, said: "On seing the shambles into which our merit system of civil service is disintegrating, I am convinced that there is no truer picture of political hatchet men at work—than in the case of Hoppe . . .

"Vindication of Mr. Hoppe will undoubtedly result in ironclad protection of countless thousands of career people — dedicated loyal people—now in the federal employ . . .

"Mr. Hoppe, in his effort to keep the revenue service scandal-free, lost his means of livelihood after withstanding any and all political intervention for nearly 25 years.

"I feel that the integrity, prestige and judicial wisdom of the United States Court of Claims will be more than adequate to cope with this shallow conspiracy of political patronage and that the court will vindicate this man."

Area Visitor Praises Work Of Teenagers During Flood

Work of a group of teenagers and provisions made at St. Peter's Church, Rosendale, for the care of last month's flood victims are praised in a letter received today by The Freeman from Mrs. Emily Halliday, 67 Spring street, South Norwalk, Conn., who was among many suffering losses in the region.

"I was one of the victims of the flood at Joe Valentino's bungalow colony on the morning of Aug. 19," she wrote. "I am writing you to ask you to please give a little writeup to the teenagers of that colony for their brave and heroic work. They went all-out to help the mothers and children who were caught in the flood.

"I THINK THEY should get some praise for the work they did in getting baby bottles, milk and clothes for the people who had to get out at 2 a. m., when we were awakened and told to get out quick; also to Father Reddy (The Rev. Vincent de P. Mulry was there at the time of St. Peter's R. C. Church, who welcomed everybody and made hot coffee and supplied milk for babies until their friends and relatives could come and get them."

Among the teenagers, she said, M. Alena Delveccio, Vincent Valentino, Raymond Collins, J. Barthe and sister, and "several other whose names I do not know".

Joseph Valentino, she said, "suffered a great loss, as this was his second year of possession."

Mrs. Halliday said she lost "over $100 worth of clothes and dishes, but I thank God that I got out with my life, and also my daughter, Mrs. F. Walsh and three small children from St. Albans, L. I., who were visiting me for a week." She considered losses at the bungalow colony among the heaviest in the Rosendale area.

Staten Island, N. Y.; to Jersey City and Hoboken, N. J., to other sections of the huge port.

BRADLEY, AT 12:15 p. m., declared:

"The port of New York is now tied up."

The New York Shipping Assn., employer group, protested the work stoppage as a "flagrant violation" of contracts and said it would sue to collect damages.

Alexander P. Chopin, the association's acting chairman, said industry's loss in a port-wide dock strike last year was one million dollars a day.

Chopin, in a telegram to the union, said the union had no dispute with the employers. He said shipping association attorneys would seek an injunction to halt the walkout.

A MASS MEETING of Manhattan longshoremen early today broke off after a man describing himself as a commission investigator tried to attend.

William V. Bradley, ILA president, then ordered the dockers off the job until they could hold what he called a private meeting.

Samuel Lane, the commission's executive director, sent an apology to the union for the investigator incident, but a union official brushed it off with the comment:

"Like the old song, it's too late to say you're sorry."

ILA OFFICIALS said that, by 10 a. m., 6,500 Manhattan longshoremen, 3,500 in Hoboken and Jersey City, and 1,000 on Staten Island had joined the walkout.

Brooklyn dockers were to meet this afternoon.

Bradley declined to call it a strike, but said there would be no work pending a protest meeting.

He added that there would be no meeting today.

"I don't know when we will have the meeting, but there will be no work until we have this private meeting," he said.

The union did not name a specific complaint against the commission, which governs pier operations on both the New York and New Jersey shores of New York harbor.

Jurors to Meet Monday, Sept. 12; Plan Prison Trip

A busy schedule faces the Grand Juror's Association during the regular monthly meeting set for Monday, Sept. 12, at the Court House, Thomas J. Murphy, president, pointed out today.

The jurors will be given a full report of the association's teenage program, will hear a report from one of the boys sent to a summer camp in Sullivan county and will make plans for the annual visit to the Napanoch Institution for Male Defective Delinquents.

ACCORDING to President Murphy, many youths of the area have met with officers of the association, talking over various subjects for the welfare of those who they think need advice, and most of all for educational training. One such boy will be on hand to tell of his experiences while attending a summer camp in Sullivan couny.

Meanwhile, the Jurors are planning their annual visit to the Napanoch Institution on Wednesday, Sept. 21. All Jurors and their friends are requested to meet at the institution that day at 1 p. m.

Superintendent John V. Harding of Napanoch has promised a varied educational program again with a military drill band concert as well as a tour of the grounds.

Superintendent Harding, commenting on the relationship of the Jurors and Napanoch Institution during the late Thomas J. Hanlon's administration, said in a letter to President Murphy "this fine relationship will continue, let me assure you. Your visits to the institution will be as welcomed as before."

President Murphy has requested a large attendance of his members to greet the new Napanoch superintendent during the Sept. 12 visit.

Ex-Agent Claims

Revenue Service under the Hoover administration. Andrews, whose appointment was sponsored by Sen. Byrd (D-Va.), is a Virginian who describes himself as a "Byrd Democrat."

Hoppe said at the time of his conversation with Andrews he had been told he could give up his post as assistant commissioner and take a lower paid job as an Internal Revenue Service director in the southwest.

The assistant commissioner for inspecion is the revenue service's top internal policeman, charged with inspecting the work of the service.

WHEN HOPPE was ousted, he was replaced by Harry J. Trainor, brought to the revenue service from the government's general accounting office. Trainor was first named acting assistant commissioner for inspection, and was given full title to the job on August 24, 1954.

Hoppe's dismissal was effective as of July 21, 1953.

Witsil, in a statement, said: "On seing the shambles into which our merit system of civil service is disintegrating, I am convinced that there is no truer picture of political hatchet men at work—than in the case of Hoppe . . .

"Vindication of Mr. Hoppe will undoubtedly result in ironclad protection of countless thousands of career people — dedicated loyal people—now in the federal employ . . .

"Mr. Hoppe, in his effort to keep the revenue service scandal-free, lost his means of livelihood after withstanding any and all political intervention for nearly 25 years.

"I feel that the integrity, prestige and judicial wisdom of the United States Court of Claims will be more than adequate to cope with this shallow conspiracy of political patronage and that the court will vindicate this man."

Area Visitor Praises Work Of Teenagers During Flood

Work of a group of teenagers and provisions made at St. Peter's Church, Rosendale, for the care of last month's flood victims are praised in a letter received today by The Freeman from Mrs. Emily Halliday, 67 Spring street, South Norwalk, Conn., who was among many suffering losses in the region.

"I was one of the victims of the flood at Joe Valentino's bungalow colony on the morning of Aug. 19," she wrote. "I am writing you to ask you to please give a little writeup to the teenagers of that colony for their brave and heroic work. They went all-out to help the mothers and children who were caught in the flood.

"I THINK THEY should get some praise for the work they did in getting baby bottles, milk and clothes for the people who had to get out at 2 a. m., when we were awakened and told to get out quick; also to Father Reddy (The Rev. Vincent de P. Mulry was there at the time) of St. Peter's R. C. Church, who welcomed everybody and made hot coffee and supplied milk for babies until their friends and relatives could come and get them."

Among the teenagers, she said, M. Alena Delveccio, Vincent Valentino, Raymond Collins, J. Barthe and sister, and "several other whose names I do not know".

Joseph Valentino, she said, "suffered a great loss, as this was his second year of possession."

Mrs. Halliday said she lost "over $100 worth of clothes and dishes, but I thank God that I got out with my life, and also my daughter, Mrs. F. Walsh and three small children from St. Albans, L. I., who were visiting me for a week." She considered losses at the bungalow colony among the heaviest in the Rosendale area.
